PROCEEDINGS

APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, we're on the record in the Matter of the Contested Industrial Insurance Claim of Mr. Martin Duran Perez, who is present. Represented by his Counsel, Mr. Alika Angerman. The Insurer is represented by their Counsel, Mr. Daniel Schwartz.

On behalf of the Insurer, one packet, 68-pages, filed on September $11^{\rm th}$ of last year. Any objections?

ALIKA ANGERMAN: No objections, Your Honor.

APPEALS OFFICER: That will be marked as the Insurer's Exhibit A. And, Mr. Schwartz, on behalf of the Claimant, I believe I have four packets. The first filed, July 12th of last year. Have you received that and any objections?

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I'm just looking for dates,
Your Honor. Just to Page 60, which is an unsworn statement from somebody—

APPEALS OFFICER: The Detective, theoretically?

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Theoretically. Just to the legal conclusions it draws, I don't think whoever Detective

Watford [phonetic] that apparently doesn't sign documents but prints his name instead, really has any legal bearing on this case.

APPEALS OFFICER: Right. Alika?

ALIKA ANGERMAN: That's fine, Your Honor.

              APPEALS OFFICER: We'll admit this, minus Page
    60. So, it will be a packet of 73 pages. That will be introduced as Claimant's Exhibit 1. Next we have a packet
    filed by the Claimant on November 22nd of last year, consisting of eight pages. Mr. Schwartz?
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  No objection, Your Honor.
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                  That will be Claimant's #2.
    Then we have a packet filed January 19th of this year, consisting of five pages. Mr. Schwartz?
10
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  No objection, Your Honor.
11
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                  That will be marked as 12
    Claimant's Exhibit #3. Then, #4-13
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  When was that filed?
14
              APPEALS OFFICER: Number four?
15
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Correct, well, what you're calling #4.
17
                                  January 31st.
              APPEALS OFFICER:
18
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  May I see it?
19
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                  I think you might want to 20 take a look at it. Let's go off the record.
21
              OFF THE RECORD
22
              ON THE RECORD
23
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                  Mr. Schwartz, you had a 24 chance to take a look a look at Claimant's proposed Exhibit 25

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	That's correct, Your Honor.
2	APPEALS OFFICER:	And, with no objections?
3	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	No objections.
4	APPEALS OFFICER:	That will be marked as
5	Claimant's Exhibit #4. No fu	urther documentation?
6	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	No, Your Honor.
7	APPEALS OFFICER:	We do have an interpreter
8	here today. Sir, if you coul	d state your name for the
9	record.
10	INTERPRETER:	Interpreter's name for the
11	record is Napoleon Buenrostra	[phonetic].
12	APPEALS OFFICER:	And, sir, do you solemnly
13	swear to translate from Engli	sh to Spanish and Spanish to 14	English to the best of your a	bility, the testimony in this
15	matter?
16	INTERPRETER:	I do.
17	APPEALS OFFICER:	Opening statement or waive?
18	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	I waive, Your Honor and allow
19	the Claimant to testify.
20	APPEALS OFFICER:	Waive?
21	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	I'll waive opening as well,
22	Your Honor. I believe you've	already indicated that we're
23	going to-well, I'm going to in	nvoke the-
24	APPEALS OFFICER:	Right.
25	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Invoke the Exclusionary Rule.

1 APPEALS OFFICER: Have your witness step 2 outside and wait in the lobby. 3 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, I don't know if you want to tell them, there are going to be a hundred attorneys 4 sitting out there. I've told my witnesses, they might be 5 more comfortable-well, too late. He may just be sitting 6 out there with a bunch of-there's a meeting going on. 7 8 APPEALS OFFICER: Right. Okay. Let's get the witness sworn in. Sir, do you swear or affirm that the testimony you're about to give in this matter shall be the 10 truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth? 11 12 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I do. 13 APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you. Mr. Angerman? 14 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. Mr. Perez, can you tell me the name of the company you worked for on 15 16 the day of the accident? 17 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Focus. 18 ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, what was your job title? 19 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Carpentry. 20 ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, can you please explain 21 what happened on the day of the accident? 22 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I was working and I received my paycheck and I noticed that the amount was low. 23 talked to Pedro and asked him what had happened, what was 24 going on. I asked him if there was some kind of error.

1	said it was okay. I asked him, how is it that it is okay?
2	He always does the same thing to everyone. When I told him
3	it wasn't okay, what he was doing, his son pushed me from
4	behind.
5	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Who is Pedro?
6	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Pedro is the father to the
7	guy who pushed me.
8	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, what was Pedro's job
9	title in Focus?
10	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Pedro had his team and he's
11	the one that gave us work at the company.
12	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, were you working for
13	Pedro on the day of the accident?
14	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
15	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Why did you speak with Pedro
16	if you weren't working for him?
17	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Because he's the one that
18	gave me the check.
19	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, who do you normally talk
20	to regarding your checks?
21	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Well, the thing is, he gave
22	it to me and I was working with him, so I was supposed to
23	talk to him.
24	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, do you recall what day
25	the accident occurred on?

1	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: December 30, 2016.
2	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, what happened after you
3	were pushed?
4	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: So, he pushed me and then
5	Eduardo took me to the truck and then he even said, so you
6	remember me, you son of a bitch.
7	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, who is Eduardo?
8	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: My brother-in-law and co-
9	worker.
10	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, do you know the name of
11	Pedro's son?
12	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I don't remember.
13	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, did you go to a medical
14	facility on the day of the accident?
15	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I was in a hospital in
16	Henderson, yes.
17	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, who took you there?
18	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Well, when I came to, I was
19	at the hospital.
20	ALIKA ANGERMAN: No further questions, Your
21	Honor.
22	APPEALS OFFICER: Mr. Schwartz?
23	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Mr. Duran-Perez, for Focus,
24	what was your job title?
25	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Priming.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I'm sorry?
2	INTERPRETER: Priming.
3	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, you did Priming at Focus?
4	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Uh huh.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: You have to say 'yes' or 'no'
6	please.
7	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: What does 'Priming' mean,
9	what do you do?
10	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Carpentry.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay and so, what-does Focus
12	do the carpentry work on residential houses?
13	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, by that, I mean, these
15	are like the initial framing that's done, the skeleton, so
16	to speak of a house, is that correct?
17	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, how long had you worked
19	for Focus at the time of this incident?
20	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: About a month, month and a
21	half.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Am I correct that there are
23	what I would call crews, which is groups of individuals
24	that work together on a specific house at a specific time?
25	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I don't remember.

1 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. I'm just going to use the word 'father' and 'son', so we don't have an issue with 2 3 names. Is that okay, do you understand who I mean when I 4 say the father and the son? 5 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes. 6 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: On this—on the day of the 7 incident, was the father your crew leader? 8 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes. 9 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, he was in charge of your 10 crew that day? 11 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No. DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Who was in charge of 12 your crew on the day of the incident? 13 14 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Francisco. 15 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, were you working on the same house as the father or a different house? 16 17 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: In front, across. 18 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, it was a different house. MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes. 19 20 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How far away was the house you were working on from the house that ultimately the 21 22 incident happened at? 23 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Here to here, is in front, 24 across. 25 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: About 100 feet?

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. And, these are jages are these normal residential houses? MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.	ust-

4 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Am I correct that—well,	let
6 me ask this question, do you know who Nick Pao, P-A-O	is?
7 INTERPRETER: I'd like to make a
8 clarification.
9 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Well, he-he was working
10 there, he does inspection.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay, I'm just going to	call
12 him Nick. As far as you know, is Nick the Safety Dire	ector, or the person who is in charge of Safety?
MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you speak to Nick th	ıat day, before the incident?
MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you discuss with Nic	k the problem with your paycheck, before the incident?	,
MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you talk to anyone,	in
22 the Safety Department, on the day of the incident, bef	ore

the incident, about your paycheck?

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Where were you right before
2	you got to the house where the father and son were working?
3	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: I was working Francisco-
4	Pancho's house.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, did you leave
6	Francisco's house to go talk to the father?
7	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, the purpose of that was
9	to discuss your paycheck?
10	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was the father on the roof of
12	the house, when you got to the house?
13	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you climb up a ladder to
15	get to the roof of the house?
16	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
17	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you remember what kind of
18	ladder it was?
19	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Don't recall.
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you climb up the front or
21	the back of the house?
22	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: The middle.
23	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: The middle portion of the
24	house?
25	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: The right side.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. When you got to the
2	roof, did you utilize fall protection?
3	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No one had it.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, no one on the roof was
5	using fall protection?
6	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
7	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How long was your
8	conversation with the father before the incident happened?
9	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Not much, it was about 10
10	minutes.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, what did the father say
12	to you during the conversation?
13	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Well, the thing is, I asked
14	him about the check. I asked him why the check was-the
15	amount was so little.
16	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, did he tell you
17	anything?
18	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
19	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did he tell you that you need
20	to go to the office to sort that out?
21	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Have you ever had a problem
23	with your check being short in the past?
24	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: It had never happened.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was your discussion with the 1 father, did it become more of an argument than a 2 3 discussion? MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: The only thing that happened 4 was, I asked him what was going on and that it wasn't fair. 5 6 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I guess what I'm trying to figure out is if you talked to him for 10 minutes, and you 7 said to him, my check is short, it isn't fair and he didn't 8 tell you anything, what was the rest of the conversation? MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: He said it was okay. I told 10 him it wasn't fair. 11 12 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay, did you raise your voice or did he raise his voice, or both? 13 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: No, I just told him that it 14 15 wasn't right. 16 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, that's the extent of the conversation, what you've testified to, is that correct? 17 18 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes. DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I don't have any other 19 questions, Your Honor. 20 21 APPEALS OFFICER: Any redirect? 22 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Just one question, Your Honor. When did you last work for Pedro before the 23 24 accident? 25 MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: It was on a Friday.

1	ALIKA ANGERMAN: When did you-did you work for
2	Pedro the week prior to the accident?
3	MARTIN DURAN-PEREZ: Yes.
4	ALIKA ANGERMAN: No further questions, Your
5	Honor.
6	APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you for your testimony,
7	sir. Mr. Angerman, next witness? Could you have your
8	client, perhaps sit in the back for a second while they—
9	and, this witness is who?
10	ALIKA ANGERMAN: I think it's—what's his full
11	name? Eduardo is the last name? [crosstalk]
12	APPEALS OFFICER: Let's get the name of the
13	witness and spelling.
14	EDUARDO LEON: Eduardo Leon. L-E-O-N.
15	APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you sir. And, Mr.
16	Leon, do you solemnly swear or affirm that the testimony
17	you're about to give in this matter shall be the truth, the
18	whole truth and nothing but the truth?
19	EDUARDO LEON: Yes.
20	APPEALS OFFICER: Direct?
21	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Mr. Leon, were you at the
22	work site on the date of the accident?
23	EDUARDO LEON: Yes.
24	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, did you observe the
25	conversation between Pedro, the Foreman and the Claimant?

1	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes.
2	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	And, what did you observe?
3	EDUARDO LEON:	Well, he went to ask him
4	about his money and they were	arguing and then he was
5	pushed. That's what I saw.
6	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	Who pushed who?
7	EDUARDO LEON:	Pedro's son pushed Martin.
8	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	Was Pedro's son arguing with
9	Martin?
10	EDUARDO LEON:	No.
11	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	And, where was Pedro's son
12	when the argument happened?
13	EDUARDO LEON:	He was at the bottom and in
14	less than a minute, he went up	o to listen to the 15	conversation they were having	•
16	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	How far away were you from
17	Pedro and Mr. Perez?
18	EDUARDO LEON:	Ten feet.
19	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	And, what happened after Mr.
20	Perez was pushed?
21	EDUARDO LEON:	I called 9-1-1 and Pedro's
22	son was laughing. He said tha	at he wanted him to remember
23	him for the rest of his life.
24	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	And then what happened?
25

1	INTERPRETER:	I'd like to make a
2	clarification, please.
3	EDUARDO LEON:	The ambulance showed up and
4	we took Martin to-the ambulance	e showed up, the people in
5	charge of the building showed to	up and we took Martin to the
6	hospital.
7	ALIKA ANGERMAN:	Do you know the names of the
8	people in charge of the building	ng?
9	EDUARDO LEON:	His name was Rafa, but I
10	don't know his last name.
11	ALIKA ANGERMAN: I	Do you know his title?
12	EDUARDO LEON:	He's in charge of the
13	building.
14	ALIKA ANGERMAN: V	What is your relationship
15	with Mr. Perez?
16	EDUARDO LEON:	He's my brother-in-law.
17	APPEALS OFFICER: F	Brother-in-law?
18	INTERPRETER: E	Brother-in-law, Your Honor.
19	ALIKA ANGERMAN: N	No further questions, Your
20	Honor.
21	APPEALS OFFICER: C	Cross?
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: N	Mr. Leon, on the day of the
23	incident, who were you employed	d by?
24	EDUARDO LEON: F	Focus.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: What was your job title, wha	ıt
2	did you do for them?
3	EDUARDO LEON: I'm a carpenter, I'm a
4	framer. `
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I'm sorry, carpenter, framer	:
6	is that what you said?
7	INTERPRETER: Framer/carpenter, yes.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How long had you worked for
9	Focus?
10	EDUARDO LEON: A year.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: When working for Focus, as a	l
12	carpenter, are there different crews or teams that work on	l
13	houses, or do you just go during the course of a day, from	ì
14	one house, to another house, to another house, to another
15	house?
16	EDUARDO LEON: You finish a house and then
17	you're sent to a different one.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. On the day of the
19	incident, you said you were about 10 feet away from the
20	conversation, is that accurate?
21	EDUARDO LEON: Yes.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, the conversation was
23	happening on a roof, is that correct? You have to say yes	;
24	or no please.
25	EDUARDO LEON: Yes.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, just, if you don't mind
2	explaining, I'm not telling you to say yes or no, just one
3	of the two because nodding doesn't come on.
4	EDUARDO LEON: Okay.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Were you on the roof when the
6	conversation was happening or were you on the ground?
7	EDUARDO LEON: I was on the sidewalk.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: The roof was—it was a roof of
9	a house, correct? A house in the process of being built?
10	EDUARDO LEON: Yes, it's called decking.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was that house the house that
12	you were working on, on the day of the incident?
13	EDUARDO LEON: My house was across, they
14	were at the house across from where I was.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. So, you were working
16	on a different house then where the incident occurred.
17	EDUARDO LEON: Yes.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was
19	EDUARDO LEON: I didn't work for Pedro.
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. So, was Martin working
21	on the same house as you, on the day of the incident?
22	EDUARDO LEON: He was working on the same
23	house that I was and he went to talk to Pedro.
24	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Who was your and
25	Martin's crew leader on the day of the incident?

1	EDUARDO LEON:	Francisco Conzaloz
		And you said, you didn't work
3	for Pedro, does that mean you r	never worked for Pedro?
4	EDUARDO LEON:	No. I didn't work for Pedro.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: C	Okay.
6	ALIKA ANGERMAN: C	Counsel-
7	INTERPRETER:	I don't think he understood
8	the question, do you mind if I	ask it again?
9	APPEALS OFFICER: 0	Go ahead.
10	EDUARDO LEON: N	Never worked for Pedro.
11	APPEALS OFFICER: C	Okay.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: C	Counsel, can you show him
13	Page 14 of my Exhibit? And, if	f Your Honor doesn't mind,
14	I'm going to approach the Inter	rpreter.
15	APPEALS OFFICER: C	Certainly.
16	INTERPRETER: T	Thank you, Counsel.
17	ALIKA ANGERMAN: 1	14?
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: 1	4. [inaudible]. Okay,
19	yeah. Mr. Leon, do you recogni	ze the handwriting on Page
20	14?
21	EDUARDO LEON: U	Jh huh.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Y	You have to say yes or no,
23	please.
24	EDUARDO LEON: Y	es.
25

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Mr. Angerman, can you show
2	him the next page? How about	the handwriting on Page 15?
3	I don't have a copy so I'm ju	st blindly asking you.
4	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	The handwriting on Pages 14
6	and 15, is that yours?
7	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Do you remember preparing
9	this statement?
10	EDUARDO LEON:	No.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	You do not remember doing
12	this statement, is that correct	ct?
13	EDUARDO LEON:	I did write it.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Okay. I'm asking you if you
15	remember writing it.
16	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes.
17	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Were you asked to prepare a
18	statement?
19	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes, by the people in charge
20	of Safety. The company's Safe	ety Department.
21	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Do you remember the names of
22	anyone who asked you to prepar	re the statement?
23	EDUARDO LEON:	Kevin and the boss' name, but
24	I don't recall his name.
25	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Did they tell what to write?

1 EDUARDO LEON: No. 2 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: If you could, can you read 3 that statement, in Spanish, but not all at once, if you 4 could maybe read a couple lines and then allow the 5 Interpreter to interpret and then a couple lines and allow 6 the Interpreter to interpret so we can have a translation 7 of that in the record. 8 EDUARDO LEON: Okay. 9 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, please read it word for 10 word. 11 EDUARDO LEON: Okay. 12 INTERPRETER: Thank you, it makes it easier 13 [inaudible] 14 EDUARDO LEON: Pancho gave Martin his check 15 and he looked at him. It was very little and he went up to ask Pedro about it. They started talking and after, they 16 17 got a little-they were a little altered but they didn't 18 shout. They used their hands and Pedro's son went up a 19 little upset. In some instance, he pushed him. I, 20 Eduardo, went up and asked what happened. Martin was on 21 the floor after. I asked for help and nobody wanted to 22 help me because they were in shock. We picked him up and 23 then Pedro's son was laughing or making fun with hatred in his voice, so that you remember me.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Is that statement true and
2	accurate?
3	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	If you don't mind, do you-I
5	know you said you've never wo	orked with Pedro, have you ever
6	seen Pedro before?
7	EDUARDO LEON:	Yes, we work at the same
8	company.
9	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Do you know how old or
10	approximately how old Pedro	Ls?
11	EDUARDO LEON:	No.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	How about compared to me, do
13	you think he's younger or old	der than me, if you have an
14	opinion?
15	EDUARDO LEON:	Younger.
16	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Is he tall, is he short?
17	EDUARDO LEON:	Medium height.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Is he big or small, size
19	wise?
20	EDUARDO LEON:	Average.
21	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	How about his sons, I'm
22	assuming he's younger than hi	.m.
23	EDUARDO LEON:	Uh huh.
24	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Is he big or small, his son?
25	EDUARDO LEON:	Average and thin.

             DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. I don't have any other
    questions, Your Honor.
             APPEALS OFFICER:
                               Any redirect?
             ALIKA ANGERMAN: No redirect, Your Honor.
             APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, thank you, Mr. Leon,
   for your testimony.
             EDUARDO LEON:
                                Okay.
             APPEALS OFFICER: Mr. Angerman, do you want to 8 release Mr. Leon to head home, unless somebody is going to recall him?
10
11
             DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I think they came together, 12
   Your Honor.
13
             ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yeah, I think they came 14 together, so it's fine.
15
             APPEALS OFFICER: Okay. Are there any other 16 witnesses?
17
            ALIKA ANGERMAN: No other witnesses, Your 18
   Honor.
19
             APPEALS OFFICER: And, Mr. Schwartz, what 20 witnesses do you have?
21
             DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Well, I'll start with Nick, 22 who you have a statement from. I have the two safety 23 people.
24
                               Okay.
             APPEALS OFFICER:
25
            DANIEL SCHWARTZ: May I go?

1 APPEALS OFFICER: Yeah, of course. 2 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Just asking. [pause] Nick, 3 you're going to go to that chair right there, that I didn't have a chance to show you. It's a little bit crazy out 5 there, Your Honor. 6 APPEALS OFFICER: I only asked you-we're still 7 on the record. I didn't know if Pedro and/or his son was going to be here-DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I didn't think it was wise, Your Honor. 10 11 APPEALS OFFICER: If there's any animosity or-12 right, okay. That's why I asked. 13 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, this is Nick. His last name is-we're still on the record, correct? 14 15 APPEALS OFFICER: Yes. DANIEL SCHWARTZ: His last name is P-A-O, I 16 haven't asked him how to pronounce it yet. 17 18 APPEALS OFFICER: Okay. 19 NICHOLAS PAO: Pao. P-A-O. 20 APPEALS OFFICER: 21 NICHOLAS PAO: Yes. 22 APPEALS OFFICER: Mr. Pao, do you solemnly 23 swear or affirm that the testimony you're about to give in 24 this matter shall be the truth, the whole truth and nothing 25 but the truth?

1	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes sir.
2	APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, thank you. Mr.
3	Schwartz.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Could you state your name and
5	spell your last name for the record, even though you just
6	did it?
7	NICHOLAS PAO: Okay. My name is Nicholas
8	Pao. P-A-O.
9	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you mind if I call you
10	Nick?
11	NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, that's fine.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Nick, where do you work?
13	NICHOLAS PAO: I work for Focus Companies.
14	My position is Safety Director.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How long have you been there?
16	NICHOLAS PAO: This June will be five years.
17	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Have you ever testified in a
18	Worker's Compensation Claim before?
19	NICHOLAS PAO: No, this is the first time.
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. If any of us say
21	anything to you, like you have to say yes or no, or you're
22	talking too quietly, it's not because we're trying to
23	offend you, it's because the microphone in front of you
24	records, it doesn't amplify and we need the questions
25	answered in either yes or no. Is that okay?

1	NICHOLAS PAO: Okay, yes.
2	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: As the Safety Director, do
3	you deal with the Framing Department?
4	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Is that-does that have a
6	different title, the Framing Department or is it all part
7	of Focus?
8	NICHOLAS PAO: No, it's all part of Focus.
9	We have a plumbing division, electrical division, a
10	landscape division, a concrete division and framing
11	division.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, are you the Safety
13	Director over all the different
14	NICHOLAS PAO: Over all the companies, yes.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Is there a Safety Director
16	just for the Framing Division, or safety person?
17	NICHOLAS PAO: I have two managers, Kevin
18	Mendoza which he's outside and Angel Cabrera, are the two
19	Safety Managers for-strictly for the Framing Division.
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. So, the Framing
21	Division has two managers and then you oversee both of them
22	as the Safety Director.
23	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes. Yes.
24

1 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Are you familiar with Martin Duran-Perez who is the gentleman in the black coat, sitting 2 next to Mr. Angerman, who is the guy in the tie? 3 NICHOLAS PAO: 4 Yes. 5 How do you know him? DANIEL SCHWARTZ: 6 NICHOLAS PAO: He was working for Focus 7 Framing. 8 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: As a-in the Framing Division, 9 are there things called crews? 10 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, we have-right now, we have a total of 33 crews out in the Valley. We have what's 11 12 called a Crew Leader. They are like the designated person 13 who takes charge of that crew. 14 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, how many people, 15 approximately are on each crew, or does it just vary? 16 NICHOLAS PAO: It varies on average betweensometimes, five-five man crews upwards of-we have some 17 18 crews that are 13-13-man crews out there. 19 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How does a person get on a 20 crew, if that makes sense? 21 NICHOLAS PAO: Usually the Crew Leader will 22 request if they can get them hired on and then they fill 23 out all the proper documentation, new hire orientation and 24 then they go to work for that crew.

              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  And, do people sometimes
    switch from one crew to the other, once they're employed by Focus?
              NICHOLAS PAO:
                                  Yes.
                                         They do switch off and
         I mean, sometimes, the-another crew may offer them
   more money, so what they'll do is they'll switch over to another crew.
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                   Prior to being in the Safety
   Department, did you work in the construction industry?
10
                                  I've been in the construction
              NICHOLAS PAO:

    industry for 15 years. I've worked for MS Concrete and 12 then after that, I worked in Safety and Health for two and 13 a half years at a medical facility. I've been with Focus, 14 in Safety for just under five years.
15
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  And, are you working-I mean,
   I know you're here with us today, but are you working
17
    today?
18
              NICHOLAS PAO:
                                  Yes, I am working today.
19
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                  The orange shirt, underneath, 20 is that like designed to-- 21
              NICHOLAS PAO:
                                  That's safety, you know.
22
   Yeah.
23
                                  Okay. Are you familiar with
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
24 a Crew Leader named Pedro?
25
              NICHOLAS PAO:
                                  Yes.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: What's Pedro's last name?)
2	NICHOLAS PAO: Rosales.
3	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And there's been some
4	testimony earlier about a Crew Leader named-within the
5	Framing Department named Francisco, are you familiar wi	th
6	him?
7	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, Francisco Gonzalez.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Are those two different of	rew
9	leaders?
10	NICHOLAS PAO: Two different crew leader	s,
11	yes.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you remember the day o	f
13	the incident involving Mr. Duran-Perez?
14	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you remember the locat	ion
16	of the incident?
17	NICHOLAS PAO: It was in Inspirada Green
18	Courts.
19	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Is that a housing
20	development?
21	NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, for KB Homes.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. What does Focus, t	he
23	Framing Department, at that time, what were they doing	for
24	KB Homes?

1 NICHOLAS PAO: We were framing single-family 2 resident homes, over there. 3 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, just so I have the picture in my head, is that kind of putting up the skeleton 5 of the house? 6 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah. Yeah, the framing 7 structure of a house. 8 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Were you on the jobsite when the incident occurred with Mr. Duran-Perez? 10 NICHOLAS PAO: I was not on the jobsite at the time it happened, but I was there earlier that day. 11 12 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay, that was going to be 13 next question, had you been on that jobsite that day? 14 NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, I was on the jobsite that day. 15 16 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you talk to Mr. Duran-17 Perez that day? 18 NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, I did, matter of fact, speak to Martin that day because there was somewhat of a 19 20 language barrier. My other Safety Manager, Kevin Mendoza, 21 was there present too. 22 So, do you not speak Spanish? DANIEL SCHWARTZ: 23 NICHOLAS PAO: I speak, not fluent Spanish, 24 but I do speak Spanish to where I can understand some, but if they start speaking real fast, I do have a little hard 25

1 time understanding. So, when it gets to that point, that's when I'll call in to ask for help. 3 Do you remember what the DANIEL SCHWARTZ: 4 conversation you had, obviously with Kevin's assistance, 5 was about with Mr. Duran-Perez? 6 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, he brought it to our attention that there was a discrepancy on his paycheck from 7 Pedro. We had basically told him, at the end of the day, 8 take it to the office and Lucy would get that corrected. 10 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: At that point in time, when 11 you were having this conversation with him, would Pedro 12 have had any ability to do anything with that paycheck? 13 NICHOLAS PAO: No. He couldn't have done 14 nothing. He could've maybe made a phone call and told Lucy 15 to get the check corrected, but as far as him cutting a 16 check for him, no. 17 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, your-your-I don't want to 18 say advice, but what you told Mr. Duran-Perez, concerning 19 the paycheck was to go to the office. 20 NICHOLAS PAO: Go to the office at the end 21 of the day. Yeah. 22 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And then did you leave the 23 jobsite? 24 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.

1		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Are you familiar that—are you
2	aware tha	t an incident happen	ed later?
3		NICHOLAS PAO:	Yeah. I did find out that
4	there was	an incident.
5	1 1 1 1 1 1 1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	And, as part of the incident,
6	did you do	o some investigative	, getting some statements, et
7	cetera?
8		NICHOLAS PAO:	Uh huh. Yes
9		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	You have to say yes or no.
10		NICHOLAS PAO:	I went and—I went and did my
11	investigat	tion. I took my pho	tos. I even met him at UMC,
12	just to fo	ollow-up and make su	re his condition was okay.
13		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	So, just from a-from a very
14	simplistic	c version of what hap	ppened, Mr. Duran-Perez was
15	pushed of	f a roof, or a deck,	is that your understanding?
16		NICHOLAS PAO:	Correct, yes.
17		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	The roof-am I using the right
18	term when	I say 'roof' or
19		NICHOLAS PAO:	It's—it's not a roof, it's a
20	deck to a	second story home.
21		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Okay. So, that would be the
22	floor of t	the second story?
23		NICHOLAS PAO:	The floor of the second,
24	yeah—appro	eximately about 12 for	eet from the subfloor, to the
25	ground is	about 12 feet that h	ne fell.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. When you're on a deck
2	that's 12 feet above the ground level, from a safety
3	perspective, are you supposed to be using fall protection?
4	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, correct. Under
5	1926.500(m), any time you work above six feet, you are
6	required to wear fall protection.
7	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Mr. Duran-Perez has said that
8	none of the other guys on the roof were wearing fall
9	protection, is that-did you yield that from your
10	investigation?
11	NICHOLAS PAO: No. Not that I know. Pedro
12	said-what he had stated to me, in my investigation, he was
13	tied off.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Obviously, Mr. Duran-
15	Perez wasn't tied off
16	NICHOLAS PAO: Correct.
17	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:because he came off the
18	roof.
19	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes.
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I don't have any other
21	questions, Your Honor.
22	APPEALS OFFICER: Cross?
23	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. Just to
24	focus on the checks for a moment. Who approves of the time
25	periods that are added to the checks?

1 NICHOLAS PAO: The checks are actually 2 written out by the crew leaders and then they're given to the foremans and then the foremans turn it into payroll. 3 4 ALIKA ANGERMAN: So, does the foremans have 5 any say as far as like, the hours that people work? 6 NICHOLAS PAO: They're not going to really 7 keep control of the-of who approves what, you know. Usually the crew leaders are the ones that, you know, determine how many hours they work, you know, for that 10 week. 11 ALIKA ANGERMAN: So, the crew leader is going 12 to be the ones that would be tracking the hours? 13 NICHOLAS PAO: Somewhat, yeah. 14 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Okay. Now, with-mentioning 15 the Claimant was on the deck, it was about 12 feet from the 16 ground. 17 NICHOLAS PAO: Correct. 18 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Had he been wearing the safety equipment, would he still have hit-would he still 19 have hit the ground or--20 21 NICHOLAS PAO: Absolutely not. 22 retractables that we use, they have a stopping distance of 23 18-inches. So, even if-if he had the harness, proper harness, retractable and a 5,000 pound anchor point, if 24 they do fall off, they're going to fall approximately 18

1	inches and he would've been hanging on the side of the
2	building.
3	ALIKA ANGERMAN: And, as far as your
4	investigation into determining whether people, whether the
5	crew was wearing the safety equipment, the extent was just
6	asking Mror, excuse me, asking Pedro, whether the rest of
7	the crew was compliant?
8	NICHOLAS PAO: From during my investigation,
9	Pedro was the only one that was up on the roof, or not the
10	roof, the deck and he was tied off.
11	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Oh.
12	NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.
13	ALIKA ANGERMAN: So, you asked him and he said
14	he was tied off?
15	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes.
16	ALIKA ANGERMAN: All right. No further
17	questions.
18	NICHOLAS PAO: No further questions?
19	APPEALS OFFICER: Any redirect?
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Yes. You obviously know that
21	Pedro's son was also up there at some point, correct?
22	NICHOLAS PAO: Correct, yes.
23	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you speak to him
24	afterwards?

1 NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, we did also get a statement from him. I did speak to him too. 2 3 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you ask him about being 4 tied off? 5 NICHOLAS PAO: Yes, I did and he stated he 6 was not tied off. He-he had stated to me, I know it's-he 7 stated that he heard his dad and Martin arguing up there on 8 the top, so he went up there in defense of his father. 9 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. 10 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah. 11 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Just one question about theabout the keeping track of payroll, for lack of a better 12 13 way of putting it. So I understand correctly, the crew 14 leader somehow keeps track, is that accurate? 15 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah. He'll submit his time into the foreman. The foreman will check to make sure, 16 17 like if they're going to turn in time for standing the 18 walls or doing the deck, it's all based on a piece working system. So, he just wants to make sure that the work that 19 20 they've done, that they're turning in the time for. The 21 work is completed. 22 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, the crew leader turns in 23 the time to a foreman. 24 NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.

1	DANIEL COMMADES. EL C
	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: The foreman verifies that
2	whatever the tasks are were actually done.
3	NICHOLAS PAO: Were completed, yeah.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And then the foreman turns it
5	into the office.
6	NICHOLAS PAO: Turns it into the office.
7	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: The office then generates
8	paychecks.
9	NICHOLAS PAO: Generates the checks, yes.
10	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, again, if there's a
11	problem with the check, the person who generated the check
12	is the office.
13	NICHOLAS PAO: Correct.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. I don't have any other
15	questions, Your Honor.
16	APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, thank you sir, for your
17	testimony.
18	NICHOLAS PAO: Yes sir, thank you.
19	APPEALS OFFICER: Can this witness be excused?
20	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Both guys-we had this
21	conversation. They came together as well, so.
22	NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, I'll hang out outside.
23	APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, thank you sir.
24	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: May I go get my next witness?
25	[pause] You're going to-oh, I'm sorry. I didn't get to

1	show you before. You're going to sit in the chair-the
2	chair with the microphone please.
3	APPEALS OFFICER: Sir, if you'd have a seat
4	there. Do you need an interpreter or-
5	KEVIN MENDOZA: No, we're okay.
6	APPEALS OFFICER: Okay. And, if you could
7	please state your name?
8	KEVIN MENDOZA: Kevin Mendoza.
9	APPEALS OFFICER: Okay. Mr. Mendoza, do you
10	solemnly swear or affirm that the testimony you're about to 11	give in this matter shall be the truth, the whole truth and
12	nothing but the truth?
13	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes sir.
14	APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you sir. Mr. Schwartz.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Mr. Mendoza, first name is
16	spelled the normal Kevin, K-E-V-I-N?
17	KEVIN MENDOZA: Correct.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, will you just spell your
19	last name for the record?
20	KEVIN MENDOZA: M-E-N-D-O-Z-A.
21	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Mr. Mendoza, where do you-do
22	you mind if I call you Kevin?
23	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yeah, that's fine.
24	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Where do you work?
25	KEVIN MENDOZA: Focus Framing.

1		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	How long have you worked
2	there?
3		KEVIN MENDOZA:	About a year and three
4	months, f	our months.
5		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Do you have a job title at
6	Focus Fra	ming?
7		KEVIN MENDOZA:	Yeah, I'm a Safety
8	Superviso	r.
9		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Can you give us a little bit
10	of backgr	ound, as to how you l	pecome a safety supervisor?
11		KEVIN MENDOZA:	I started off being a
12	plumber.	Ended up taking my (OSHA 30, came in contact with
13	Nick and	I'm here now.
14		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	So, you have OSHA 30, that's
15	a class?
16		KEVIN MENDOZA:	Correct.
17		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Okay. Are there more than
18	one person	n in your role for Fo	ocus Framing?
19		KEVIN MENDOZA:	Yes.
20		DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	How many others are there?
21		KEVIN MENDOZA:	Other than Nick, there would
22	be one mo	re other person.
23	:	DANIEL SCHWARTZ:	Okay. So, there's a total of
24	three peop	ole in the Safety Dep	partment?
25		KEVIN MENDOZA:	Correct.

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Are you familiar with Martin
2	Duran-Perez, who is the gentleman in the black coat,
3	sitting next to Mr. Angerman who is wearing a tie?
4	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes sir.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: How do you know him?
6	KEVIN MENDOZA: He used to be an employee for
7	Focus Framing.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Are you aware that an
9	incident occurred back in December of 2016 involving Mr.
10	Duran-Perez?
11	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes sir.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you know where that
13	incident occurred, what location?
14	KEVIN MENDOZA: It'd be Inspirada Green
15	Courts, the jobsite.
16	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, the Inspirada Green
17	Courts, what was Focus Framing doing at that location?
18	KEVIN MENDOZA: Framing houses.
19	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, just again, for the
20	record, so we're painting a picture, is that kind of doing
21	the skeleton of a house?
22	KEVIN MENDOZA: Exact-that's exactly what it
23	is.
24

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, when I drive by and see
2	the wood skeletons of houses, that's what Focus Framing was
3	doing that day?
4	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes sir.
5	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Were you on the jobsite when
6	the incident happened?
7	KEVIN MENDOZA: No.
8	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Were you on the jobsite at
9	all that day, prior to the incident happening?
10	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
11	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Do you remember talking to
12	Mr. Duran-Perez, prior to the incident happening that day?
13	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: What was the subject of the
15	conversation?
16	KEVIN MENDOZA: He came up in regards to some
17	problem he was having with his check. So, I told him to
18	take it up to the office and get it handled there.
19	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was Nick there when this
20	conversation was happening?
21	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
22	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was Nick using you to help
23	interpret as well?
24	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
25

1	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. And, do you speak
2	Spanish?
3	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes, I do.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So I understand correctly,
5	Mr. Duran-Perez had an issue with his paycheck?
6	KEVIN MENDOZA: Correct.
7	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, you and Nick told him,
8	if you have a question, you need to talk to the office?
9	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes sir.
10	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Did you leave the
11	jobsite at some point that day?
12	KEVIN MENDOZA: Did we leave? Yes. We left.
13	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Did you later find out that
14	this incident had occurred?
15	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
16	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Nick's already testified
17	about what he did, as far as the investigation, did you
18	have any role in the investigation, once the incident
19	occurred?
20	KEVIN MENDOZA: I took testimony from the
21	gentlemen. That's about it. I showed up to the hospital.
22	when Mr. Duran was in the hospital.
23	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Are you familiar,
24	being one of the safety people for Focus Framing, of the
25	concept of a crew?

1	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
2	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Can you explain to us what
3	that means?
4	KEVIN MENDOZA: So, a person, there's a crew
5	leader, which is whoever is responsible for the whole crew
6	itself. It can be up to-it can be as low as two people or
7	it can be as much as 10 people, just depending on the crew
8	itself. Each individual has his own responsibility that we
9	don't know. That's between the crew leader and the workers
10	themselves and they build the house. Each crew is
11	responsible for a house at a time.
12	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Are you familiar with a Crew
13	Leader named Pedro?
14	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
15	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was Pedro at one point in
16	time a Crew Leader for Focus Framing?
17	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes, he was.
18	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And, how about a Crew Leader
19	named Francisco?
20	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
21	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Was Francisco a Crew Leader
22	for Focus at one point in time?
23	KEVIN MENDOZA: Yes.
24	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: As Crew Leaders, according to
25	what you just said, I just want to make sure I'm clear,

1	they would each have their own group of people working
2	under them, is that accurate?
3	KEVIN MENDOZA: Correct.
4	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Are you aware of how the pay
5	works from the Crew Leader level up, meaning, do you know
6	what a crew leader does to get their crew members paid?
7	KEVIN MENDOZA: That I know of, personally,
8	they fill out a timecard per employee and then it gets
9	taken up to management.
10	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Okay. Management meaning,
11	does it go to a supervisor first?
12	KEVIN MENDOZA: It goes from the foreman and
13	then the foreman take it up to the supervisor, correct.
14	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, crew leader to foreman,
15	to the office?
16	KEVIN MENDOZA: To the office, right.
17	DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Is that-okay. I don't have
18	any other questions, Your Honor.
19	APPEALS OFFICER: Cross?
20	ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. How often
21	were you on the jobsite prior to the accident?
22	KEVIN MENDOZA: We do routinely [sic]
23	inspections, so I would say on the jobsite, probably to
24	that, that week, or the days prior to it, maybe twice.

              ALIKA ANGERMAN: How well do you know my client, Mr. Perez?
              KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 I met him actually the day
    that I first spoke to him because at the time, I was training with Nick. So, I was pretty much just-just learning everybody and who was who.
             ALIKA ANGERMAN:
                                 So, just to be clear, that was your first interaction with Mr. Perez?
- 8
             KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 With Mr. Duran, yes sir.
10
             ALIKA ANGERMAN:
                                All right. And, if a worker
11 has an issue with a check, who do they go to discuss that 12 issue?
13
             KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 It should be directly to the 14
   payroll office.
15
             ALIKA ANGERMAN:
                                 Where is that located?
16
             KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 At our main office which is 17
   1220 South Commerce.
18 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Okay. So, there's nothing on the actual jobsite.
20
             KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 No, no.
21
             ALIKA ANGERMAN:
                             Can you please describe some 22 of your duties as a Safety Manager?
23
             KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                 Yes sir. So, I show up to 24 the jobsite and do my routine inspection where we check the 25 cords, check their tools, make sure the proper corrals, guards are up on the house. Make sure they're wearing proper [inaudible] and that's about it. Do the training, whatever training is mandated for us to go do that day or

    for the month.
              ALIKA ANGERMAN:
                                  Okay, thank you. I believe
    that's it. I have no further questions.
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                  Any redirect?
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:
                                 No redirect, Your Honor.
              APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you sir, for your 10 testimony.
11
              KEVIN MENDOZA:
                                  Thank you.
12
              APPEALS OFFICER:
                                 Next witness?
              DANIEL SCHWARTZ:

1 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I'm sorry, Your Honor, would 2 you like me to get you a donut before we proceed? 3 APPEALS OFFICER: That's all right. Okay, no 4 further witnesses? 5 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Correct. 6 APPEALS OFFICER: Mr. Schwartz, no other 7 witness? 8 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Correct, Your Honor, sorry. 9 APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, closing. 10 ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. As you heard today in the-through the evidence that's been 11 12 submitted, we were arguing that the Claimant has a 13 compensable claim. There was an accident. In this situation, he—the Claimant has testified 14 15 that there was an issue with his paycheck and that he went 16 to Pedro, Pedro Gonzalez, who was his foreman the prior week to the accident to discuss this issue. 17 There was an 18 argument, but as everyone involved has testified to, there was a disagreement but there was no shouting and they 19 discussed the issue with the check. What the Claimant 20 21 believes to be a shortage on his check, with not an 22 accurate accounting of the hours. 23 As this discussion was going on, Mr. Rosales' son 24 entered into the situation and pushed my client off of thewhat has been described as a deck, which is apparently 12-25 feet from the ground, which resulted in the injury to the Claimant as described on Page 6 of the Claimant's packet, through the C4 Form.

So, we do have an accident/injury during the course and scope of his employment because the whole issue centers around the discussion of the paycheck and the Claimant was working at the time of the accident.

We would argue that the elements of accident/injury in the course and scope have been met. There's no notice issue, as everyone has discussed and it's in the evidence. The Claimant was taken to UMC on the date of the accident, in which he was evaluated by a physician there who had evaluated the Claimant and found the subdural hematoma or the brain bleed, to be work-incurred.

So, we are arguing that all the elements of a compensable claim have been met.

APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you. Mr. Schwartz.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, I think you first need to pay a little bit of close attention to the testimony you've heard. According to Mr. Duran-Perez, he did not speak with either of the safety people the morning of the incident. They both testified that they did.

According to Mr. Duran-Perez, he says that he was having a 10-minute conversation with Pedro when Pedro's son entered the picture. I tried to get him to tell me what happened in those 10 minutes and all he could tell me was,

I asked him about my check being shorted and he said, basically, I can't help you with it. That's a pretty quick

10-minute conversation.

We asked Mr. Duran-Perez if it was an argument. He said, no, but Mr. Leon testified and he used the word 'they were arguing'. If you read his written statement, Mr. Leon, he indicates in his written statement that they were—the voices were raised, I guess, we'll put it that way. Again, I don't expect Mr. Leon to throw his brother—in—law under the bus, proverbially and to say they were arguing, but clearly, according to all the documents you have, except for Mr. Duran-Perez, they were arguing.

Now, let's kind of back up to how we got to that point. By the way, I just looked at a calendar, December 30, 2016 was a Friday. So, we're talking about an entire work week, in a different crew, at a different location that Mr. Duran-Perez was on, versus Pedro.

So, an entire week, basically not working with Pedro, Mr. Duran-Perez looks at his check and I assume he got it that day, I'm not—I mean, I would assume they get paid every Friday—finds a shortfall in his check.

According to the testimony of the two safety officers, they are confronted by Mr. Duran-Perez. I don't mean in a negative way, just converse with, I guess, is probably a better way of putting it, not the term 'confronted'. They advise him to take it up with the office. And he doesn't.

So, starting from that point, I would argue, he is going against the instructions of the Employer, when he chooses to go talk to Pedro about the check.

You also have no testimony other than Nick said, Pedro might have been able to call the office and tell the office and then they would have to follow this chain that we've talked about, of Pedro, to foreman, to office, etc.
There was nothing, according to any documents you have,
that Pedro could've done about this check. So, there's zero reason why Mr. Duran-Perez should've even been talking to Pedro about it.

It's not just talking, Your Honor. Mr. Duran-Perez left the job he was working on, which was according to the testimony of Mr. Duran-Perez, approximately three houses away. He didn't wait for Pedro to come down, you know, for a coffee break or a lunch break or any kind of break or the beginning or end of their work day.

He climbed up on a ladder, to the second-floor decking or deck, to have this conversation, while Pedro was up there working. And, according to the testimony of Nick, and the statements you have, Pedro was tied off, doing his job when suddenly an individual who is not on his crew any longer, comes to talk to him about a check.

Again, although Mr. Duran-Perez says it didn't happen, all the rest of the statements say it happened, that voices escalated and at that point in time, Pedro's son got involved and the unfortunate incident happened.

The question becomes, Your Honor, is this work related? That's the question.

APPEALS OFFICER: That is the question.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, I would direct you to a few different things. We have case law in Nevada, the Cummings case. That talks about the insane act of a coworker. Well, Claimant's Exhibit 1, towards the back shows you that apparently a District Court—and they submitted this, I didn't.

APPEALS OFFICER: Right.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Apparently a District Court did not find Pedro's son to be insane because they allowed him to make a plea agreement to a criminal charge, so he's not insane.

APPEALS OFFICER: Right.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I mean, we know that. As in Cummings, the person was actually declared insane. So, he's not insane. Cummings held the proposition that the insane act of a coworker is compensable within the course and scope of employment.

1 Cummings also cites us to cases from other 2 jurisdiction, as does Larson, Professor Larson's [inaudible] that talks about the fact that altercations on 3 the job are generally compensable unless they involve 4 5 something for which the two people involved have no 6 jurisdiction or ability to be involved with. 7 So, for example, if, Your Honor, right now in the 8 middle of this Hearing, got up, walked down the hall to confront Appeals Officer Morgando about the change in 9 leadership in the agency and your desire to have the old 10 11 leader back, versus Ms. Morgando, that's beyond the scope of what either one of you have the ability to discuss. 12 13 That's exactly what happened in this case, Your 14 Honor. 15 APPEALS OFFICER: What case law is that? 16 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: That's Larsen. It's cited in 17 Cummings. They give you all the different cases from all the wonderful different jurisdictions that talk about where 18 we draw the line of compensability between an altercation 19 20 involving individuals, coworkers. 21 APPEALS OFFICER: I mean, we all know that that's what this case comes down to. 22 23 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Absolutely. 24 APPEALS OFFICER: Right.

1 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And the two [inaudible] witnesses, other than Mr. Duran-Perez who said to you, they 2 3 were asked by Mr. Duran-Perez earlier in the day about his check and they directed Mr. Duran-Perez to the office. 4 5 APPEALS OFFICER: Is there any Nevada Supreme 6 Court case law on this that's a little more close than 7 other jurisdictions? 8 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: You have Cummings, as far as I could find, you have the Cummings case, which obviously 9 10 talks about the insane act of a coworker. 11 APPEALS OFFICER: Right. 12 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: You have McColl, M-C-C-O-L-L. 13 APPEALS OFFICER: Right. 14 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: Which is actually a third-15 party coming in. 16 APPEALS OFFICER: Right. 17 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, I guess the analogy would 18 be if-19 APPEALS OFFICER: Yeah, he's a third-party. 20 DANIEL SCHWARTZ: If Pedro's wife just showed up on the jobsite, was involved, that would be different. 21 You really don't have, as lease as far as I could tell, any 22 23 other citable altercation cases. There are some uncitable ones but I'm not going to violate the Supreme Court rules, 24 25 even thoughAPPEALS OFFICER: Right.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: I believe they support my position. I'm not going to violate the rules for that. So, that's why I'm referring to other jurisdictions, and specifically Larson, that seems to be where we're supposed to go when we don't have answers in Nevada, that's where the Cummings Court went when they didn't have answers in Nevada.

Again, that's the argument. I think the only factual question, Your Honor, in the case, is whether or not—well, I guess there's theoretically two. Whether or not Mr. Duran—Perez and Pedro had the ability to address this issue and whether or not Mr. Duran—Perez was told by the Safety Department, which are his supervisors, to go talk to the office.

Obviously, our argument goes further which is, by climbing up the ladder and going up to the decking area, without tying off and engaging in a 10-minute conversation, with Pedro, we would argue, he's taken himself out of the scope of employment.

I mean, he's clearly working. There's no question about that. He's clearly on a jobsite, although it's not his jobsite, it's the company's jobsite but not his jobsite. His jobsite was three houses away. We believe that also is a factor that should be considered.

I'm not arguing premises. I'm just saying, he left his jobsite which was a residential house, walked three houses away to discuss, although I would think more confront, Pedro about a check, but it not even stops there. He had to, in order to make this happen, had to climb up a ladder, go to a second-floor decking and have a 10-minute conversation. It's not a, simply poking his head up there and saying, I got a problem with my check and Pedro saying,

You have statements that support most of what I'm stating, as far as factual goes. So, our position is, at some point in time, Mr. Duran-Perez stepped out of the course and scope of this employment.

get out of here. The testimony, according to the Claimant is, it was a 10-mintue conversation.

I could argue it ended the moment it walked off of his jobsite. I could argue it ended the moment he started climbing the ladder. I could argue it ended the moment he got to the roof and didn't tie off and went forward with his conversation. It's at one of those three points, he stepped outside the course and scope of his employment by deciding to confront a former crew leader—again, it's not even his crew leader at this point—about his check, despite being told what to do to fix the problem, or to at least discuss the problem with the appropriate people.

Under all the case law that we've cited and the Larsen authority, we believe the Claim is not compensable, Your Honor.

APPEALS OFFICER: Thank you. Mr. Angerman.

ALIKA ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. A lot of the discussion has been focused on the course and scope and who is the appropriate person to discuss the checks with.

Both in the regards to whether it's Pedro or the Safety Managers, it seems pretty obvious that Pedro would be the one to discuss it with. The Safety Manager, especially the way the company testified to, one of the safety managers, all of his duties surrounded safety, not anything to do with payroll whatsoever.

Versus, Pedro, who is along that chain, that opposing Counsel had mentioned, as far as how the actual check gets created. There's a dispute over the hours. Mr. Perez could go to the office, which it wasn't onsite. So, if he had an issue at that moment, he couldn't discuss it with anyone onsite besides Pedro. If he does go offsite, it's going to be the word of a worker versus the payroll department, unless Pedro, the person who is the foreman, verifies that the hours are wrong and that they need to be corrected.

This is exactly the reason why the Claimant has said he went to go discuss with Pedro the hours, because Pedro was the supervisor the week prior for the check that's in dispute. So, as far as the Claimant's belief, Pedro is obviously the one to discuss the issue with.

As the Claimant testified to, he never spoke with Nick or Kevin, the Safety Managers that testified prior, regarding the check. It doesn't make sense that the Safety Managers would be the go-to people to discuss the check with when Kevin, the first time he ever met the Claimant was that day, according to Kevin himself.

So, we have this inconsistency there. Then, when we talked to Nick regarding the issue, we have Nick who is inconsistent when he's saying that everybody involved was tied down to—it was only Mr. Pedro that was tied down—Pedro was tied down and the only one there—Pedro and his son were there, and the son wasn't tied down.

So, we have the Safety Manager, who did his investigation and his investigation led to the extent of asking the other party involved, who isn't here to testified, what he did and whether the safety measures, as far as Pedro was concerned was followed. So, that's all we have of the discussion after the fact.

What we do know is Kevin and Nick weren't even involved in the situation and didn't come until after the fact. So, again, we are arguing the accident, which everybody that was involved point to Pedro's son pushing the Claimant off of the deck and resulting in the injury as supported by the medical evidence in the C4. We do have the Notice, obviously same day, as the Claimant was taken from the site, in an ambulance, to UMC. And we have the C4 that also corroborates that it happened on the same day and then of course, the big issue is course and scope.

The issue revolves around the check which—the only reason why people work is for money. So, obviously, any discussion with the money has to do with the work, has to do with course and scope. It's a different situation. It's not like an office environment where we have a very designated HR and payroll department that's clearly defined and easily accessible to. This is construction. They're offsite. The Safety Manager gave the exact address of where it is. The important issue it's not on the actual site of the construction where the work is happening. The person who is in charge, most intimately with the workers is the foreman. The foreman is Pedro and Pedro is the one that was the supervisor the week prior, for the issues—for the check issue.

APPEALS OFFICER: Hold up, back up on that. Was that the testimony that he worked for Pedro?

1 ALIKA ANGERMAN: The week prior to the 2 accident. 3 APPEALS OFFICER: For the period of time that 4 the check was allegedly short. 5 ALIKA ANGERMAN: That's why he went to discuss 6 it with him, was that check. 7 APPEALS OFFICER: Okay. 8 ALIKA ANGERMAN: And so, as far as the 9 Claimant is concerned, that would be the person to talk to and the only ones we have saying that differently were the 10 people that weren't actually involved with the incident. 11 12 So, based off of that, it is within course and scope because the issue had to do with the actual pay 13 period. It had to do with the work hours. Based off of 14 15 that, we're arguing compensable claim, Your Honor. 16 APPEALS OFFICER: Okay, thank you, gentlemen. Matter shall stand submitted. 17 18 [end of proceeding 10:10:09] 19 20 21 22 23 24

FINDING OF FACTS

- 1. On December 30, 2016, Claimant suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. Claimant was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. On December 30, 2016 Claimant went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Claimant climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Claimant was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Claimant off of the roof. Claimant fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Traumatic subdural hematoma 3) Possible right 8th rib fracture 4) Musculoskeletal chest pain" as the initial hospital diagnosis. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, Claimant credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales.
- 2. On December 30, 2016, Claimant underwent CT scans of the chest, abdomen, thoracic spine and lumbar spine.
- 3. On December 31, 2016, Claimant had an x-ray performed on his shoulder and a CT scan of his brain. In addition, Claimant underwent an MRI of his cervical.
- 4. On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Claimant's claim.
- 5. On March 20, 2017, Claimant appealed Employer's claim denial determination.
- 6. On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination.
- 7. On June 30, 2017, Employer appealed Hearing Officer Trenkler's Decision and Order and filed a Motion for Stay Pending Appeal.
- 8. On July 17, 2017, Claimant filed an Opposition to Motion For Stay Pending Appeal.
- 9. On August 2, 2017, Employer's Motion for Stay was granted.
- 10. After consideration of the totality of the evidence presented in this case and the arguments of counsel, I find as follows:

- a. I find that Claimant was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead me to conclude the claim is compensable. The decision of the Hearing Officer is proper and AFFIRMED.
- b. This is not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. There is a clear indication that the work issue (short paycheck) was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)]. As such Claimant is entitled to all appropriate benefits.
- c. These Findings of Fact are based upon substantial evidence within the record.
 11. If any finding of fact is more appropriately deemed a conclusion of law it shall be so deemed, or vice versa.

CONCLUSION OF LAW

- 1. Nevada Revised Statutes ("NRS") 616C.150 only requires Claimant to demonstrate that he was injured within the course and scope of his employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose...[r]ather 'preponderance of the evidence' merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence." McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc. 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).
- 2. Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Claimant must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred.
- 3. Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010).
- 4. The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Claimant's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5. Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. Here, Claimant was working at an assigned time and scheduled to be in the same construction housing complex. Claimant went to the house across the street to inquire with the foreman that he worked with the week prior as to why his hours were not properly reflected. His pay and hours are indeed work related. The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. Claimant was on the job when this incident occurred, and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck).

- 5. Accident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident" means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury." Clearly, Claimant did not anticipate being pushed off of a roof by anyone let alone someone who was not a part of the conversation. Claimant wanted clarification for his hours from the foreman he worked with for the subject pay period. In the instant case, Claimant meets the statutory requirement of accident.
- 6. Injury is defined in NRS 616A.265 as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence. Here, the initial treating physician who completed the Form C-4 causally related the injury to the work place incident. Employer bears, the burden under NRS 616C.175 if it believes Claimant has a prior condition. Employer must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim.

> Re: DURAN PEREZ, MARTIN Appeal No.: 1714955-CJY

Dear Mr. Angerman:

This claim is compensable and thus the Hearing Officer's Decision and Order of June 1, 2017 is AFFIRMED

The claimant was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead me to conclude the claim is compensable.

The claimant was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosales's crew. On December 30, 2016 the claimant went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. He climbed up to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working and was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed the claimant of the roof. Serious injuries were sustained. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, the claimant credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check and he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales.

The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. The claimant was on the job when this incident occurred and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck).

This is not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. There is a clear indication that the work issue (short paycheck) was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)] As such the claimant is entitled to all appropriate benefits.

Please prepare a Decision and Order consistent with the above as well as your argument at the time of the hearing no later than March 19, 2018.

Very truly yours,

CHARLES J YORK, ESQ. APPEALS OFFICER

CHIEF COMPLAINT: Headache, neck pain, back pain, chest pain.

PAIN SCALE: Rated at 8/10 at today's visit and states his daily pain was 0/10 prior to the injury on 12/30/16.

HISTORY OF PRESENT ILLNESS: Mr. Duran-Perez presented ambulatory for an initial evaluation of injuries sustained in an alleged assault and battery and mechanical fall on 12/30/16. Patient is employed as construction and landscaping labor. He was at work on top of the house garage, standing on the roof. Patient states that he was in a verbal argument with his boss named Pedro concerning wages. The patient was surprised that the boss' son José pushed Mr. Durand Perez in his back with his hands. He fell off the roof. To his left, there was an overhang. He tried to grab on to as he was falling. He hit his chest against the side of the roof, scraped his chest and then fell one story backwards landing on his back and back of his head. Patient was knocked unconscious. He thinks the ground he fell on was concrete. Patient has no recollection of events after that and then remembers waking up at UMC Hospital. Per patient report, he was evaluated at the scene and transported to UMC Trauma Center, was found to have a head injury and possible intracranial bleeding and rib fracture. He was admitted for five days at UMC. He is unsure what exact radiology tests but thinks he received CAT scans and x-rays. Patient was discharged with medications. He does not remember the names and he has had no specialty followups scheduled. Patient persists with headache occipital, neck pain, low back pain and chest pain. Patient states that he did have difficulty with memory, grogginess, dizziness after the event for a few weeks that dissipated over time and has not been present for approximately six plus months. Only the pain is residual. Patient has no history of headaches. Patient has been unable to work as a landscaping construction laborer secondary to his injuries. Patient has begun conservative therapy at Nicola Chiropractic, going three times per week. Patient thinks he was sent for MRI scan of his brain, neck and low back but has not completed those studies and does not know where the referral was sent. He does not know which radiology location referral was sent to. The patient denies any previous trauma or injury and states that he was 100% pain-free and in good health prior to the event described above and he presents for further evaluation and management.

Subjective:

Mechanism of Injury

Mr. Martin Duran-Perez presents today for evaluation of injuries sustained as the result of an altercation and fall on 12/30/2016. Martin was working on a job site when he was assaulted by another employee. He was pushed off of a building and fell approximately 15-20 feet to the ground below. He landed on his back, hitting the back of his head.

Post Injury

Mr. Duran-Perez reports that he did lose consciousness upon impact. He recalls going in and out of consciousness while in transport. He states he really only remembers waking in the hospital. Mr. Duran-Perez was initially transported from the scene of the fall to a hospital in Henderson by ambulance. He was then transferred again to UMC Hospital by ambulance. Mr. Duran-Perez experienced head, upper/mid back, low back and left rib cage pain when he woke in the hospital. He was evaluated, admitted and stayed 5 days at UMC. Imaging was performed. He relates that he was told he had a bleed in his head and needed to stay for observation. He was eventually discharged for having no insurance. Since that time, he has suffered with headaches, neck, mid and lower back pain. He continued to experience significant spinal, rib and head pain for several months. Because he had no job and no insurance, he was unable to seek further treatment for his injuries.

Subjective Complaints

Mr. Duran-Perez presents today with headaches, neck pain, mid back pain and low back pain. He also has complaints of intermittent left arm pain and numbness and bilateral leg numbness and pain.

He currently rates his lower back pain as moderate to severe. The pain is located across the belt area and is described as a deep ache. He also describes frequent episodes of bilateral leg pain and numbness which extends from his buttocks to his thighs. He often feels weak, like his legs are giving out. Activities that increase his symptoms include: prolonged sitting, lifting, bending, stooping and lying down.

He currently rates his neck and mid back pain as mild to moderate. The pain is located midline along the spine and is most intense at the base of his skull. He describes the pain as sharp, stabbing and tight with movement. Activities that increase his symptoms include: turning the head, looking up, bending the neck side to side, prolong sitting and lifting.

He currently rates his headaches as moderate and intermittent. He states that initially the headaches were constant and located at the back of his head. Over time the frequency and intensity decreased. He still has headaches on a weekly basis and seem to be spontaneous. When they occur he states that it feels like the back of his skull is "open". He denies having any dizziness or visual disturbances in recent weeks.

Records from UMC have been requested. Current diagnoses may change based upon review of hospital records.

Plan:

Physical Restrictions

Restrictions include no standing for more than 30 minutes at a time without a rest and no sitting for more than 1 hour at a time. No lifting greater than 10 pounds. No repetitive tasks with shoulders.

Short and Long Term Goals

Problems for this patient include increased pain, decreased range of motion, decreased tolerance to prolonged positions, decreased endurance, and decreased ability to perform activities of daily living (ADLs) and required job duties.

Short term goals for this patient are to decrease pain, break up scar tissue and fibrous adhesions, decrease muscle spasms, increase active and passive range of motion, restore bio-mechanical integrity and prevent re-injury. We will work on increasing spinal ROM by 2 weeks. Mr. Duran-Perez will decrease pain in 3 weeks. One of the patient's long term goals is to become independent in all ADLs without painful limits. He is to become independent in all recreational activities without painful limits. He will strive to become independent in all work-related activities. He is to receive treatment involving strengthening, ROM, neuromuscular reeducation, mechanical traction, physio-therapeutic modalities as indicated and a home exercise program (HEP).

The long term goals for this patient are to return to pre-injury state.

Prognosis

Mr. Duran-Perez's prognosis is guarded, pending results of the current treatment. The length of the treatment is expected to be prolonged due to lack of initial care following the injury. Scar tissue development and functional limitations have already occurred which will make progress challenging. The patient may or may not recover completely. He will require medical co-management. He is in the chronic phase of care.

Procedures

Physical examination was performed.

Interferential therapy was performed on the patient to stimulate circulation and decrease muscle spasms and/or pain. This therapy was performed for approximately 15 minutes to the areas of involvement.

Moist heat was applied to the area of involvement to reduce muscle spasm and increase circulation. The therapy was applied for approximately 15 minutes.

Imaging Performed

Imaging was ordered while at UMC. Those records were not available today for my review but have been requested. MRI's of the cervical, thoracic and lumbar spine are indicated due to length of time this patient has been symptomatic.

Recommendations:

Mr. Duran-Perez was referred for a medical co-management. Medication for his injuries will be dispensed at the discretion of the medical physician.

Plan

Mr. Duran-Perez was evaluated today for injuries sustained from a fall which occurred on 12/30/16. This patient states he was pain-free and asymptomatic preceding the fall. Based upon the history provided, review of available medical records and the physical examination performed today, it is my conclusion that all injuries and functional limitations are directly related to the assault and fall from a great height. The presenting complaints are consistent with the mechanism of injury. I am recommending conservative care at this time.

Given the amount of time that has lapsed since the original injury occurred, it is important to implement active care as soon as possible. As long as the patient responds well to joint mobilization, I will begin him on rehabilitative exercises. I am also recommending myofascial release therapy to help decrease excess scar tissue development to restore normal joint and muscle flexibility. The patient will also be given a home stretching program to help control symptoms at work and home. I am recommending the use of moist heat at home to alleviate any symptoms of muscle tension. Physiotherapy modalities will be used as needed for pain control. As a result of the delay in receiving care for these injuries, it is expected that recovery will be slower than normal. I am recommending the patient be seen 2 to 3 times per week for 4 weeks at which time I will re-evaluate and modify the treatment plan accordingly.

Evaluation and treatment for Martin's injuries has been deemed medically necessary and causally related to the fall which occurred on 12/30/16.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

The claimant, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "claimant"), alleges that he was pushed off of the roof on December 30, 2016. The claimant was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The claimant was taken off of work. (Exhibit p. 1)

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the claimant went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (Exhibit p. 2)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (Exhibit pp. 3-4)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the claimant was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The claimant climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor, tied off. The claimant started yelling at Pedro and Pedro stated that they could fix the problem the following Tuesday at the office. However, the discussion with the two got "elevated." Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when the Pedro's son asked the claimant to stop, the claimant allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the claimant and pushed him away and the claimant eventually fell off of the roof. (Exhibit pp. 5-9)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the claimant, at 5:00 came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the claimant to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (Exhibit pp. 10-11)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (Exhibit pp.

Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man working on the second floor pushed the claimant who fell off of roof after a discussion between 4837-2421-7166.1

1 the parties. (Exhibit pp. 14-17) 2 A statement from the claimant indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then 3 states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the 4 5 roof. (Exhibit p. 18) 6 An Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the claimant. 7 (Exhibit pp. 19-20) 8 A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (Exhibit p. 9 21) 10 The claimant was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot 11 fall after being pushed off of a roof. The claimant was transferred out of the Emergency Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8th rib fracture. X-12 13 rays of the left shoulder revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain revealed a subdural hematoma, and a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (Exhibit pp. 22-15 16 56) 17 A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017(Exhibit pp. 57-59) 18 On March 21, 2017, the claimant appealed the claim denial determination. (Exhibit 19 p. 60) 20 On March 30, 2017, the adjuster denied March 21, 2017, requests for 1) TTD 21 beginning on December 30, 2016, to present and 2) request for transfer of care to Dr. Garber. (Exhibit pp. 61-62) 22 23 Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and 24 Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit 25 pp. 63-65.) Insurer filed a timely appeal. (Exhibit p. 66.) In addition, the Insurer filed a Motion for 26 a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted. (Exhibit p. 68.) 27 This appeal ensues.

& SMITH LLP

ARGUMENT

The Claimant Bears the Burden

It is the claimant, not the Insurer, who has the burden of proving his case by a preponderance of all the evidence. State Indus. Ins. Sys. v. Hicks, 100 Nev. 567, 688 P.2d 324 (1984); Johnson v. State ex rel. Wyoming Worker's Comp. Div., 798 P.2d 323 (1990); Hagler v. Micron Tech., 118 Idaho 596, 798 P.2d 55 (1990).

In attempting to prove his case, the claimant has the burden of going beyond speculation and conjecture. That means that the claimant must establish all facets of the claim by a preponderance of all the evidence. To prevail, a claimant must present and prove more evidence than an amount which would make his case and his opponent's "evenly balanced." Maxwell v. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 849 P.2d 267 (1993); SIIS v. Khweiss, 108 Nev. 123, 825 P.2d 218 (1992); SIIS v. Kelly, 99 Nev. 774, 671 P.2d 29 (1983); 3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, §80.33(a).

NRS 616A.010(2) makes it clear that:

A claim for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, or chapter 617 of NRS must be decided on its merit and not according to the principle of common law that requires statutes governing workers' compensation to be liberally construed because they are remedial in nature.

The evidence supports the Insurer's position that the claimant has failed to meet his burden of establishing that he has a compensable claim arising out of and in the course and scope of his employment.

В.

The Claim Denial Determination was Legal and Proper

The issue is whether the determination to deny the claim was proper, and/or whether the Hearing Officer erred in reversing the denial of this claim. The Insurer asserts that based upon the totality of the evidence presented, the Hearing Officer did so err. The incident did not arise out of nor was it in the course and scope of the claimant's employment.

Under NRS 616C.150(1), the claimant has the burden of proof to show that the injury arose out of and in the course and scope of his employment. The claimant must satisfy this burden by a preponderance of the factual and medical evidence. Further, NRS 616B.612 mandates that an employee is only entitled to compensation if he is injured in the course and scope of his employment.

The claimant's injuries arose out of a personal dispute, rather than in the course of his employment. The facts are not disputed and are as follows: The claimant was working on a job site. He took it upon himself to go to another job site, where his former lead was working. He ascended a ladder, without any protective equipment, and confronted his old lead regarding a pay check. His former lead informed him that they would take care of it at the office. Claimant continued to argue and shout profanities at his former lead. His former lead's son, then became involved and pushed the claimant. The claimant fell off of the roof and sustained injury. Nothing within this fact pattern points to a compensable claim. The claimant was wrong in going to a different job site. The claimant was wrong for ascending a ladder without fall protection. The aggressor was wrong in pushing the claimant; however, there is absolutely nothing compensable about this incident.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that:

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work ... the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury ... a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment.

Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997). (emphasis added)

The same Court further stated that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers/employers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." (Id.)

Here, the claimant was involved in a personal dispute with a co-worker and the injuries did not arise from the Employer's business or the claimant's job. The claimant clearly has not established that the injury occurred within the course and scope of his employment, as he was not acting on behalf of the Employer when he verbally assaulted his former lead and another co-worker pushed him, causing injury. What is clear is that this incident had nothing to do with his work duties. It was clearly a personal matter between him and the co-worker. The fact that claimant was injured after he verbally assaulted his former lead, does not make this a compensable injury arising out of and in the course and scope of his employment. Conversely, claimant cannot be rewarded for his behavior that was clearly outside of the scope of his employment and not in furtherance his Employer's business.

VIS 28

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that an employee who is injured in the course of his work by the insane act of a fellow employee sustains injury which does not arise out of employment. Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969); Corrao Const. Co. v. Curtis, 94 Nev. 569 (1978); Outboard Marine Corp. v. Schupbach, 93 Nev. 158 (1977).

The Cummings decision went further and adopted the general rule that injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity are not compensable. (Id.) (Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956).

Larson's treatise on worker's compensation also speaks to this issue:

When the animosity or dispute that culminates in an assault is imported into the employment from claimant's domestic or private life, the assault does not arise out of the employment under any test.

3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, §11.21(a) (emphasis added).

Larson cites to a number of cases which are helpful in adjudicating the matter before this Court. In City of Atlanta v. Shaw, 345 S.E.2d 642 (1986), an employee sought benefits for an injury sustained during a fight with a fellow employee. The fight concerned the use of the employer's telephone. In reaching the conclusion that the claim was non-compensable, the Georgia court focused on the history of personal animosity.

Further, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005):

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work. In other words, the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury. Further, a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment. However, if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the claimant's employment. Finally, resolving whether an injury arose out of employment is examined by a totality of the circumstances.

The Court in Rio Suite Hotel & Casino v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 605 939 P2d. 1043 (1997) held that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." The Court concluded by stating, "The requirements of 'arising out of and in the course of employment' make it clear that a claimant must establish more than being at work and suffering an injury in order to recover."

The Court in Rio All Suite Hotel and Casino v. Phillips, 126 Nev. _, 240 P.3d 2 (2010) clarified Mitchell. It indicated that:

The appeals officer found that Phillips' case was 'distinguishable' from Mitchell because Phillips' injury did not result from an 'unexplained fall.' Without elaborating, the appeals officer also stated that '[t]he Mitchell [c]ourt mentions the inherent dangerousness of stairways.' . . . [The Court in Rio further discussed Mitchell: "The employee argued that because she did not have a health affliction that caused her to fall and 'because staircases are inherently dangerous,' her injury "arose out of her employment." . . . The appeals officer determined that the employee's fall did not arise out of her employment, and the district court denied her petition for judicial review."... [Our finding in Mitchell was that] "[T]he employee must show that 'the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment . . . thus, because the [Mitchell] employee could not explain how the conditions of her employment caused her to fall . . . we determined that the appeals officer correctly concluded that she failed to demonstrate the requisite 'causal connection.

There is simply now showing at this time that there is any origin of injury related to some risk within the scope of employment, given the personal nature of the dispute between the claimant and his co-worker. The Hearing Officer incorrectly concluded that the injury occurred within the course and scope of the employment. The case law does not support this conclusion, nor was the case law even addressed by the Hearing Officer. The claimant had no right to approach a job site, in which he was not working on, ascend a ladder without safety equipment, and begin verbally assaulting his former supervisor and/or co-worker(s). The act that followed, though unfortunate, from a legal perspective is certainly nothing that arose from the employment. The personal dispute and corresponding injury among co-workers is not compensable. The claim was properly denied. CONCLUSION Based upon the foregoing points and authorities, it is clear that the claimant has failed to meet his burden of establishing an entitlement to an accepted claim. WHEREFORE, the Insurer, FOCUS PLUMBING, respectfully requests that the Appeals Officer provide the following relief: 1. That the Appeals Officer reverse the Hearing Officer's Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, which reversed and remanded Insurer's March 6, 2017 determination to deny the claim.

Dear Martin Perez:

We are in receipt of your claim for the above-mentioned date of injury. Based on the information submitted to this office, your claim for date of injury of 12/30/2016 does not meet the requirements set forth in chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, and 617, of NRS. The reason for denial is based on the following reasons and statutory authorities. The accident and/or injury described does not meet statutory requirements. We are unable to substantiate that your injury "arose out of and in the course and scope of your employment." Based on medical information submitted, it has been determined that the primary cause of your current disability is your pre-existing non-industrial condition, and that it has been established by a preponderance of the evidence that the injury and/or accident described is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition.

NRS 616A030 defines an "Accident" as "...an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury," and/or as an "Injury" or "Personal Injury" as defined by NRS 616A.265 was "...a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature, producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence, including injuries to prosthetic devices ..."

NRS 616C.150 provides that an injured employee or his dependents are not entitled to receive compensation pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D of the Nevada Revised Statutes unless the employee or his dependents establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the employee's injury arose out of and in the course of his employment. For the purposes of chapters 616A to 616D of the Nevada Revised Statutes, there is a rebuttal presumption if the employee files a notice of an injury pursuant to NRS 616C.015 after his employment is terminated for any reason.

NRS 616C.175(1) provides that if an employee has a preexisting condition from a cause or origin that did not arise out of or in the course of his current or past employment; and he subsequently sustains an injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment which aggravates, precipitates or accelerates his preexisting condition, the resulting injury shall be deemed to be an injury by accident that is compensable pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive of NRS, unless the insurer can prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the subsequent injury is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition.

If you should have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

If you disagree with this determination, you may file the enclosed "Request for Hearing" form with the Department of Administration, Hearing Officer at the address listed on the form, within seventy (70) days from the date of this determination. ## STATE OF NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION HEARINGS DIVISION

In the matter of the Contested Industrial Insurance Claim of:

Hearing Number: 1710955-MT Claim Number: 2016-0022

MARTIN DURAN PEREZ 3555 E LAKE MEAD BLVD #147 LAS VEGAS, NV 89115 FOCUS PLUMBLING 1220 S COMMERCE ST STE 120 LAS VEGAS, NV 89102

The Claimant's request for hearing was filed on March 22, 2017 and a hearing was scheduled for MAY 25, 2017. The hearing was held on MAY 25, 2017, in accordance with Chapters 616 and 617 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

The Claimant was present. The Claimant was represented by JACOB LEAVITT ESQ. The Employer was not present. The Employer and the Administrator were represented by DANIEL SCHWARTZ ESQ.

ISSUE

The Claimant appealed the determination of FOCUS PLUMBLING dated March 6, 2017.

The issue before the Hearing Officer is claim denial.

DECISION AND ORDER

The determination of the Insurer is hereby REVERSED/REMANDED.

Counsel and Claimant represent that on December 30, 2016, the Claimant had an issue with his paycheck being short so went over to where his supervisor was to discuss this; his supervisor at the time was up on a roof with his son. An argument pursued and the supervisor's son pushed the Claimant off the roof, approximately 10 to 12 feet. They are seeking Workers Compensation benefits.

In reviewing all evidence submitted, and taking into consideration the representations as depicted above, it is clear that an injury has occurred within the course and scope of the Claimant's employment, the Employer being notified timely, medical treatment sought timely, and the initial examining physician causally connecting all diagnosed conditions to this fall. The issue the Claimant had and pursued clarification by his direct supervisor is in fact considered work-related; records indicate the Claimant was not tied officer properly. Upon getting up on the roof; however, had the Claimant not been pushed as purported, this injury may not have occurred. The determination of the Insurer is hereby deemed improper and reversed. The Insurer is hereby remanded to accept this claim for benefits accordingly. NRS 6168.030, NRS 6168.265, NRS 616C.138, NRS 616C.150 (1)

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The present appeal stems from a June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer's Decision and Order, Hearing No. 1710955-MT, which reversed and remanded Insurer's March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit pp. 63-65.)

The claimant, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "claimant"), alleges that he was pushed off of the roof on December 30, 2016. The claimant was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The claimant was taken off of work. (Exhibit p. 1)

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the claimant went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (Exhibit p. 2)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (Exhibit pp. 3-4)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the claimant was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The claimant climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor, tied off. The claimant started yelling at Pedro and Pedro stated that they could fix the problem the following Tuesday at the office. However, the discussion with the two got "elevated." Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when the Pedro's son asked the claimant to stop, the claimant allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the claimant and pushed him away and the claimant eventually fell off of the roof. (Exhibit pp. 5-9)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the claimant, at 5:00 came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the claimant to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (Exhibit pp. 10-11)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (Exhibit pp. 12-

Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man working 1 2 on the second floor pushed the claimant who fell off of roof after a discussion between the parties. 3 (Exhibit pp. 14-17) 4 A statement from the claimant indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the roof. (Exhibit p. 7 18) 8 An Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the claimant. 9 (Exhibit pp. 19-20) 10 A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (Exhibit p. 21) 11 The claimant was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot fall 12 after being pushed off of a roof. The claimant was transferred out of the Emergency Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8th rib fracture. X-rays of the left shoulder 13 14 revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain revealed a subdural hematoma, and 15 a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other 16 diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (Exhibit pp. 22-56) 17 A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017(Exhibit pp. 57-59) 18 On March 21, 2017, the claimant appealed the claim denial determination. (Exhibit p. 19 60) 20 On March 30, 2017, the adjuster denied March 21, 2017, requests for 1) TTD beginning on December 30, 2016, to present and 2) request for transfer of care to Dr. Garber. (Exhibit 21 pp. 61-62) 22 23 Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit pp. 63-25 65.) The Insurer has filed a timely appeal along with a Motion for Stay. An Opposition was 26 filed by the claimant. This Reply Brief follows. 27 28 111

LEWIS BRISBOIS BISGAARD & SMITH LLP ATIORNEYS AT LAW

ARGUMENT

The Insurer Has Proven the Elements Necessary for a Stay

In his Opposition, the claimant ignores the very crux of Insurer's argument; that the injury did not arise out of nor was it in the course and scope of claimant's employment. The claimant's behavior, which led to an unfortunate result, was not in furtherance of his Employer's objectives and quite frankly, was in direct contravention of same. Claimant was on the clock on a different job site, supposedly working. He took it upon himself to go to another job to confront his former supervisor regarding his pay. NOTHING about these facts indicate that the claimant was in the course and scope of his employment when he was injured. Further, and even more important, but ignored by claimant, is the fact that the incident that caused claimant's injury had nothing to do with his employment. There is no causal connection between the claimant's employment and a co-worker pushing him from a rooftop due to some personal dispute. Again, the Nevada Supreme Court has held that an employee who is injured in the course of his work by the insane act of a fellow employee sustains injury which does not arise out of employment. Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969); Corrao Const. Co. v. Curtis, 94 Nev. 569 (1978); Outboard Marine Corp. v. Schupbach, 93 Nev. 158 (1977).

The Cummings decision went further and adopted the general rule that injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity are not compensable. (Id.) (Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956).

Larson's treatise on worker's compensation also speaks to this issue:

When the animosity or dispute that culminates in an assault is imported into the employment from claimant's domestic or private life, the assault does not arise out of the employment under any test.

3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, §11.21(a) (emphasis added).

Larson cites to a number of cases which are helpful in adjudicating the matter before this Court. In City of Atlanta v. Shaw, 345 S.E.2d 642 (1986), an employee sought benefits for an injury sustained during a fight with a fellow employee. The fight concerned the use of the employer's telephone. In reaching the conclusion that the claim was non-compensable, the Georgia court focused on the history of personal animosity. The claimant did not attempt to refute any of the underlying argument within his Opposition. Instead, the claimant focuses on irrelevant facts such as a "criminal history" for which a brief review will show that there was exactly ONE prior offense. Nonetheless, this is of no effect with regard to the instant claim. The claimant was injured due to actions of another employee. Period. Claimant's injury did not arise out of his employment nor was he in the course and scope of his employment when the incident occurred. The Insurer has established a strong likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the appeal and therefore, a Stay is proper.

Lastly, with regard to irreparable harm, Insurer asserts that only it will be irreparably harmed if this Stay is not granted. Claimant will receive whatever treatment and benefits he is entitled to, should he somehow prevail on the merits of the appeal. The Insurer, conversely, cannot recoup the time, resources and money expended, even if it prevails on the merits of its appeal.

Insurer has established both a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of the appeal and irreparable harm. As such, Insurer respectfully renews its request for a Stay in this matter, until the appeal can take place on the merits.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing points and authorities, the Insurer, FOCUS PLUMBING, respectfully submits that it has established good cause to grant a Stay of the Hearing Officer's Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, particularly in light of the clear error of law and fact, which have been established above.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. STATEMENT OF FACTS

While in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer on December 30, 2016. Exh. at 1. Towards the end of the work shift, Claimant, went over to Pedro Rosales the foreman that he worked for the week prior to ask why his check did not reflect the hours that he worked the week he worked with Pedro. Pedro was working on the roof and Claimant went to speak with him. Id.

Pedro became agitated at Claimant for questioning the time that Pedro put down for Claimant's work the week prior and yelled at Claimant. Pedro's son a known violent person with an extensive history of domestic violence as evidence on pages 61-69 of Claimant's evidence packet, (and not disputed by Employer) was also not part of Claimant's conversation with Pedro, came over and pushed Claimant off of the roof. Id.

Claimant fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Traumatic subdural hematoma 3) Possible right 8th rib fracture 4) Musculoskeletal chest pain" as the initial hospital diagnosis. Id. at 8. The CT scan revealed that the subdural hematoma measures to be 7mm. Id.

The x-rays of the thoracic reveal that Claimant may have sustained subtle fractures at the 8th rib.

Id. at 24.

Focus Plumbing apparently feels that it is above the and only after several letters and calls does it feel it time to issue a Claim Denial on March 6, 2017, to which a DIR Complaint has been filed. Id. at 43. Clearly, Employer fails to follow the law and has a pattern of poor behavior by employing persons with an unequivocal criminal and violent past placing its employees in danger. Moreover, Employer's determination is a generic, or vanilla, claim denial without meaning alleging that the traumatic brain injury to be preexisting, specifically the claim denial state "[b]ased on medical information submitted, it has been determined that the primary cause of your current disability is your pre-existing non-industrial condition." Really? Obviously, Ms. Pizano is failed to the read medical records and see the word "traumatic" and understand its meaning, or, the more plausible scenario here, is she finally figured out that she ought to comply with the laws governing workers' compensation and issue some sort of acceptance or denial. Again, bad behavior on the part of someone who is over the handling of injured workers' claims.

This matter was investigated by Las Vegas Metropolitan Police wherein the assailant, Jose M. Rosales, was arrested and placed into custody—NOT CLAIMANT. Id. at 60-61. A warrant was issued by the Judge for Jose the assailant's arrest on February 27, 2017. Id. at 63. Jose the assailant surrendered on March 27, 2017, and posted $3,000.00 bond the same day. Id. Jose the assailant did not appear for the initial arraignment and his counsel requested to exonerate the bond of which Judge Bateman rightfully denied. Id.

On May 2, 2017, Jose the assailant was held on custody for the preliminary hearing which he unconditionally waived and his case was transferred to the Eighth Judicial District Court because the charge is a felony. Id.

Jose the assailant, was charged with a felony for "Battery with substantial bodily harm." Id. at 62.

On May 3, 2017, Jose was arraigned. Id. at 64.

On May 17, 2017, Jose entered a plea of guilty before the Honorable Susan Johnson. Id. at 65. Jose's sentencing hearing was scheduled to be heard July 11, 2017. Id. at 66.

Of serious note, Jose not only is violent at work, but he also has a history of felony domestic violence and failure to follow court orders when he is given opportunities. Id. at 67-69.

A. EMPLOYER BEARS THE BURDEN TO PROVE THAT IT ENJOYS A LIKELIHOOD OF SUCCESS ON APPEAL A BURDEN IT CANNOT REASONABLY CARRY

First, Employer must prove that they enjoy a likelihood of success on appeal and, second, that they would be harmed more than Claimant if a Stay was denied. It must be clear, that Employer must meet both elements in order for a Stay to be granted not simply one or the other.

Employer relies upon unsworn statements, that are not percipient witnesses, other than Pedro whose statement is clearly biased as his statement would in fact be used against Jose the assailant, Pedro's son, both in the worker's compensation case and in his criminal case for sentencing. So to even try and consider Pedro's statement is not a viable legal option. The facts of the case are so clear that, Jose the assailant plead guilty in hopes for a lesser sentence on May 17, 2017. Clearly, every statement, including Pedro's is used for sentencing before the judge, thus making Pedro's statement tainted at best even when considering that Pedro needs to keep his employment when he knowingly allowed such a violent person, son or not, to work on the jobsite.

At hearing, the only person to testify, for both direct and cross was Claimant. Officer Trenkler heard testimony his testimony, reviewed the witness statements and found Claimant to be credible. Office Trnekler also heard the same arguments being made in the current motion for Stay as it is same as the hearing memorandum submitted at the time. She did not find the argument compelling as Employer attempts to note that Claimant was tied off on the roof when he was pushed off. The argument fails for two (2) reasons, first workers' compensation is a not fault system and second being tied off does not prevent a person from falling when being pushed off a roof, rather claimant would still have fallen and IF his lanyard opened he would have fallen to the length of the lanyard and stuck the building.

Again, Jose who was not part of the conversation, resorted to his history of violence and intentionally pushed Claimant off of the roof with an intent to cause serious bodily harm, as he has done in the past, specifically on 2016 in a felony domestic violence attack.

B. LEGAL STANDARD OF PROOF FOR A COMPENSABLE CLAIM, WHEREIN CLAIMANT MEETS THE REQUIREMENT

NRS 616C.150 only requires Claimant to demonstrate that she was injured within the course and scope of her employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. To make the point on preponderance, McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc., the Nevada Supreme Court states "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose. . .[r]ather 'preponderance of the evidence' merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence." 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).

Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Claimant must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred. NRS 616A.265 defines injury as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence.

NRS 616C.030 defines the term accident as an "unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault."

Case law, Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010). Suh as we have here, Employer has employed a person with a violent felony history which is actionable for negligent hiring and retention as recognized causes of action in Nevada. This is bellied in the fact the Jose's foreman, and Claimant's foreman the week prior, Pedro has intimate knowledge that his son has violent tendencies and a violent history placing Claimant and others directly in harm's way.

1. Course And Scope

a. Course and Scope

The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Claimant's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5.

Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. It seems apparent that Claimant was working at an assigned time, as Employer makes no argument to the contrary in the same construction housing complex. Claimant went to the house across the street to inquire with the foreman he worked with the week prior as to why his hours were not properly reflected which his pay and hours are indeed work related.

2. Accident

Accident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident' means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury."

Clearly Claimant did not anticipate being pushed off of a roof. Claimant wanted clarification for his hours from his foreman that he worked with as his pay is how he supports himself and family, and was pushed off by someone who was not a part of the conversation.

In the instant case, Claimant meets the statutory definition requirement.

3. Injury

Injury is defined in NRS 616A.265 as a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence."

Here, the C-4 doctor causally related the injury to the work place assault.

Employer bears the burden, because Claimant cannot prove a negative, under NRS 616C.175, that if it believes that Claimant has a prior condition, Employer, must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim as stated in the Claim Denial letter.

Claimant must prove three (3) things; course and scope, accident and injury by preponderance, 1 nothing more. Claimant suffered an injury causally related by the C-4 doctor related to being pushed off 2 of aroof by his foreman's violent son, Jose. Even if there was a pre-existing condition, which Claimant 3 contends there is not, the statutory requirement is met and the burden would then shift to Employer to 4 prove under NRS 616C.175, otherwise. 5 Clearly, the medical records from UMC noting all traumatic injuries meet the statutory. 6 CLAIMANT WILL SUFFER MORE HARM THAN INSURER C. 7 Here, granting of the Stay will continue to cause irreparable harm to Claimant, but not 8 Employer who has intentionally, by act of Pedro's knowledge, intentionally placed Claimant in harm's 9 way. In Kress v. Corey, the Nevada Supreme Court stated: 10 As a rule a supersedeas or stay should be granted . . . whenever...it is reasonably 11 necessary to protect appellant or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in the case of reversal, and it does not appear that appellee or defendant in error will 12 sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury in case of affirmance. 13 Kress, 65 Nev. at 17, 189 P.2d at 360. 14 Indeed it is Claimant in this case, not Employer, who will sustain the greatest harm in the event 15 that the instant stay is granted as it will serve its purpose of delaying medical treatment of a closed head 16 injury with a 7mm subdermal hematoma, fractured rib and even more tat has not been properly treated. 17 There is nothing more crippling and harmful than denying medical attention and care. Here, it is Insurer who bears the burden to this court to prove both elements, success on appeal 18 and that it will suffer more harm than Claimant. Claimant met his burden at the hearing with all the 19 20 same evidence being presented to this very court. 21 ////

Dear Martin Perez:

We are in receipt of your claim for the above-mentioned date of injury. Based on the information submitted to this office, your claim for date of injury of 12/30/2016 does not meet the requirements set forth in chapters of 516A to 616D, inclusive, and 617, of NRS. The reason for denial is based on the following reasons and to substantiate that your injury "arose out of and in the course and scope of your employment." Based on pre-existing non-industrial condition, and that it has been established by a preponderance of the evidence that the injury and/or accident described is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition. the injury and/or accident described is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition.

NRS 616A030 defines an "Accident" as "...an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury" and/or as an "Injury" or "Personal Injury" as defined by NRS 616A.265 was "...a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature, producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence, including injuries to prosthetic devices ..."

NRS 616C.150 provides that an injured employee or his dependents are not entitled to receive compensation pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D of the Nevada Revised Statutes unless the employee or his dependents establish by a preponderance of the evidence that the employee's injury arose out of and in the course of his employment. For the purposes of chapters 616A to 616D of the Nevada Revised Statutes, there is a rebuttal presumption if the employee files a notice of an injury pursuant to NRS 616C.015 after his employment is terminated for any reason.

ovides that if an employee has a preexisting condition from a cause or origin that in the course of his current or past employment; and he subsequently sustains an ing out of and in the course of his employment which aggravates, precipitates or ing condition, the resulting injury shall be deemed to be an injury by accident that ut to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive of NRS, unless the preponderance of the evidence that the subsequent injury is not a substantial resulting condition.

If you should have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

If you disagree with this determination, you may file the enclosed "Request for Hearing" form with the Department of Administration, Hearing Officer at the address listed on the form, within seventy (70) days from the date of this determination. Failure to file a timely request with the Department of Administration, Hearing Officer may result in an order dismissing your case.

Sincerely,

Patty Pizano, Claims Adjuster

The reason for denial is based on the following reasons and statutory authorities. The accident and/or injury described does not meet statutory requirements. We are unable to substantiate that your injury "arose out of and in the course and scope of your employment." Based on medical information submitted, it has been determined that the primary cause of your current disability is your pre-existing non-industrial condition, and that it has been established by a preponderance of the evidence that the injury and/or accident described is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition.

NRS 616A030 defines an "Accident" as "...an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury," and/or as an "Injury" or "Personal Injury" as defined by NRS 616A.265 was "...a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature, producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence, including injuries to prosthetic devices . . ."

For the purposes of chapters 616A to 616D of the Nevada Revised Statutes, there is a rebuttal presumption if the employee files a notice of an injury pursuant to NRS 616C.015 after his employment is terminated for any reason.

NRS 616C.175(1) provides that if an employee has a preexisting condition from a cause or origin that did not arise out of or in the course of his current or past employment; and he subsequently sustains an injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment which aggravates, precipitates or accelerates his preexisting condition, the resulting injury shall be deemed to be an injury by accident that is compensable pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive of NRS, unless the insurer can prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the subsequent injury is not a substantial contributing cause of the resulting condition. If you should have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

In the matter of the Contested Industrial Insurance Claim of:

Hearing Number: 1710955-MT Claim Number: 2016-0022

FOCUS PLUMBLING 1220 S COMMERCE ST STE 120 LAS VEGAS, NV 89102

The Claimant's request for hearing was filed on March 22, 2017 and a hearing was scheduled for MAY 25, 2017. The hearing was held on MAY 25, 2017, in accordance with Chapters 616 and 617 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

The Claimant was present. The Claimant was represented by JACOB LEAVITT ESQ. The Employer was not present. The Employer and the Administrator were represented by DANIEL SCHWARTZ ESQ.

ISSUE

The Claimant appealed the determination of FOCUS PLUMBLING dated March 6, 2017.

The issue before the Hearing Officer is claim denial.

DECISION AND ORDER

The determination of the Insurer is hereby REVERSED/REMANDED.

Counsel and Claimant represent that on December 30, 2016, the Claimant had an issue with his paycheck being short so went over to where his supervisor was to discuss this; his supervisor at the time was up on a roof with his son. An argument pursued and the supervisor's son pushed the Claimant off the roof, approximately 10 to 12 feet. They are seeking Workers Compensation benefits.

In reviewing all evidence submitted, and taking into consideration the representations as depicted above, it is clear that an injury has occurred within the course and scope of the Claimant's employment, the Employer being notified timely, medical treatment sought timely, and the initial examining physician causally connecting all diagnosed conditions to this fall. The issue the Claimant had and pursued clarification by his direct supervisor is in fact considered work-related; records indicate the Claimant was not tied officer properly. Upon getting up on the roof; however, had the Claimant not been pushed as purported, this injury may not have occurred. The determination of the Insurer is hereby deemed improper and reversed. The Insurer is hereby remanded to accept this claim for benefits accordingly. NRS 6168.030, NRS 6168.265, NRS 616C.138, NRS 616C.150 (1)

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

The present appeal stems from a June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer's Decision and Order, Hearing No. 1710955-MT, which reversed and remanded Insurer's March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit pp. 63-65.)

The claimant, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "claimant"), alleges that he was pushed off of the roof on December 30, 2016. The claimant was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The claimant was taken off of work. (Exhibit p. 1)

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the claimant went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (Exhibit p. 2)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (Exhibit pp. 3-4)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the claimant was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The claimant climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor, tied off. The claimant started yelling at Pedro and Pedro stated that they could fix the problem the following Tuesday at the office. However, the discussion with the two got "elevated." Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when the Pedro's son asked the claimant to stop, the claimant allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the claimant and pushed him away and the claimant eventually fell off of the roof. (Exhibit pp. 5-9)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the claimant, at 5:00 came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the claimant to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (Exhibit pp. 10-11)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (Exhibit pp.

2	Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man
3	working on the second floor pushed the claimant who fell off of roof after a discussion between
4	the parties. (Exhibit pp. 14-17)
5	A statement from the claimant indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was
6	working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then
7	states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the
8	roof. (Exhibit p. 18)
9	An Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the claimant.
10	(Exhibit pp. 19-20)
11	A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (Exhibit p.
12	21)
13	The claimant was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot
14	fall after being pushed off of a roof. The claimant was transferred out of the Emergency
15	Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8 th rib fracture. X-
16	rays of the left shoulder revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain
17	revealed a subdural hematoma, and a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue
18	swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (Exhibit pp. 22-
19	56)
20	A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017(Exhibit pp. 57-59)
21	On March 21, 2017, the claimant appealed the claim denial determination. (Exhibit

25	(Exhibit pp. 61-62)
26	Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and
27	Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit

4834-1747-7195.1 33947-19

Insurer has filed a timely appeal of this erroneous Decision and Order of the Hearing Officer ordering the claim accepted. Pending a hearing on the merits of its appeal, Insurer moves this Court for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision.

Jurisdiction

Subsection 3 of NRS 616C.345 provides in part that, "[t]he Appeals Officer may order a Stay, when appropriate, upon the application of a party."

The Hearing Officer Erred As a Matter of Law and of Fact

It is the claimant, not the Insurer, who has the burden of proving his case by a preponderance of all the evidence. State Indus. Ins. Sys. v. Hicks, 100 Nev. 567, 688 P.2d 324 (1984); Johnson v. State ex rel. Wyoming Worker's Comp. Div., 798 P.2d 323 (1990); Hagler v. Micron Tech., Inc., 118 Idaho 596, 798 P.2d 55 (1990).

In attempting to prove his case, the claimant has the burden of going beyond speculation and conjecture. That means that the claimant must establish all facets of the claim by a preponderance of all the evidence. To prevail, a claimant must present and prove more evidence than an amount which would make his case and his opponent's "evenly balanced." Maxwell v. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 849 P.2d 267 (1993); SIIS v. Khweiss, 108 Nev. 123, 825 P.2d 218 (1992); SIIS v. Kelly, 99 Nev. 774, 671 P.2d 29 (1983); 3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, §80.33(a).

NRS 616A.010(2) makes it clear that:

A claim for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, or chapter 617 of NRS must be decided on its merit and not according to the principle of common law that requires statutes governing workers' compensation to be liberally construed because they are remedial in nature.

The issue is whether the Hearing Officer erred in reversing the denial of this claim. The Insurer asserts that based upon the totality of the evidence presented, the Hearing Officer did so err. The incident did not arise out of nor was it in the course and scope of the claimant's employment.

Under NRS 616C.150(1), the claimant has the burden of proof to show that the injury arose out of and in the course and scope of his employment. The claimant must satisfy this burden by a preponderance of the factual and medical evidence. Further, NRS 616B.612 mandates that an employee is only entitled to compensation if he is injured in the course and scope of his employment.

The claimant's injuries arose out of a personal dispute, rather than in the course of his employment. The facts are not disputed and are as follows: The claimant was working on a job site. He took it upon himself to go to another job site, where his former lead was working. He ascended a ladder, without any protective equipment, and confronted his old lead regarding a pay check. His former lead informed him that they would take care of it at the office. Claimant continued to argue and shout profanities at his former lead. His former lead's son, then became involved and pushed the claimant. The claimant fell off of the roof and sustained injury. Nothing within this fact pattern points to a compensable claim. The claimant was out of line in going to a different job site. The claimant was out of line for ascending a ladder without fall protection. The aggressor was out of line in pushing the claimant; however, there is absolutely nothing compensable about this incident.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that:

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work ... the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury ... a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment.

Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997). (emphasis added)

The same Court further stated that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers/employers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." (Id.)

Here, the claimant was involved in a personal dispute with a co-worker and the injuries did not arise from the Employer's business or the claimant's job. The claimant clearly has not established that the injury occurred within the course and scope of his employment,

LEWIS

as he was not acting on behalf of the Employer when he verbally assaulted his former lead and 1 another co-worker pushed him, causing injury. What is clear is that this incident had nothing to 2 do with his work duties. It was clearly a personal matter between him and the co-worker. 3 The fact that claimant was injured due to his accosting his former lead, does not make this a 4 compensable injury arising out of and in the course and scope of his employment. Conversely, 5 claimant cannot be rewarded for his behavior that was clearly outside of the scope of his employment and not in furtherance, but actually in opposition of, his Employer's business. 7 The Nevada Supreme Court has repeatedly held that an employee who is 8 injured in the course of his work by the insane act of a fellow employee sustains injury which 9 does not arise out of employment. Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969); 10

Corrao Const. Co. v. Curtis, 94 Nev. 569 (1978); Outboard Marine Corp. v. Schupbach, 93 Nev. 158 (1977).

The Cummings decision went further and adopted the general rule that injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity are not compensable. (Id.) (Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956).

Larson's treatise on worker's compensation also speaks to this issue:

When the animosity or dispute that culminates in an assault is imported into the employment from claimant's domestic or private life, the assault does not arise out of the employment under any test.

3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, §11.21(a) (emphasis added).

Larson cites to a number of cases which are helpful in adjudicating the matter before this Court. In City of Atlanta v. Shaw, 345 S.E.2d 642 (1986), an employee sought benefits for an injury sustained during a fight with a fellow employee. The fight concerned the use of the employer's telephone. In reaching the conclusion that the claim was non-compensable, the Georgia court focused on the history of personal animosity.

Further, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005):

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work. In other words, the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury. Further, a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment. However, if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the claimant's employment. Finally, resolving whether an injury arose out of employment is examined by a totality of the circumstances.

The Court in Rio Suite Hotel & Casino v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 605 939 P2d. 1043 (1997) held that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." The Court concluded by stating, "The requirements of 'arising out of and in the course of employment' make it clear that a claimant must establish more than being at work and suffering an injury in order to recover."

The Court in Rio All Suite Hotel and Casino v. Phillips, 126 Nev. _, 240 P.3d 2 (2010) clarified Mitchell. It indicated that:

The appeals officer found that Phillips' case was 'distinguishable' from Mitchell because Phillips' injury did not result from an 'unexplained fall.' Without elaborating, the appeals officer also stated that '[t]he Mitchell [c]ourt mentions the inherent dangerousness of stairways.' . . . [The Court in Rio further discussed Mitchell: "The employee argued that because she did not have a health affliction that caused her to fall and 'because staircases are inherently dangerous,' her injury "arose out of her employment." ... The appeals officer determined that the employee's fall did not arise out of her employment, and the district court denied her petition for judicial review."... [Our finding in Mitchell was that] "[T]he employee must show that 'the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment . . . thus, because the [Mitchell] employee could not explain how the conditions of her employment caused her to fall . . . we determined that the appeals officer correctly concluded that she failed to demonstrate the requisite 'causal connection.

There is simply now showing at this time that there is any origin of injury related to some risk within the scope of employment, given the personal nature of the dispute between the claimant and his co-worker. The Hearing Officer incorrectly concluded that the injury occurred within the course and scope of the employment. The case law does not support this conclusion, nor was the case law even addressed by the Hearing Officer. The claimant had no right to approach a job site, in which he was not working on, ascend a ladder without safety equipment, and begin verbally assaulting his former supervisor and/or co-worker(s). The act that followed, though unfortunate, is certainly nothing that arose from the employment. The personal dispute and corresponding injury among co-workers is not compensable. The claim was properly denied and the Hearing Officer's reversal of same is arbitrary, capricious and against the weight of the evidence.

Based on the evidence available, the Employer submits that it has a strong likelihood of prevailing on the merits. Accordingly, a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision and order is appropriate until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of the Employer's underlying appeal.

The Hearing Officer's decision is blatantly arbitrary and capricious and against the weight of the evidence and the case law cited above. Accordingly, a Stay of the Hearing Officer's Decision and Order is appropriate until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of Insurer's underlying appeal.

Insurer is the Only Party that Will Suffer Any Harm

In DIR v. Circus Circus, 101 Nev. 405, 411-12, 705 P.2d 645, 649 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court stated that an Insurer/Employer's proper procedure when aggrieved by a decision is to seek a Stay. The Nevada Supreme Court has also recognized that a Stay should be granted where it can be shown that the appellant would suffer irreparable injury during the pendency of the appeal, if the Stay is not granted. White Pine Power v. Public Serv. Comm'n, 76 Nev. 263, 252 P.2d 256 (1960). The Supreme Court elaborated upon this requirement in Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 189 P.2d 352 (1948):

As a rule a supersedes or stay should be granted whenever it appears that without it the object of the appeal or writ of error may be defeated or that it is reasonably necessary to protect appellant or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in the case of reversal and it does not appear that appellee or defendant in error will sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury in case of affirmance. 65 Nev. at 17.

The Nevada Supreme Court held, in Ransier v. SIIS, 104 Nev. 742, 766 P.2d 274 (1988), that an Insurer/Employer may not seek recoupment of benefits paid to a claimant that were later found to be unwarranted on appeal. The Ransier decision has not been overruled or reversed. Thus, a Stay is the only method of preventing a burdensome and unnecessary cost to the Insurer pending an appeal.

In the present case, the issue is the reversal of claim denial, in spite of clear evidence in support of that denial. Without this Stay, the Insurer must comply with the erroneous Decision, accept the claim and begin administering benefits. Once benefits and medical treatment have been provided and paid for, said costs cannot be recovered by Insurer, even if it prevails in its appeal. Claimant will receive all appropriate treatment and benefits (with interest) if he prevails on the merits. Therefore, there is no harm to claimant if the Stay is granted.

If this Court elects to deny this Motion, the underlying appeal will be rendered moot, as the Insurer will be forced to accept and administer the claim without claimant having to meet his legal burden of proof. Thus, a denial of Stay would have the effect of denying Insurer the opportunity to contest the Hearing Officer's Decision.

Therefore, it is clear that under these facts, Insurer is the only party that will suffer irreparable harm if a Stay is denied. Accordingly, a Stay of the Hearing Officer's Decision is appropriate until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of Insurer's appeal.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing points and authorities, Insurer, FOCUS PLUMBING, respectfully submits that it has established good cause to grant a Stay of the Hearing Officer's Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, particularly in light of the clear error of law and fact, which have been established above.

WHEREFORE, Insurer, FOCUS PLUMBING, respectfully requests that the Appeals Officer grant its Motion for Stay Pending Appeal until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of the underlying appeal.

STATE OF NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATION HEARINGS DIVISION

Hearing Number: 1710955-MT Claim Number: 2016-0022

FOCUS PLUMBLING 1220 S COMMERCE ST STE 120 LAS VEGAS, NV 89102

The Claimant's request for hearing was filed on March 22, 2017 and a hearing was scheduled for MAY 25, 2017. The hearing was held on MAY 25, 2017, in accordance with Chapters 616 and 617 of the Nevada Revised Statutes.

The Claimant was present. The Claimant was represented by JACOB LEAVITT ESQ. The Employer was not present. The Employer and the Administrator were represented by DANIEL SCHWARTZ ESQ.

ISSUE

The Claimant appealed the determination of FOCUS PLUMBLING dated March 6, 2017.

The issue before the Hearing Officer is claim denial.

DECISION AND ORDER

The determination of the Insurer is hereby REVERSED/REMANDED.

Counsel and Claimant represent that on December 30, 2016, the Claimant had an issue with his paycheck being short so went over to where his supervisor was to discuss this; his supervisor at the time was up on a roof with his son. An argument pursued and the supervisor's son pushed the Claimant off the roof, approximately 10 to 12 feet. They are seeking Workers Compensation benefits.

In reviewing all evidence submitted, and taking into consideration the representations as depicted above, it is clear that an injury has occurred within the course and scope of the Claimant's employment, the Employer being notified timely, medical treatment sought timely, and the initial examining physician causally connecting all diagnosed conditions to this fall. The issue the Claimant had and pursued clarification by his direct supervisor is in fact considered work-related; records indicate the Claimant was not tied officer properly. Upon getting up on the roof; however, had the Claimant not been pushed as purported, this injury may not have occurred. The determination of the Insurer is hereby deemed improper and reversed. The Insurer is hereby remanded to accept this claim for benefits accordingly. NRS 6168.030, NRS 6168.265, NRS 616C.138, NRS 616C.150 (1)

IT IS SO ORDERED this __day of June, 2017

FINDING OF FACTS

- 1. On December 30, 2016, Claimant suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. Claimant was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. On December 30, 2016 Claimant went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Claimant climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Claimant was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Claimant off of the roof. Claimant fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Traumatic subdutal hematoma 3) Possible right 8th rib fracture 4) Musculoskeletal chest pain" as the initial hospital diagnosis. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, Claimant credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales.
- 2. On December 30, 2016, Claimant underwent CT scans of the chest, abdomen, thoracic spine and lumbar spine.
- 3. On December 31, 2016, Claimant had an x-ray performed on his shoulder and a CT scan of his brain. In addition, Claimant underwent an MRI of his cervical.
- 4. On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Claimant's claim.
- 5. On March 20, 2017, Claimant appealed Employer's claim denial determination.
- 6. On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination.
- 7. On June 30, 2017, Employer appealed Hearing Officer Trenkler's Decision and Order and filed a Motion for Stay Pending Appeal.
- 8. On July 17, 2017, Claimant filed an Opposition to Motion For Stay Pending Appeal.
- 9. On August 2, 2017, Employer's Motion for Stay was granted.
- 10. After consideration of the totality of the evidence presented in this case and the arguments of counsel, I find as follows:

- a. I find that Claimant was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead me to conclude the claim is compensable. The decision of the Hearing Officer is proper and AFFIRMED.
- b. This is not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. There is a clear indication that the work issue (short paycheck) was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)]. As such Glaimant is entitled to all appropriate benefits.
- c. These Findings of Fact are based upon substantial evidence within the record.

  11. If any finding of fact is more appropriately deemed a conclusion of law it shall be so deemed, or vice versa.

CONCLUSION OF LAW

- 1. Nevada Revised Statutes ("NRS") 616C.150 only requires Claimant to demonstrate that he was injured within the course and scope of his employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose... [r]ather preponderance of the evidence merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence." McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc. 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).
- 2. Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Claimant must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred.
- 3. Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010).
- 4. The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Claimant's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5: Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. Here, Claimant was working at an assigned time and scheduled to be in the same construction housing complex. Claimant went to the house across the street to inquire with the foreman that he worked with the week prior as to why his hours were not properly reflected. His pay and hours are indeed work related. The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. Claimant was on the job when this incident occurred, and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck).

- 5. Actident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident" means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury." Clearly, Claimant did not anticipate being pushed off of a roof by anyone let alone someone who was not a part of the conversation. Claimant wanted clarification for his hours from the foreman he worked with for the subject pay period. In the instant case, Claimant meets the statutory requirement of accident.
- 6 Injury is defined in NRS 616A-265 as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence. Here, the initial treating physician who completed the Form C-4 causally related the injury to the work place incident Employer bears, the burden under NRS 616C-175 if it believes Claimant has a prior condition. Employer must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim.

1 ORDER 2 Therefore, after considering the totality of the evidence presented in Appeal 3. 1714955-CJY IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Hearing Officer's decision in June 1, 4 2017 is hereby AFFIRMED and the Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination. 5 is REVERSED. 6 7 Dated this 8 APPEALS OFFICER 9 10 11 ARLES J. #### STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

Petitioners timely appealed the erroneous May 3, 2018 Decision and Order of the Appeals Officer in the underlying workers' compensation administrative appeal. The Appeals Officer erroneously ruled that Respondent had proven that he was entitled to an accepted claim for workers' compensation benefits. See Exhibit A attached hereto.

On December 30, 2016, a C-4 form was completed which alleged that the Respondent, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "Respondent"), was injured when he was pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The Respondent was taken off of work. (Exhibit p. 1)

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the Respondent went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (Exhibit p. 2)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (Exhibit pp. 3-4)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the Respondent was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The Respondent climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor. Pedro was tied off with safety gear but Respondent was not. The discussion with the two got "elevated." Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when Pedro's son asked the Respondent to stop, the Respondent allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the Respondent and pushed him away and the Respondent eventually fell off of the roof. (Exhibit pp. 5-9)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the Respondent came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the Respondent to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (Exhibit pp. 10-11)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (Exhibit pp. 12-13)

Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man working on the second floor pushed the Respondent who fell off of roof after a discussion between the parties. (Exhibit pp. 14-17)

A statement from the Respondent indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the roof. (Exhibit p. 18)

An Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the Respondent. (Exhibit pp. 19-20)

A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (Exhibit p. 21)

The Respondent was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot fall after being pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was transferred out of the Emergency Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8th rib fracture. X-rays of the left shoulder revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain revealed a subdural hematoma, and a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (Exhibit pp. 22-56)

A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017. (Exhibit pp. 57-59)

On March 21, 2017, the Respondent appealed the claim denial determination. (Exhibit p. 60)

On March 30, 2017, the adjuster denied March 21, 2017, requests for 1) TTD beginning on December 30, 2016, to present and 2) request for transfer of care to Dr. Garber. (Exhibit pp. 61-62)

Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (Exhibit pp. 63-65.) Insurer filed a timely appeal. (Exhibit p. 66.) In addition, the Insurer filed a Motion for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted. (Exhibit p. 68.)

On February 9, 2018, this case came on for hearing before the Appeals Officer. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Respondent's brother-in-law; and two safety directors for Employer (Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza). Of note, Respondent testified that, on the day in question, he was working on a house under the supervision of a crew leader named Francisco. On that day, Respondent received a check for the work he had done the previous week when he was working for a different crew leader, Pedro. (Exhibit pp. 75-76; 79-81) Respondent believed that his paycheck was low and testified that he went to Pedro to discuss his paycheck. Respondent testified that he did not speak with Mr. Pao on that day. Respondent testified that he left the job site that he was working on, walked three houses down to where Pedro was, climbed a ladder to get to Pedro, did not attach any sort of safety measures to himself, and spent at least ten (10) minutes talking to Pedro on the second floor of a house frame. Respondent also testified that no one that house frame was wearing safety measures. After about ten (10) minutes of discussion, Pedro's son climbed the ladder and pushed Respondent off the house.

The brother-in-law (Eduardo Leon) was also working on the job site but his testimony did not add anything worth noting to this case.

Mr. Pao, a safety director for Employer, testified that, on the day in question, he was on the job site prior to the incident and testified that he and Mr. Mendoza (the other safety director) spoke with Respondent about his check. Mr. Pao testified as follows

NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, [Respondent] brought it to our attention that there was a discrepancy on his paycheck from Pedro. We had basically told him, at the end of the day, take it to the office and Lucy would get that corrected.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: At that point in time, when you were having this conversation with him, would Pedro have had any ability to do anything with that paycheck?

NICHOLAS PAO: No. He couldn't have done nothing. He could've maybe made a phone call and told Lucy to get the check corrected, but as far as him cutting a check for him, no.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, your—your—I don't want to say advice, but what you told Mr. Duran-Perez, concerning the paycheck was to go to the office.

NICHOLAS PAO: Go to the office at the end of the day. Yeah.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And then did you leave the jobsite?

27

1	NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.
3	(Exhibit p. 101:6-24)
4	Mr. Pao also testified that, contrary to Respondent's testimony, Pedro was in fact wearing
5	a safety harness. (Exhibit p. 103; 104-105) Further, Mr. Pao explained the check payment process.
6	Crew leaders (like Pedro and Francisco) keep track of their subordinate's hours and turn those
7	hours into a foreman and the foreman turns the hours into payroll and payroll issues checks.
8	(Exhibit p. 104) He reiterated that a foreman would not be able to do anything with a check after it
9	was cut.
10	Mr. Mendoza corroborated Mr. Pao's testimony as he helped translate for Mr. Pao on that
11	day.
12	On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order reversing
13	claim denial. Of note, the Decision and Order makes no mention whatsoever of any of the
14	testimony given. Nor does it comment on the credibility of any witness. (Exhibit A)
15	Petitioners timely filed the instant Petition for Judicial Review and hereby request a stay of
16	the Appeals Officer's erroneous decision.
17	POINTS & AUTHORITIES
18	II.
19	JURISDICTION
20	NRS 233B.140 provides this Court with authority to hear the instant Motion for Stay:
21	1. A petitioner who applies for a stay of the final decision in a
22	contested case shall file and serve a written motion for the stay on the agency and all parties of record to the proceeding at the time of
23	filing the petition for judicial review.
<ul><li>24</li><li>25</li></ul>	2. In determining whether to grant a stay, the court shall consider the same factors as are considered for a preliminary injunction under Rule 65 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure.
26	3. In making a ruling, the court shall:
27	(a) Give deference to the trier of fact; and
28	(b) Consider the risk to the public, if any, of staying the administrative decision.

4842-1133-1174.1 motion for stay pending appeal and request for order shortening time 33947-19

1	The petitioner must provide security before the court may issue a stay.
2	For reference, NRCP Rule 65 provides in pertinent part as follows:
3	(a) Preliminary injunction.
4	(1) Notice. No preliminary injunction shall be issued without notice to the adverse party.
5	(2) Consolidation of hearing with trial on merits. Before or after the commencement of the hearing of an application for
6	a preliminary injunction, the court may order the trial of the action on the merits to be advanced and consolidated with the
7	hearing of the application. Even when this consolidation is not ordered, any evidence received upon an application for a
8	preliminary injunction which would be admissible upon the trial on the merits becomes part of the record on the trial and
9	need not be repeated upon the trial. This subdivision (a)(2) shall be so construed and applied as to save to the parties any
10	rights they may have to trial by jury (d) Form and scope of injunction or restraining order. Every order
11	granting an injunction and every restraining order shall set forth the reasons for its issuance; shall be specific in terms; shall describe in
12	reasonable detail, and not by reference to the complaint or other document, the act or acts sought to be restrained; and is binding only
13	upon the parties to the action, their officers, agents, servants, employees, and attorneys, and upon those persons in active concert
14	or participation with them who receive actual notice of the order by personal service or otherwise.
15	III.
16	LEGAL ARGUMENT
17	A.
18	Standard Of Review
19	The standard for granting a stay was enunciated in the case of Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev.
20	16-17, 189 P.2d 352, 360 (1948) as follows:
21	an order for a supersedeas or stay will only be granted on good
22	cause shown and where a proper case for exercise of the court's discretion is made out. As a rule a supersedeas or stay should be
23	granted, if the court has the power to grant it, [1] whenever it appears that without it the object of the appeal or writ of error may
24	be defeated, or [2] that it is reasonably necessary to protect Petitioner or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in
25	the case of reversal, and [3] it does not appear that appellee or defendant in error will sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury,
26	in case of affirmance on the other hand, as a rule, a supersedeas or stay will not be granted unless it appears to be necessary to prevent
27	irreparable injury or a miscarriage of justice. (citations removed)(numeration added)

A party requesting a stay must also prove a reasonable likelihood of success on the merits. Success on the merits for Petitions for Judicial review of a final decision of an agency is governed by NRS 233B.135 as follows:

NRS 233B.135 Judicial review: Manner of conducting; burden of proof; standard for review.

- 1. Judicial review of a final decision of an agency must be: (a) Conducted by the court without a jury; and (b) Confined to the record. In cases concerning alleged irregularities in procedure before an agency that are not shown in the record, the court may receive evidence concerning the irregularities.
- 2. The final decision of the agency shall be deemed reasonable and lawful until reversed or set aside in whole or in part by the court. The burden of proof is on the party attacking or resisting the decision to show that the final decision is invalid pursuant to subsection 3.
- 3. The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the agency as to the weight of evidence on a question of fact. The court may remand or affirm the final decision or set it aside in whole or in part if substantial rights of the petitioner have been prejudiced because the final decision of the agency is:
  - (a) In violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
  - (b) In excess of the statutory authority of the agency;
  - (c) Made upon unlawful procedure;
  - (d) Affected by other error of law;
  - (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record; or
  - (f) Arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion.

The standard of review is whether there is substantial evidence to support the underlying decision. The reviewing court should limit its review of administrative decisions to determine if they are based upon substantial evidence. North Las Vegas v. Public Service Common, 83 Nev. 278, 291, 429 P.2d 66 (1967); McCracken v. Fancy, 98 Nev. 30, 639 P.2d 552 (1982). Substantial evidence is that quantity and quality of evidence which a reasonable man would accept as adequate to support a conclusion. See, Maxwell v. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 331, 849 P.2d 267, 270 (1993); and Horne v. State Indus. Ins. Sys., 113 Nev. 532, 537, 936 P.2d 839 (1997).

When reviewing administrative decisions, this Court has held that, on factual determinations, the findings and ultimate decisions of an agency are not to be disturbed unless they are clearly erroneous or otherwise amount to an abuse of discretion. Nevada Industrial Common v. Reese, 93 Nev. 115, 560 P.2d 1352 (1977).

An administrative determination regarding a question of fact will not be set aside unless it is against the manifest weight of the evidence. Nevada Indus. Common v. Hildebrand, 100 Nev. 47, 51, 675 P.2d 401 (1984).

B.

An Order Granting Stay is Appropriate Until this Appeal is Heard and Decided on its Merits

The Nevada Supreme Court has consistently held that a stay is appropriate under circumstances such as those that exist in the instant case. Kress, Id. In DIR v. Circus Circus, 101 Nev. 405, 411-12, 705 P.2d 645, 649 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court stated that an insurer's proper procedure when aggrieved by a decision is to seek a stay. The Nevada Supreme Court has also recognized that a stay should be granted where it can be shown that the Petitioner would suffer irreparable injury during the pendency of the appeal, if the stay is not granted. White Pine Power v. Public Service Commission, 76 Nev. 263, 252 P.2d 256 (1960).

The Nevada Supreme Court held, in Ransier v. SIIS, 104 Nev. 742, 766 P.2d 274 (1988), that an insurer may not seek recoupment of benefits paid to a Respondent that were later found to be unwarranted on appeal. However, it must be noted that NRS 616C.138 was recently modified to allow insurers to recover amounts paid during the pendency of an appeal "from a health or casualty insurer" if the insurer is found to be entitled to the same. However, if there is no health or casualty insurer, Ransier applies and insurers cannot recover anything at all. Here, just as in most cases, there is nothing to indicate whether Respondent has health or casualty insurance. Furthermore, under no circumstances could an insurer recover any wage replacement benefits such as temporary partial disability or temporary total disability benefits.

In the instant case, an order granting a Stay of the Appeals Officer decision is appropriate for the reasons set forth herein. As will be discussed in detail below, the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order reversing claim denial was issued under color of a legal error. Furthermore, and more relevant to this Motion for Stay proceeding, there is no known pending medical treatment for the Respondent. The only affect that Appeals Officer's Decision has is requiring Petitioners to issue retro-active benefits. Petitioners will submit to this Court that retro-active benefits can be issued at any time. However, once issued, they are unrecoverable.

This case is precisely the scenario in which a stay is appropriate. Petitioners have shown a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the instant appeal and Petitioners will be irreparably harmed if the instant motion is not granted. Accordingly, Petitioners contend that they have made the requisite showing for the granting of a stay of the Appeals Officer's decision until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of its appeal.

C.

Respondent Will Not Be Harmed By the Granting of a Stay

In the instant case, Respondent will not be harmed by the granting of this stay. There are no pending medical procedures which a Stay would prevent. The only issue would be retro-active benefits that Petitioners cannot recover. However, should Respondent succeed on this appeal, he will absolutely receive all benefits which are due to him. The only real harm to Respondent is that he would have to wait.

The only potential for irreparable harm is to Petitioners. Accordingly, Petitioners have again made the requisite showing for the granting of a stay of the Appeals Officer's decision until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of Petitioners' appeal.

Standard Regarding Merits of Underlying Appeal

As for the merits of the underlying appeal, it was the Respondent, not Petitioners, who had the burden of proving her entitlement to any benefits under any accepted industrial insurance claim by a preponderance of all the evidence. State Industrial Insurance System v. Hicks, 100 Nev. 567, 688 P.2d 324 (1984); Johnson v. State ex rel. Wyoming Worker's Compensation Div., 798 P.2d 323 (1990); Hagler v. Micron Technology, Inc., 118 Idaho 596, 798 P.2d 55 (1990).

In attempting to prove her case, the Respondent has the burden of going beyond speculation and conjecture. That means that the Respondent must establish all facets of the claim by a preponderance of all the evidence. To prevail, a Respondent must present and prove more evidence than an amount which would make her case and her opponent's "evenly balanced."

NRS 616A.010(2)makes it clear that:

A claim for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, or chapter 617 of NRS must be decided on its merit and not according to the principle of common law that requires statutes governing workers' compensation to be liberally construed because they are remedial in nature.

The Determination to Deny This Claim is Proper

Here, the issue is whether the Appeals Officer erred in ordering this claim denial reversed. Most importantly, Petitioners want to bring this Court's attention to the fact that the Appeals Officer's Decision does not even mention the copious amount of testimony taken in this case. Instead, the Appeals Officer relies exclusively on the paper evidence filed by the parties, i.e. the exact same evidence which convinced the Appeals Officer that the Hearing Officer's Decision to reverse claim denial should be stayed. Petitioners would submit that the decision to completely ignore the testimony or even comment on the credibility of the witnesses is reversible error in and of itself.

Moreover, by excluding reference to the testimony, the Appeals Officer also excluded all evidence of how Respondent's paycheck process works and how the paycheck dispute resolution process was explained to Respondent. It was legal error to find this claim compensable when Respondent was explicitly informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza that his prior crew leader (Pedro) had no control over paycheck dispute resolution. As will be shown below, though certain types of work place violence can be compensable when the violence is begat by an argument over work related issues, if the parties to the violence have no authority over the argument subject, any injuries which result are not compensable because the argument was not related to the parties' job performance.

Under NRS 616C.150(1), the Respondent has the burden of proof to show that the injury arose out of and in the course and scope of his employment. The Respondent must satisfy this burden by a preponderance of the factual and medical evidence. Further, NRS 616B.612 mandates that an employee is only entitled to compensation if he is injured in the course and scope of his employment.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that:

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work ... the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury ... a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment.

Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997). (emphasis added)

The same Court further stated that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers/employers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." (Id.)

Further, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005):

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work. In other words, the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury. Further, a Respondent must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment. However, if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the Respondent's employment. Finally, resolving whether an injury arose out of employment is examined by a totality of the circumstances.

With respect to the subject issue of assaults, Nevada decisions are sparse. However, the Court did endorse the general rule that "injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity unconnected with the employment, are not compensable." Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969)(Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956)). The salient portion of the rule above is the holding that injuries unconnected to employment are not compensable. This is the guiding principle in determining compensability of workers' compensation claims.

Professor Larson's treatise on workers' compensation expounds on this subject and explains that claim denial has been upheld when workplace fights concern a subject which the employee had no control over. See 1 Larson's Workers' Compensation Law § 8.01[4] (2018). For example, claim denial was affirmed where a worker was killed by another worker over a dispute as to the contents of a coal car when neither party had any ability to control what was in the car. Court held that "[t]he interests of the employer were not being aided, protected or advanced in any manner by what [the claimant] did, and the quarrel and consequent injury had no reasonable connection with any work then being done for the plaintiff in error." Marion Cty. Coal Co. v. Indus. Com., 292 Ill. 463, 466, 127 N.E. 84, 85 (1920).

In another case, a claimant was injured while protecting his employer's property from teamsters who were in a dispute with the employer. The Court upheld claim denial under the theory that "[h]ad Respondent remained at his work he would not have been injured. His presence at the place of fighting was in pursuance of no demand of his employment." Clark v. Clark, 189 Mich. 652, 655, 155 N.W. 507, 508 (1915).

Finally, in a more recent decision, two years prior to the controversy therein, a claimant had used her own personal money to buy a drink machine for the office. On the subject day, a drink truck was parked in the parking lot to refill the machine. A police officer wrote the truck driver a parking ticket and the claimant came out to contest the ticket. The claimant was eventually arrested for disorderly conduct and sustained injury during the arrest. Court upheld claim denial as there was "no testimony from plaintiff, her superior or any other witness that states that plaintiff had any supervisory authority over the parking lot as a result of her employment and was thus involved with duties created by her job at the time she was injured... We are of the opinion that the trial court could properly find that any injuries suffered by plaintiff did not occur while the employee was rendering service which she was hired to do to her employer and, therefore, was not in the course of the employment." Legions v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 703 S.W.2d 620, 623 (Tenn. 1986)(emphasis added)

Here, just as in the cases cited above, neither Respondent, Pedro, nor Pedro's son had any authority over the subject of the dispute, i.e. Respondent's paycheck. Respondent was even informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza on the very day of the incident that if he desired to contest his paycheck, the proper way to do so was to contact payroll at the end of the day. Instead of doing that, Respondent left his job site, walked over to Pedro's job site, climbed to the second story of a house frame, did not attach any safety equipment, and engaged in a ten (10) minute long argument about the paycheck before Pedro's son unfortunately pushed him off the frame. Though Respondent's injuries are unfortunate, in no way was Respondent performing his job at the time of his injuries.

Indeed, Respondent left his job duties to discuss a subject with Pedro that he knew Pedro had no authority over. By virtue of the fact that Pedro had no authority over Respondent's paycheck dispute and compounded by the fact Respondent had just that day been informed as to the proper way to dispute his paycheck, Respondent left the course and scope of his employment when he walked off his job site to engage Pedro. Put simply, the argument with Pedro was not related to Respondent's employment because Respondent had just been informed the proper way to dispute his paycheck and he knew that Pedro had no authority to adjust his pay.

The Appeals Officer was apprised of the state of this law at the hearing on this matter. By not even mentioning the testimony of any witness and therefore failing to take into account the fact that the subject altercation was not related to Respondent's employment, the Appeals Officer committed reversible error.

IV.

CONCLUSION

Based upon all of the above, it is the belief of Petitioners, FOCUS FRAMING and SUN CITY ELECTRIC, that they have reason in good faith to ask for a stay of the Appeals Officer's decision, dated May 3, 2018, particularly in light of the clear errors of law and abuse of discretion which has been established above.

This is not an appeal based solely on a disagreement over the facts. Rather, we are faced 1 with an Appeals Officer's Decision which violates clear and specific legal precedent and statutory 2 schemes. The Appeals Officer's improper application of the law will likely result in irreparable 3 harm to these Petitioners if the instant stay is not granted. Respondent, on the other hand, will 4 suffer no harm if this stay is granted. This clear error of law is exactly the situation in which a 5 6 stay is proper. WHEREFORE, Petitioners FOCUS FRAMING and SUN CITY ELECTRIC, respectfully 7 requests that this Court grant its Motion for Stay Pending Appeal of the matter at the time of 8 9 hearing. #### STATEMENT OF FACTS

On December 30, 2016, Respondent suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. See Petitioners' Exhibit B at 1. Respondent was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. On December 30, 2016 Respondent went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Id. at 75. Respondent climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Respondent was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Respondent off of the roof. Id. at 76. Respondent fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Closed head injury 3) Subdural hematoma 4) Possible right 8th rib fracture" as the hospital diagnosis. Id. at 40. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, Respondent credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. See Petitioners' Exhibit A at 2.

Respondent underwent CT scans of the chest, abdomen, thoracic spine and lumbar spine. Further, Respondent had an x-ray performed on his shoulder and a CT scan of his brain. In addition, Respondent underwent an MRI of his cervical. See Petitioners' Exhibit B at 22-56.

On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Respondent's claim. Id. at 57-59.

On March 21, 2017, Respondent appealed Employer's claim denial determination. Id. at 60.

On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination. Id. at 63-65

On June 30, 2017, Employer appealed Hearing Officer Trenkler's Decision and Order and filed a Motion for Stay Pending Appeal. Id. at 66.

On July 17, 2017, Respondent filed an Opposition to Motion For Stay Pending Appeal.

On August 2, 2017, Employer's Motion for Stay was granted. Id. at 68.

On February 9, 2018, the matter was heard before Appeals Officer York. Appeals Officer York found that Respondent was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. See Petitioners' Exhibit A at 3. The circumstances of this assault lead the Appeals Officer to conclude the claim is compensable. Id. Appeals Officer York found it was not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. Id. There is a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)]. Id.

II.

ARGUMENT

A. PETITIONERS BEAR THE BURDEN TO PROVE THAT THEY ENJOY A LIKELIHOOD OF SUCCESS ON APPEAL AND THAT APPEALS OFFICER'S DECISION IS AN ABUSE OF DISCRETION—RESPONDENT WILL MORE LIKELY SUCCEED ON THE MERITS

Petitioners' Motion for Stay is entirely devoid of law or fact, which would provide a reasonable basis for staying the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order and said Motion should be DENIED. It is simple, the claim should be accepted on the actual injury and diagnosis.

There are two (2) main factors to consider when presented with a motion for stay: (1) the likelihood of prevailing on the merits on the appeal; and (2) whether the appellant will suffer irreparable harm if the stay is denied. Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 17, 189 P.2d 352, 360 (1948); Christensen v. Chromalloy American Corp., 99 Nev. 34, 656 P.2d 844 (1983); Hansen v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Ct. Ex el County of Clark, 116 Nev. 650, 657, 6 P.3d 982, 986-87 (2000).

The right to appeal does not carry with it the automatic right to a stay, as the moving party solely bears the burden to prove a likelihood of success and also show that the decision of the lower agency hearing is fundamentally flawed factually or is an abuse of discretion. State ex. Rel. PS v. District Court, 94 Nev. 42, 574 P.2d 272 (1978).

Here, Petitioners are unable to meet the requirements of either the controlling statutes or the

27 28 applicable case law, in essence, they cannot meet their burden. Petitioners rely upon unsworm statements, that are not percipient witnesses, other than Pedro Rosales whose statement is clearly biased towards protecting his son, Jose Rosales, the assailant in the industrial incident. At the hearing, the only person to testify for both direct and cross-examination was Respondent. Hearing Officer Trenkler heard testimony, reviewed the witness statements and found Respondent to be credible.

At the appeal hearing, Pedro Rosales and Jose Rosales failed to appear to testify. Petitioners again relied upon unsworn and unverified statements. In addition, Petitioners presented witnesses at the appeal that had no personal knowledge of the industrial incident. Petitioners' witnesses were safety officers that were not present at the time of the assault and simply interviewed Pedro Rosales after the incident. The witnesses for Petitioners allege they spoke with Respondent on the day of the incident, but Respondent denies that allegation. Mr. Pao, a witness for Petitioners, alleges he had a conversation with Respondent regarding the subject check and the appropriate procedure to follow, however, Mr. Pao admits he needed interpreter to have the conversation, so he is unable to verify that what he allegedly said was translated to Respondent. In addition, Mr. Pao does not provide a sufficient response as to why a worker would approach the safety manager to ask about an issue with the check.

The only witnesses that had personal knowledge of the incident and was present at the appeal was Respondent, Martin Duran Perez, and co-worker Eduardo Leon. Appeals Officer York found Respondent credible testified that that if there was an issue with his check that Respondent needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. Based off the testimony, arguments of counsel for both parties, and the evidence submitted Appeals Officer York affirmed the decision of Hearing Officer Trenkler.

LEGAL STANDARD OF PROOF OF A COMPENSABLE CLAIM, RESPONDENT B. MEETS THE REQUIREMENTS

NRS 616C.150 only requires an injured worker to demonstrate that he was injured within the course and scope of his employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. To make the point on preponderance, McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc., the Nevada Supreme Court states "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose. . .[r]ather 'preponderance of the evidence' merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence." . 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).

Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Respondent must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred. NRS 616A.265 defines injury as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence.

NRS 616C.030 defines the term accident as an "unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault."

Case law, Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010). Such as we have here, Pedro Rosales has intimate knowledge that his son, Jose Rosales, has violent tendencies and a violent history placing Respondent and others directly in harm's way.

1. Course And Scope

a. Course and Scope

The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Respondent's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5.

Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. Here, Respondent was working at an assigned time and scheduled to be in the same construction housing complex. Respondent went to the house across the street to inquire with the foreman, Pedro Rosales, that he worked with the week prior as to why his hours were not properly reflected. Respondent's pay and hours are indeed work related. The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. Respondent was on the job when this incident occurred, and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck). Nicholas Pao, a safety manager for the employer, testified that Pedro Rosales could have made a phone call to Lucy at payroll to get the check corrected. Exh. B at 101. The witness for Petitioners freely admits Pedro Rosales could have corrected the hours on Respondent's check which is the exact reason Respondent went to speak with Pedro Rosales to begin with. Mr. Pao further states that the crew leaders submit the times employees worked to the foreman who verify the work was done and send the paperwork to the office. Exh. B at 106-107. Pedro Rosales was the person to verify the hours and send them to the office to generate a check. Pedro Rosales was the same person to correct any errors. Pedro Rosales had the authority to change the hours on the check. Pedro Rosales had control over the issue at dispute. The office is not going to take the word of a worker without the foreman to corroborate the claim.

2. Accident

Accident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident' means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury."

Clearly, Respondent did not anticipate being pushed off of a second floor of a house. Respondent wanted clarification for his hours from his foreman that he worked with as his pay is how he supports himself and family and was pushed off by someone who was not part of the conversation. Petitioners focus on Respondent allegedly not being tied off as if that negates Respondent's ability to have a compensable claim. NRS 616A.030 clearly states "Accident" means with or without human fault. The fact that Respondent may have not followed proper tie off protocol does not prevent him from recovering under Workers' Compensation.

In the instant case, Respondent meets the statutory definition requirement.

3. Injury

Injury is defined in NRS 616A.265 as a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence."

Here, the medical records all demonstrate Respondent suffered an injury to his head, cervical, thoracic, lumbar, abdominal and ribs. The initial physician who completed the Form C-4 diagnosed Respondent with a subdural hematoma (brain bleed) and related it as job incurred. Petitioners' Exhibit B at 1.

Petitioners bear the burden, because Respondent cannot prove a negative, under NRS 616C.175, that if it believes that Respondent has a prior condition, Petitioners, must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim.

Respondent must prove four (4) things; course and scope, accident, injury and notice, nothing more. Respondent suffered an injury causally related by the Form C-4 doctor related to being pushed off a roof by co-employee Jose Rosales. Even if there was a pre-existing condition, which Respondent contends there is not, the statutory requirement is met, and the burden would then shift to Petitioners to prove under NRS 616C.175, otherwise.

4. Notice

Pursuant to NRS 616C.015(1), an injured employee must provide written notice of a workrelated injury as soon as practicable but within 7 days after the accident. In this case, Respondent has testified that he was taken from the job site to the hospital on the day of the accident. Petitioners do not dispute that the employer was reported on the same day of the accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

Pursuant to NRS 616C.020(1), an injured employee must file a claim for compensation with the insurer within 90 days of the industrial accident. Here, the industrial accident occurred on December 30, 2016 and Respondent completed the Form C-4 on the same day. Clearly, Respondent completed the claim for compensation within 90 days of the industrial accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

In the instant claim, Respondent meets the statutory notice requirements.

C. RESPONDENT WILL SUFFER MORE HARM THAN PETITIONERS

Based on NRS 616C.345, the Appellant's filing of an appeal does not automatically stay the enforcement of the decision of the hearings officer.

NRS 616C.345(4) provides in part:

Except as otherwise provided in NRS 616C.380, the filing of a notice of appeal does not automatically stay the enforcement of the decision of a hearing officer or a determination rendered pursuant to NRS 616C.305. The appeals officer may order a stay, when appropriate, upon the application of a party. If such an application is submitted, the decision is automatically stayed until a determination is made concerning the application. A determination on the application must be made within 30 days after the filing of the application. If a stay is not granted by the officer after reviewing the application, the decision must be complied with within 10 days after the date of the refusal to grant a stay.

(emphasis added).

In Kress v. Corey, the Nevada Supreme Court stated:

As a rule a supersedeas or stay should be granted . . . whenever...it is reasonably necessary to protect appellant or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in the case of reversal, and it does not appear that appellee or defendant in error will sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury in case of affirmance.

Kress, 65 Nev. at 17, 189 P.2d at 360.

Furthermore, the Nevada Supreme Court has recognized that a stay should only be granted where it can be shown that the Appellant would suffer irreparable injury during the pendency of the appeal, if the stay were not granted. See White Pine Power v. Public Service Commission, 76 Nev. 263 (1960). Appellants cannot meet that burden.

Indeed, it is Respondent in this case, not Petitioners, who will sustain the greatest harm in the event that the instant stay is granted as it will serve its purpose of delaying medical treatment of a closed head injury with a 7mm subdermal hematoma, fractured rib, abdominal injury and injuries to the cervical, thoracic, and lumbar spine. The full extent of Respondent's injuries is unknown as Respondent has not been able to treat since the claim was denied. Petitioners argue that since Respondent has no scheduled medical treatment that he would not be harmed by a stayed. However, this argument is disingenuous as Petitioners has denied care and benefits since the day it issued claim denial on March 6, 2017. Petitioners has prevented Respondent from seeking care through the Workers' Compensation system and Respondent is financially unable to seek medical care outside of Workers' Compensation. Respondent has not been released from care by his treating physician, but rather has been prevented from seeking additional care because of the claim denial by Petitioners and the Stay imposed by the Appeal Officer prior to the hearing of the appeal. It has been over a year since Respondent was allowed to treat for his injuries. Every day that Respondent is without treatment is a day Respondent is harmed.

Further, Respondent is entitled to Temporary Total Disability benefits that he has not received due to the claim denial and imposition of the Stay. Respondent has been without Workers' Compensation benefits for over a year. Petitioners' carelessly argue Respondent will receive those benefits if he prevails after the Appeal. Unfortunately, it is benefits Respondent who is without a steady income. It is Respondent who needs the benefits for his well-being and his family's well-being. Respondent cannot continue to put his life on hold and wait for this appeal to be heard to receive the benefits his entitled to.

There is nothing more crippling and harmful than denying medical attention and care. There can be nothing more harmful and irreparable than the loss of one's own wellbeing.

Here, it is Petitioners who bears the burden to this court to prove both elements, success on appeal and that it will suffer more harm than Respondent. Respondent met his burden at the hearing and again at the appeal with all the same evidence being presented to this very court.

Employer has the burden of meeting established guidelines for it to be successful on its motion for stay. Comparing the harm that will allegedly be suffered by Employer and Administrator to the harm being suffered by Respondent right now does not meet the standard of review set forth in Kressv. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 189 P. 2d 352 (1948).

- Colloquy regarding medical treatment Respondent will need. Mr. Angerman advised on December 30, 2016, Respondent suffered injuries. Further, within first thirty days insurance company has to issue determination, Respondent was allowed to treat under workers compensation system and then claim was denied in March. At that time, Respondent was allowed to treat outside workers compensation system. However, Respondent was not working, no insurance, no money and no actual means to treat. Mr. Reeves argued no evidence he needs medical treatment. Further, without some sort of evidence he will be irreparably harmed, no evidence to support as to irreparable harm. As to counsel's client, client will have to potentially issue retroactive wage replacement benefits that cannot be given back. Additionally, Mr. Reeves argued if Respondent is successful, he will get his benefits, his wage replacement benefits if he is entitled to them at the end of the appeal process and there is no irreparable harm. Mr. Angerman argued Respondent has already been irreparably harmed. Further, there is a C-4 document indicating Respondent needs additional care. In addition to that, physician took Respondent off work for about a week and after that Respondent was placed on work restrictions from preventing him suffering another head injury. Additional argument by Mr. Reeves. COURT ORDERED, motion GRANTED.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

This is a workers' compensation case. On December 30, 2016, the Respondent, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "Respondent") arrived to work and was upset about an allegedly short paycheck for a period where he was working under a supervisor named Pedro. Respondent's Safety Manager, Nicholas Pao, informed Respondent that the proper way to resolve his paycheck issue was to speak with payroll at the end of the day and they would help him. Despite Mr. Pao's instruction, Respondent left his job site and walked to another job site where Pedro was working. Respondent then scaled a house frame, failed to attach any protective gear, and then proceeded to argue with Pedro about the check for approximately ten (10) minutes. Then, unfortunately, Pedro's son got involved in the argument and pushed Respondent off the house frame, causing injury to Respondent. A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales.

On March 6, 2017, Petitioners denied Respondent's claim for worker's compensation benefits based on the fact that Respondent's injuries were unrelated to his employment. Respondent appealed

On June 1, 2017, following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. Petitioners filed a timely appeal. In addition, the Petitioners filed a Motion for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted.

On February 9, 2018, this case came on for hearing before the Appeals Officer. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Respondent's brother-in-law; and two safety directors for Employer (Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza).

On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order reversing claim denial. Of note, the Decision and Order makes no mention whatsoever of any of the testimony given. Nor does it comment on the credibility of any witness.

Petitioners filed the instant Petition for Judicial Review contesting the May 3, 2018 Appeals Officer's Decision and Order and this Court granted a request for a stay.

STATEMENT OF THE ISSUES

- 1. Whether substantial rights of Petitioners have been prejudiced as set forth in NRS 33B.135(3) because the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order filed on May 3, 2018 was:
  - (a) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
  - (b) in excess of statutory authority of the agency;
  - (c) made upon unlawful procedure;
  - (d) affected by other error of law;
  - (e) clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record; or
  - (f) arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion; and
- 2. Whether the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order was based upon substantial evidence as required by NRS 233B.125.

III.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On December 30, 2016, a C-4 form was completed which alleged that the Respondent, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "Respondent"), was injured when he was pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The Respondent was taken off of work. (Record on Appeal p. 125)(hereinafter "ROA p. ____")

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the Respondent went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (ROA p. 126)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (ROA pp. 127-128)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the Respondent was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The Respondent climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor. Pedro was tied off with safety gear but Respondent was not. The discussion with the two got "elevated."

Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when Pedro's son asked the Respondent to stop, the Respondent allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the Respondent and pushed him away and the Respondent eventually fell off of the roof. (ROA pp. 129-133)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the Respondent came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the Respondent to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (ROA pp. 134-135)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (ROA pp. 136-137)

Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man working on the second floor pushed the Respondent who fell off of roof after a discussion between the parties.

(ROA pp. 138-141)

A statement from the Respondent indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the roof. (ROA p. 142)

An Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the Respondent. (ROA pp. 143-144)

A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (ROA p. 145)

The Respondent was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot fall after being pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was transferred out of the Emergency Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8th rib fracture. X-rays of the left shoulder revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain revealed a subdural hematoma, and a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (ROA pp. 147-180)

A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017. (ROA pp. 181-183)

On March 21, 2017, the Respondent appealed the claim denial determination. (ROA p. 184)

On March 30, 2017, the adjuster denied March 21, 2017, requests for 1) TTD beginning on December 30, 2016, to present and 2) request for transfer of care to Dr. Garber. (ROA pp. 185-186)

Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (ROA pp. 187-189.) Insurer filed a timely appeal. (ROA p. 190.) In addition, the Insurer filed a Motion for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted. (ROA p. 192.)

On February 9, 2018, this case came on for hearing before the Appeals Officer. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Respondent's brother-in-law; and two safety directors for Employer (Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza). Of note, Respondent testified that, on the day in question, he was working on a house under the supervision of a crew leader named Francisco. On that day, Respondent received a check for the work he had done the previous week when he was working for a different crew leader, Pedro. (ROA pp. 9-10; 13-15) Respondent believed that his paycheck was low and testified that he went to Pedro to discuss his paycheck. Respondent testified that he did not speak with Mr. Pao on that day. Respondent testified that he left the job site that he was working on, walked three houses down to where Pedro was, climbed a ladder to get to Pedro, did not attach any sort of safety measures to himself, and spent at least ten (10) minutes talking to Pedro on the second floor of a house frame. Respondent also testified that no one that house frame was wearing safety measures. After about ten (10) minutes of discussion, Pedro's son climbed the ladder and pushed Respondent off the house.

The brother-in-law (Eduardo Leon) was also working on the job site but his testimony did not add anything worth noting to this case.

Mr. Pao, a safety director for Employer, testified that, on the day in question, he was on the job site prior to the incident and testified that he and Mr. Mendoza (the other safety director) spoke with Respondent about his check. Mr. Pao testified as follows:

NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, [Respondent] brought it to our attention that there was a discrepancy on his paycheck from Pedro. We had basically told him, at the end of the day, take it to the office and Lucy would get that corrected.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: At that point in time, when you were having this conversation with him, would Pedro have had any ability to do anything with that paycheck?

NICHOLAS PAO: No. He couldn't have done nothing. He could've maybe made a phone call and told Lucy to get the check corrected, but as far as him cutting a check for him, no.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, your—your—I don't want to say advice, but what you told Mr. Duran-Perez, concerning the paych10eck was to go to the office.

NICHOLAS PAO: Go to the office at the end of the day. Yeah.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And then did you leave the jobsite?

NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.

(ROA p. 35:6-24)

Mr. Pao also testified that, contrary to Respondent's testimony, Pedro was in fact wearing a safety harness. (ROA p. 37; 38-39) Further, Mr. Pao explained the check payment process. Crew leaders (like Pedro and Francisco) keep track of their subordinate's hours and turn those hours into a foreman and the foreman turns the hours into payroll and payroll issues checks. (ROA p. 39) He reiterated that a foreman would not be able to do anything with a check after it was cut.

Mr. Mendoza corroborated Mr. Pao's testimony as he helped translate for Mr. Pao on that day.

On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order reversing claim denial. Of note, the Decision and Order makes no mention whatsoever of any of the testimony given. Nor does it comment on the credibility of any witness. (ROA pp. 65-71)

Petitioners timely filed the instant Petition for Judicial Review and this Court granted a stay.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IV. JURISDICTION

Judicial review of a final decision of an agency is governed by NRS 233B.135.

NRS 233B.135 Judicial review: Manner of conducting; burden of; standard for review.

- 1. Judicial review of a final decision of an agency must be:
- (a) Conducted by the court without a jury; and
- (b) Confined to the record.

In cases concerning alleged irregularities in procedure before an agency that are not shown in the record, the court may receive evidence concerning the irregularities.

- 2. The final decision of the agency shall be deemed reasonable and lawful until reversed or set aside in whole or in part by the court. The burden of proof is on the party attacking or resisting the decision to show that the final decision is invalid pursuant to subsection 3.
- 3. The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the agency as to the weight of evidence on a question of fact. The court may remand or affirm the final decision or set it aside in whole or in part if substantial rights of the petitioner have been prejudiced because the final decision of the agency is:
  - (a) In violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
  - (b) In excess of the statutory authority of the agency;
  - (c) Made upon unlawful procedure;
  - (d) Affected by other error of law;
- (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record; or
- (f) Arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion.

The standard of review is whether there is substantial evidence to support the underlying decision. The reviewing court should limit its review of administrative decisions to determine if they are based upon substantial evidence. North Las Vegas v. Public Service Comm'n., 83 Nev. 278, 291, 429 P.2d 66 (1967); McCracken v. Fancy, 98 Nev. 30, 639 P.2d 552 (1982). Substantial evidence is that quantity and quality of evidence which a reasonable man would accept as adequate to support a conclusion. See, Maxwell v. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 331, 849 P.2d 267, 270 (1993); and Horne v. SIIS, 113 Nev. 532, 537, 936 P.2d 839 (1997).

When reviewing administrative court decisions, the Court has held that, on factual determinations, the findings and ultimate decisions of an appeals officer are not to be disturbed unless they are clearly erroneous or otherwise amount to an abuse of discretion. Nevada Industrial Comm'n. v. Reese, 93 Nev. 115, 560 P.2d 1352 (1977). An administrative determination regarding a question of fact will not be set aside unless it is against the manifest weight of the evidence. Nevada Indus. Comm'n. v. Hildebrand, 100 Nev. 47, 51, 675 P.2d 401 (1984). A decision by an appeals officer that is based upon the credibility of Respondent and other witnesses is "not open to appellate review." Brocas v. Mirage Hotel & Casino, 109 Nev. 579, 585, 854 P.2d 862, 867 (1993).

B. THIS COURT CAN SET ASIDE A CLEARLY ERRONEOUS DECISION THAT CONSTITUTES AN ERROR OF LAW OR IS NOT SUPPORTED BY SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

A court may set aside, in whole or in part, a final decision of an administrative agency where substantial rights of the Petitioners have been prejudiced because the final decision is in violation of statutory provisions, affected by other error of law, clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record, or arbitrary, capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion. NRS 233B.135(3).

This Court Can Set Aside a Decision That is Based on Incorrect Conclusions of Law and is Free to Address Purely Legal Questions Without Deference to the Appeals Officer's Decision.

The Nevada Supreme Court has acknowledged and applied these statutory principles holding, for example, that a reviewing court may set aside an agency decision if the decision was based upon an incorrect conclusion of law or otherwise affected by an error of law. State Indus.

1 | I | 2 | 8 | 8 | 4 | to 5 | v | 6 | M | 7 | V

Ins. Sys. v. Giles, 110 Nev. 216, 871 P.2d 920 (1994); Jessop v. State Indus. Ins. Sys., 107 Nev. 888, 822 P.2d 116 (1991); see, also, NRS 233B.135(3)(d). Further, the Nevada Supreme Court stated that appellate review on questions of law is de novo, and that the reviewing court is free to address purely legal questions without deference to the agency's decision. Giles, supra; Mirage v. State, Dep't of Admin., 110 Nev. 257, 871 P.2d 317 (1994); American Int'l Vacations v. MacBride, 99 Nev. 324, 326, 661 P.2d 1301, 1302 (1983); see, also, State Dep't of Motor Vehicles v. Torres, 105 Nev. 558, 560, 799 P.2d 959, 960-961 (1989). (Emphasis added.)

2. This Court Can Set Aside a Decision That is Not Supported by Substantial Evidence.

In determining whether an administrative decision is supported by substantial evidence, the methodology of the District Court is also well-defined. First, for each issue appealed, the pertinent rule of law is identified. Thereafter, the Record on Appeal is reviewed to determine whether the agency's decision on each issue is supported by substantial factual evidence. State Dep't of Motor Vehicles v. Torres, supra. If the decision of the administrative agency on the appealed issue is supported by substantial factual evidence in the Record on Appeal, the District Court must affirm the decision of the agency as to that issue. On the other hand, a decision by an administrative agency that lacks support in the form of substantial evidence is arbitrary or capricious and, thus, an abuse of discretion that warrants reversal. NRS 233B.135(3); Titanium Metals Corp. v. Clark County, 99 Nev. 397, 399, 663 P.2d 355, 357 (1983).

Substantial evidence has been defined as that quantity and quality of evidence which a reasonable man could accept as adequate to support a conclusion. State Emp't Sec. Dep't v. Hilton Hotels Corp., 102 Nev. 606, 608 at n.1, 729 P.2d 497 (1986). Additionally, substantial evidence is not to be considered in isolation from opposing evidence, but evidence that survives whatever in the record fairly detracts from its weight. Universal Camera Corp. v. NLRB, 340 U.S. 474, 477, 488 (1951); Container Stevedoring Co. v. Director, OWCP, 935 F.2d 1544, 1546 (9th Cir. 1991). This latter point is clearly the significance of the requirement in NRS 233B.135(3)(e) which states that the reviewing court consider the whole record.

1 | 2 | s | 3 | C | 4 | t | 5 | 6 | C | 7 | I | 8 | 6 | 9 | 10 | r |

Furthermore, a decision that is affected by error of law cannot be found to be supported by substantial evidence. A decision that lacks support in the form of substantial evidence is arbitrary or capricious and, thus, an abuse of discretion that warrants reversal. Titanium Metals, supra. In this case, the Appeals Officer's decision is based on errors of law and not supported by substantial evidence. Although it is anticipated that Respondent's counsel will argue that these are questions of fact, and that the Appeals Officer has the right to weigh the evidence, the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order was clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence in the record.

NRS 616A.010(2) and (4) are clear that Nevada no longer has liberal construction. Issues must be decided on their merits, and not according to the common law principle that requires statutes governing workers' compensation to be liberally construed. That means workers' compensation statutes must not be interpreted or construed broadly or liberally in favor of any party.

A. THE APPEALS OFFICER ERRED AS A MATTER OF LAW

It is the Respondent (claimant), not Petitioners (Employer/Administrator), who has the burden of proving his case, and that is by a preponderance of all the evidence. State Industrial Insurance System v. Hicks, 100 Nev. 567, 688 P.2d 324 (1984); Holley v. State ex rel. Wyoming Worker's Compensation Div., 798 P.2d 323 (1990); Hagler v. Micron Technology, Inc., 118 Idaho 596, 798 P.2d 55 (1990).

In attempting to prove his case, Respondent (claimant) has the burden of going beyond speculation and conjecture. That means that the claimant must establish the work connection of his injuries, the causal relationship between the work-related injury and his disability, the extent of his disability, and all facets of the claim by a preponderance of all of the evidence. To prevail, a claimant must present and prove more evidence than an amount which would make his case and his opponent's "evenly balanced." Maxwell, Id.; SIIS v. Khweiss, 108 Nev. 123, 825 P.2d 218

BRISBOIS BISGAARD

5

LEWIS BRISBOIS BISGAARD & SMITH LLP (1992); SIIS v. Kelly, 99 Nev. 774, 671 P.2d 29 (1983); 3, A. Larson, The Law of Workmen's Compensation, § 80.33(a).

NRS 616A.010(2)makes it clear that:

A claim for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, or chapter 617 of NRS must be decided on its merit and not according to the principle of common law that requires statutes governing worker's compensation to be liberally construed because they are remedial in nature.

Here, the issue is whether the Appeals Officer erred in ordering this claim denial reversed. Most importantly, Petitioners want to bring this Court's attention to the fact that the Appeals Officer's Decision does not even mention the copious amount of testimony taken in this case. Instead, the Appeals Officer relies exclusively on the paper evidence filed by the parties, i.e. the exact same evidence which convinced the Appeals Officer that the Hearing Officer's Decision to reverse claim denial should be stayed. Petitioners would submit that the decision to completely ignore the testimony or even comment on the credibility of the witnesses is reversible error in and of itself.

Moreover, by excluding reference to the testimony, the Appeals Officer also excluded all evidence of how Respondent's paycheck process works and how the paycheck dispute resolution process was explained to Respondent. It was legal error to find this claim compensable when Respondent was explicitly informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza that his prior crew leader (Pedro) had no control over paycheck dispute resolution. As will be shown below, though certain types of work place violence can be compensable when the violence is begat by an argument over work related issues, if the parties to the violence have no authority over the argument subject, any injuries which result are not compensable because the argument was not related to the parties' job performance.

Under NRS 616C.150(1), the Respondent has the burden of proof to show that the injury arose out of and in the course and scope of his employment. The Respondent must satisfy this burden by a preponderance of the factual and medical evidence. Further, NRS 616B.612 mandates that an employee is only entitled to compensation if he is injured in the course and scope of his employment.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that:

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work ... the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury ... a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment.

Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997). (emphasis added)

The same Court further stated that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers/employers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." (Id.)

Further, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005):

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work. In other words, the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury. Further, a Respondent must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment. However, if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the Respondent's employment. Finally, resolving whether an injury arose out of employment is examined by a totality of the circumstances.

With respect to the subject issue of assaults, Nevada decisions are sparse. However, the Court did endorse the general rule that "injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity unconnected with the employment, are not compensable." Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969)(Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956)). The salient portion of the rule above is the holding that injuries unconnected to employment are not compensable. This is the guiding principle in determining compensability of workers' compensation claims.

Professor Larson's treatise on workers' compensation expounds on this subject and explains that claim denial has been upheld when workplace fights concern a subject which the employee had no control over. See 1 Larson's Workers' Compensation Law § 8.01[4] (2018). For example, claim denial was affirmed where a worker was killed by another worker over a dispute as to the contents of a coal car when neither party had any ability to control what was in the car. That Court held that "[t]he interests of the employer were not being aided, protected or advanced in any manner by what [the claimant] did, and the quarrel and consequent injury had no reasonable connection with any work then being done for the plaintiff in error." Marion Cty. Coal Co. v. Indus. Com., 292 Ill. 463, 466, 127 N.E. 84, 85 (1920).

In another case, a claimant was injured while protecting his employer's property from teamsters who were in a dispute with the employer. The Court upheld claim denial under the theory that "[h]ad Respondent remained at his work he would not have been injured. His presence at the place of fighting was in pursuance of no demand of his employment." Clark v. Clark, 189 Mich. 652, 655, 155 N.W. 507, 508 (1915).¹

Finally, in a more recent decision, two years prior to the controversy therein, a claimant had used her own personal money to buy a drink machine for the office. On the subject day, a drink truck was parked in the parking lot to refill the machine. A police officer wrote the truck driver a parking ticket and the claimant came out to contest the ticket. The claimant was eventually arrested for disorderly conduct and sustained injury during the arrest. Court upheld claim denial as there was "no testimony from plaintiff, her superior or any other witness that states that plaintiff had any supervisory authority over the parking lot as a result of her employment and was thus involved with duties created by her job at the time she was injured... We are of the opinion that the trial court could properly find that any injuries suffered by plaintiff did not occur while the employee was rendering service which she was hired to do by her employer and, therefore, was not in the course of the employment." Legions v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 703 S.W.2d 620, 623 (Tenn. 1986)(emphasis added)

Here, just as in the cases cited above, neither Respondent, Pedro, nor Pedro's son had any authority over the subject of the dispute, i.e. Respondent's paycheck. Respondent was even informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza on the very day of the incident that if he desired to contest his paycheck, the proper way to do so was to contact payroll at the end of the day. Instead of doing that, Respondent left his job site, walked over to Pedro's job site, climbed to the second story of a house frame, did not attach any safety equipment, and engaged in a ten (10) minute long argument about the paycheck before Pedro's son unfortunately pushed him off the frame. Though Respondent's injuries are unfortunate, in no way was Respondent performing his job at the time of his injuries.

¹ See Also Libraro v. Ocean Casket Co., 60 A.D.2d 736, 401 N.Y.S.2d 304 (App. Div. 1977) where claim denial was affirmed when an employee left his employment to assist a co-employee who was being assaulted and was then himself shot.

Indeed, Respondent left his job duties to discuss a subject with Pedro that he knew Pedro had no authority over. By virtue of the fact that Pedro had no authority over Respondent's paycheck dispute and compounded by the fact Respondent had just that day been informed as to the proper way to dispute his paycheck, Respondent left the course and scope of his employment when he walked off his job site to engage Pedro. Put simply, the argument with Pedro was not related to Respondent's employment because Respondent had just been informed the proper way to dispute his paycheck and he knew that Pedro had no authority to adjust his pay.

The Appeals Officer was apprised of the state of this law at the hearing on this matter. By not even mentioning the testimony of any witness and therefore failing to take into account the fact that the subject altercation was not related to Respondent's employment, the Appeals Officer committed reversible error. This Court should grant the Petition for Judicial Review, reverse the Appeals Officer, and affirm the Petitioner's determination to deny this claim.

VI. CONCLUSION Based upon the foregoing, Petitioners, FOCUS FRAMING and SUN CITY ELECTRIC respectfully asks this Honorable Court to grant Petitioners' Petition for Judicial Review. #### STATEMENT OF THE CASE

This is a workers' compensation claim that has been appealed by Petitioner regarding the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order issued on May 3, 2018. On December 30, 2016, Respondent suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. Respondent was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. Respondent went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Respondent climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Respondent was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Respondent off of the roof. Respondent fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries.

On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Respondent's claim.

On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination.

On February 9, 2018, the matter was heard before Appeals Officer York.

On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued a Decision and Order reversing claim denial. Appeals Officer York found that Respondent was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead the Appeals Officer to conclude the claim is compensable. Appeals Officer York found it was not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. The Appeals Officer found Respondent to have credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. There is a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident.

Petitioners filed the instant Petition for Judicial Review with this Court alleging shortcomings and legal inconsistencies in the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order that are mere criticisms of the Appeals Officer's weighing of the evidence in this case. The Appeals Officer in this case has produced findings of fact and conclusions of law which are well reasoned and firmly rooted in the substantial evidence.

Respondent files the instant Answering Brief addressing the arguments made by the Petitioners in their Opening Brief filed on September 4, 2018.

STATEMENT OF ISSUES

The issue in this Appeal is whether the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order reversing Petitioners' determination regarding claim denial was proper in this case because Respondent met the evidentiary requirements as required under Nevada law.

III.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On December 30, 2016, Respondent suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. Record on Appeal p. 125(hereinafter "ROA p. ___"), Respondent was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. On December 30, 2016, Respondent went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Respondent climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Respondent was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Respondent off of the roof. ROA p. 142. Respondent fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Closed head injury 3) Subdural hematoma 4) Possible right 8th rib fracture" as the hospital diagnosis. Id. at 40. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, Respondent credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. ROA pp. 147-180.

A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales regarding the incident. ROA p. 145.

On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Respondent's claim. ROA p. 181-183.

On March 21, 2017, Respondent appealed Employer's claim denial determination. ROA p. 184.

On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination. ROA p. 190.

On February 9, 2018, the matter was heard before Appeals Officer York. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Eduardo Leon; Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza. Of note, Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza were safety officers for the employer who did not witness the incident. Both Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza testified they arrived after the incident. Respondent testified that on the day of the incident he received a check for work he had done the week prior when Pedro Rosales was his crew leader. ROA pp. 9-10; 13-15. Respondent testified that he believed his paycheck was low and went to Pedro to discuss his issue with the paycheck. Respondent testified that he walked to the house Pedro was working at and went upstairs to Pedro. Respondent also stated that no one was wearing safety measures. Respondent testified that at some point Pedro's son, Jose Rosales, climbed the ladder and pushed Respondent off the house.

Appeals Officer York found that Respondent was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead the Appeals Officer to conclude the claim is compensable. Appeals Officer York found it was not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. The Appeals Officer found Respondent to have credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. There is a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)]. ROA pp. 65-71.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Nevada Administrative Procedure Act, as contained in NRS 233B, outlines the standard for review to be used when conducting a judicial review of a final decision of an agency. NRS 233B.135 states, in relevant part, the following:

1. Judicial review of a final decision of an agency must be:

(a) Conducted by the court without a jury; and

(b) Confined to the record.

In cases concerning alleged irregularities in procedure before an agency that are not shown in the record, the court may receive evidence concerning the irregularities.

- 2. The final decision of the agency shall be deemed reasonable and lawful until reversed or set aside in whole or in part by the court. The burden of proof is on the party attacking or resisting the decision to show that the final decision is invalid pursuant to subsection 3.
- 3. The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the agency as to the weight of evidence on a question of fact. The court may remand or affirm the final decision or set it aside in whole or in part if substantial rights of the petitioner have been prejudiced because the final decision of the agency is:
  - (a) In violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
  - (b) In excess of the statutory authority of the agency;
  - (c) Made upon unlawful procedure;
  - (d) Affected by other error of law;
- (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record; or
  - (f) Arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion.
- 4. As used in this section, "substantial evidence" means evidence which a reasonable mind might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.

NRS 233B.135 (2015).

In reviewing a petition of relief from an administrative decision, the District Court may not disturb the decision of an Appeals Officer unless the decision was clearly erroneous or constituted an abuse of discretion. See Nevada Indus. Comm'n v. Reese, 93 Nev. 155, 560 P.2d 1352 (1977). With regard to factual determinations, the decision of the Appeals Officer, as trier of fact, are conclusive so long as they are supported by evidence which a reasonable mind would consider to be sufficient to support the Appeals Officer's conclusion. See Nevada Indus. Comm'n v. Williams, 91 Nev. 686, 541 P.2d 905 (1975). The court may not substitute its own judgment as to the weight of evidence but is limited to determining whether the Appeals Officer's determination was arbitrary or capricious. See McCracken v. Fancy, 98 Nev. 30 (1982).

Most issues are not purely questions of law, but rather are issues involving the finding of facts and the application of those facts to law. Deference is given by the reviewing court to conclusions of law made by the appeals officer. See Jones v. Rosner, 102 Nev. 215, 719 P.2d 805 (1986).

Regarding issues of law, it is appropriate for the reviewing court to make an independent judgment, rather than use a more deferential standard of review. See Maxwell v. State Indus. Ins. Sys., 109 Nev. 327, 849 P.2d 267 (1993). Issues of purely legal questions are reviewed de novo; the appeals officer's fact-based conclusions of law are entitled to deference when supported by substantial evidence. See Law Offices of Barry Levinson v. Milko, 124, Nev. 355, 362, 184 P.3d 378, 383 (2008). A "pure legal question" is a question that is not dependent upon and must necessarily be resolved without reference to any fact in the case before the court. See Beavers v. State Dept. of Motor Vehicles & Pub. Safety, 109 Nev. 435, 851 P.2d 432 (1993).

In the present matter, the decision of Appeals Officer York is entitled to deference because it involves a question of fact. The Appeals Officer considered medical reporting and testimony of four people, two of which were actual eyewitnesses to the incident along with written and oral arguments of counsel for the parties and rendered his decision. As argued herein, this opinion was based on substantial evidence and does not constitute an abuse of discretion or misapplication of law as alleged by Petitioners in their Opening Brief.

V.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. The Appeals Officer Correctly Analyzed the Issues Pursuant to Nevada Law and The Resultant Decision and Order Is Neither Erroneous Nor An Abuse of Discretion.

The Petitioners attempt to convince this Court that Appeals Officer York, in all his years of experience, cannot properly analyze facts, testimony, and medical reporting under Nevada Law. In doing so, Petitioners attempt to relitigate the factual findings of the Appeals Officer.

Here, Petitioners contend that the Appeals Officer does not mention the "copious" amount of testimony taken in this matter and allege the Appeals Officer's decision to "completely ignore" or comment on the credibility of the witnesses is reversible error. However, Petitioners have no proof that the Appeals Officer ignored any testimony. In reality, only four people testified. Of the four people that testified, only two had personal knowledge of the incident. The entire appeal lasted approximately one hour. This includes the testimony of all four witnesses, the arguments by counsel for both sides, entering evidence into the record as well as other housekeeping matters. Further, Mr. Leon testified briefly, and his recollection of events closely mirrored the testimony of Respondent. In fact, Petitioners stated in their Brief that Mr. Leon's testimony "did not add anything worth noting to this case." See Petitioners' Opening Brief at 4. With regards to Mr. Mendoza, he did not offer any testimony that differed greatly from Mr. Pao. Mr. Mendoza stated what his job title was and a brief explanation of his job duties. Of note, Mr. Mendoza's description of his job duties was limited to those a safety officer. Mr. Mendoza did not mention any duties which involved payroll and benefits. Mr. Mendoza did contend that he and Mr. Pao spoke with Respondent prior to the industrial incident but admitted that he was not present when the incident occurred.

Mr. Pao, a safety director for Employer, testified that he spoke to Respondent on the day of the incident, but was not present prior to the incident. Mr. Pao testified that he discussed Respondent's issue with his check. However, Respondent denied speaking to Mr. Pao on the day of incident regarding his check. Further, Mr. Pao admitted that he needs help when people are speaking "real fast" as there is "somewhat of a language barrier." ROA p. 34-35. Clearly, Mr. Pao cannot state with a certainty what he discussed in his alleged conversation with Respondent as he needed to translate the conversation. Petitioner relies on Mr. Pao's investigation but fails to recognize that Mr. Pao's investigation relied heavily upon his interview of Pedro Rosales. Obviously, Pedro Rosales had an interest in protecting himself and his son from legal trouble and his testimony cannot be relied upon. Further, Mr. Pao attempts to single Respondent out as the only person without safety gear, then later corrects himself and admits Jose Rosales was not wearing the proper safety gear as well. With regards to the actual incident, Mr. Pao's testimony cannot be relied upon as he has no personal knowledge of the incident and is only reciting what Pedro Rosales relayed to him. The only person the Appeals Officer could rely upon regarding the events of the incident was Respondent and that is exactly what the Appeals Officer did. Further, the Appeals Officer specifically commented on Respondent's credibility in the subject Decision and Order. This is clearly a factual issue and Petitioners have failed to show how the Decision was not supported by evidence which a reasonable mind would consider to be sufficient to support the Appeals Officer's conclusion. Petitioners are attempting to have this Court substitute its own judgment as to the weight of evidence without showing that the Appeals Officer's determination was arbitrary or capricious.

1. The Appeals Officer Did Not Exclude Evidence to the Paycheck Process

Petitioners allege that because the Appeals Officer did not reference the testimony that all evidence was excluded of how the paycheck process works. This is simply not true and a poor attempt by Petitioners to relitigate the facts. Mr. Pao did explain the process that goes into documenting the hours worked by employees as well as verifying those hours which were used to create the paycheck. However, Mr. Pao was a safety officer and called to testify regarding his duties as a safety officer as well as his investigation and not a payroll and benefits specialist. In addition, Mr. Pao was not designated as the person most knowledgeable regarding payroll and benefits for his employer. The Appeals Officer did consider the testimony of the witnesses and despite Mr. Pao alleging he told Respondent to go to the office to correct his check, the Appeals Officer found that Respondent credibly testified that if there was a problem with the check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales.

There was not a "copious" amount of testimony to consider. It is interesting to note that Petitioners do not cite the "copious" amounts of testimony the Appeals Officer allegedly failed to consider. Petitioners simply contend that since the Appeals Officer did not comment on the credibility of the witnesses and that it is reversible error. No attempt is made to explain how commenting on the credibility of the witnesses would change the outcome of the Appeals Officer's Decision. In addition, Petitioners fail to explain why they did not raise these issues when they received the Proposed Decision and Order. The non-prevailing party has five days from the date the Proposed Decision and Order is sent to review it and issue any objections or proposed changes. In this case, the Proposed Decision and Order was filed on April 16, 2018. ROA p. 72. Petitioners were silent and made no attempts whatsoever to bring this issue to the Appeals Officer's attention during the five-day period. On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer signed the Proposed Decision and Order. Pursuant to NRS 233B.130(4) a petition for rehearing or reconsideration must be filed within 15 days after the date of service of the final decision. Here, Petitioners were silent and made no attempts to file a Motion for Reconsideration or Rehearing. Petitioners simply waited until the thirty-day appeal deadline approached then filed their Petition for Judicial review as well as Motion for Stay.

2. The Appeals Officer Properly Found the Injuries Arising from the Subject Incident was Compensable

Petitioners cite a series of cases from other jurisdictions and even a treatise in attempt to argue the subject assault was outside the course and scope of Respondent's employment. In short, all the cases cited save one do not apply to this particular case. Not only are the cases and treatise cited not binding, all the facts are dissimilar to the subject incident. Petitioners again attempt to have this Court reweigh the facts that the Appeals Officer properly weighed.

In Nevada, the general rule is that "injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attack results from personal animosity unconnected with the employment, are not compensable." Cummings v. United Resort, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969) (Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956)). In other words, injuries unconnected to employment are not compensable. Petitioners acknowledge that this is the guiding principle in determining compensability of workers' compensation claims. In this case, the Appeals Officer specifically found this was not a situation where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. Further, the Appeals Officer found there was a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. ROA pp. 65-71.

Petitioners cite Larson's Workers' Compensation Law and attempts to adopt an authority or power requirement to assault workers' compensation claims. First, the treatise and the subsequent cases are not binding. Second, even if the Court adopted an authority or power requirement to course and scope, this additional requirement would be met. Petitioners' argument relies heavily upon the contention that Pedro

Rosales had no power or authority to correct the issue Respondent had and therefore the incident was taken outside of the course and scope of employment.

Petitioners contend it was legal error to find the claim compensable when Respondent was explicitly informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza that Pedro had no control over paycheck dispute resolution. However, Respondent testified he did not speak with Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza prior to the industrial incident. Next, Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza were not payroll and benefits representatives and were there to testify regarding their capacity as safety officers. It does not make sense that Respondent would approach the safety officers regarding a paycheck dispute. If anyone did NOT have power or authority over the issue of a paycheck dispute it would be the safety officers, Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza. Interestingly, Mr. Pao testified that Pedro could not "cut" Respondent a check, but Pedro could make a phone call and tell Lucy to get the check corrected. ROA p. 35:6-24. Clearly, Pedro did have the power to correct the paycheck issue and resolve the situation. Further, Mr. Pao knew that Pedro could call and correct the issue. Therefore, this additional element would be met and the incident falls within the course and scope of Respondent's employment.

Petitioners fail to recognize the Appeals Officer did comment on the credibility of Respondent's testimony. The Appeals Officer specifically found Respondent credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. The Appeals Officer found there was a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. Therefore, the Appeals Officer properly found the claim to be compensable. ROA pp. 65-71.

B. LEGAL STANDARD OF PROOF OF A COMPENSABLE CLAIM, RESPONDENT MEETS THE REQUIREMENTS

NRS 616C.150 only requires an injured worker to demonstrate that he was injured within the course and scope of his employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. To make the point on preponderance, McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc., the Nevada Supreme Court states "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose. . .[r]ather 'preponderance of the evidence' merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence.". 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).

Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Respondent must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred. NRS 616A.265 defines injury as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence.

NRS 616C.030 defines the term accident as an "unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault."

Case law, Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010). Such as we have here, Pedro Rosales has intimate knowledge that his son, Jose Rosales, has violent tendencies and a violent history placing Respondent and others directly in harm's way.

1. Course And Scope

a. Course and Scope

The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Respondent's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5.

Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. Here, Respondent was working at an assigned time and scheduled to be in the same construction housing complex. Respondent went to the house his prior foreman, Pedro Rosales, was working to inquire as to why his hours were not properly reflected in his check. Pedro Rosales was the foreman in charge for the period of hours on the subject check. ROA pp. 10; 13-15. Respondent's pay and hours are indeed work related. The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. Respondent was on the job when this incident occurred, and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck). Nicholas Pao, a safety manager for the employer, testified that Pedro Rosales could have made a phone call to Lucy at payroll to get the check corrected. ROA p. 35:6-24. The witness for Petitioners freely admits Pedro Rosales could have corrected the hours on Respondent's check which is the exact reason Respondent went to speak with Pedro Rosales to begin with. Mr. Pao further states that the crew leaders submit the times employees worked to the foreman who verify the work was done and send the paperwork to the office. ROA p. 40-41. Pedro Rosales was the person to verify the hours and send them to the office to generate a check. Pedro Rosales was the same person to correct any errors. Pedro Rosales had the authority to change the hours on the check. Pedro Rosales had control over the issue at dispute. The office is not going to take the word of a worker without the foreman to corroborate the claim.

2. Accident

Accident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident' means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury."

Clearly, Respondent did not anticipate being pushed off of a second floor of a house. Respondent wanted clarification for his hours from his foreman that he worked with as his pay is how he supports himself and family and was pushed off by someone who was not part of the conversation. Petitioners focus on Respondent allegedly not being tied off as if that negates Respondent's ability to have a compensable claim. NRS 616A.030 clearly states "Accident" means with or without human fault. The fact that Respondent may have not followed proper tie off protocol does not prevent him from recovering under Workers' Compensation.

In the instant case, Respondent meets the statutory definition requirement.

3. Injury

Injury is defined in NRS 616A.265 as a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence."

16.

Here, the medical records all demonstrate Respondent suffered an injury to his head, cervical, thoracic, lumbar, abdominal and ribs. The initial physician who completed the Form C-4 diagnosed Respondent with a subdural hematoma (brain bleed) and related it as job incurred. ROA p. 125.

Petitioners bear the burden, because Respondent cannot prove a negative, under NRS 616C.175, that if it believes that Respondent has a prior condition, Petitioners, must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim.

Respondent must prove four (4) things; course and scope, accident, injury and notice, nothing more. Respondent suffered an injury causally related by the Form C-4 doctor related to being pushed off a roof by co-employee Jose Rosales. Even if there was a pre-existing condition, which Respondent contends there is not, the statutory requirement is met, and the burden would then shift to Petitioners to prove under NRS 616C.175, otherwise.

4. Notice

Pursuant to NRS 616C.015(1), an injured employee must provide written notice of a work-related injury as soon as practicable but within 7 days after the accident. In this case, Respondent has testified that he was taken from the job site to the hospital on the day of the accident. Petitioners do not dispute that the employer was reported on the same day of the accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

Pursuant to NRS 616C.020(1), an injured employee must file a claim for compensation with the insurer within 90 days of the industrial accident. Here, the industrial accident occurred on December 30, 2016 and Respondent completed the Form C-4 on the same day. ROA p. 125. Clearly, Respondent completed the claim for compensation within 90 days of the industrial accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

In the instant claim, Respondent meets the statutory notice requirements.

VI.

CONCLUSION

The Petitioners' Petition for Judicial Review lacks any basis and should be dismissed. As demonstrated herein, the Appeals Officer applied the facts to the applicable legal standards and rendered 17.

a Decision which is clearly supported by substantial evidence in the records and is not erroneous or an abuse of discretion. The Decision of the Appeals Officer is entitled to deference, and no issues brought forward within the Petitioner's Opening Brief amount to reversible error. For the reasons set forth herein, Respondent respectfully requests that this honorable Court DISMISS the instant Petition for Judicial Review or that the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order dated May 3, 2018 be AFFIRMED.

Dated this 8th day of October, 2018.

REPLY

1. Lack of Reference to Testimony in the Decision

There was no evidence produced or any finding in the Appeals Officer's Order to establish that Respondent's prior foreman, Pedro, had any ability to correct Respondent's issue with his check. The only thing that Respondent testified to was that Pedro was the person who gave him his check. (ROA pp. 9-10) Without some evidence to show that Pedro actually had authority to correct the paycheck issue, the fact that Respondent chose to confront Pedro about the paycheck establishes that this unfortunate injury occurred outside the course of and did not arise out of Respondent's employment.

Respondent spends most of his Answering Brief recounting the testimony that was had before the Appeals Officer. Why does Respondent need to do this? Because the only reference to testimony in the entire decision is a one line finding that Respondent testified that he needed to talk to Pedro if he had an issue with his check. Not only does this finding conflict with the actual evidence, there is no reference to any other testimony in the entire Decision. Had the Appeals Officer referenced the other testimony, there would be no need for Respondent to spend so much time recounting what happened at the actual hearing on this matter.

Further, while Respondent does attempt to buttress the Decision with his comments on the testimony of the various parties, the fact is that said testimony is not even mentioned in the Decision. Respondent takes Petitioners to task for claiming that there was "copious" testimony when only four people testified and that the hearing took only one hour. Whether the testimony of four witnesses over the course of an hour can be defined as "copious" is the topic for a linguistic debate and is not an issue for this Honorable Court. What is not up for debate is that there were indeed four witnesses who gave testimony and an Appeals Officer's Decision and Order which references none of it. On its face the Decision is arbitrary and capricious. NRS 616C.135.

Notwithstanding Respondent's dissatisfaction with Petitioners' word choice, Respondent does nothing to show that there is any reference in the Decision that the proper course of action for Respondent to dispute his paycheck would have been to contact payroll. Respondent even goes to # far as to claim that it was essentially a harmless error to exclude the testimony of Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza because they were safety officers and safety officers have no power or authority over a paycheck dispute. However, Mr. Pao explicitly testified that the correct procedure for contesting a check so was to contact payroll and that Pedro "couldn't have done nothing" about Respondent's check grievance. (ROA p. 35-6-24) There was no evidence to dispute that testimony.

2. Embarking on Tasks Outside the Course of Employment Indeed Remove the Employee from the Course of Employment

Respondent argues that Petitioners' citations to out-of-state law and to Larson's treatise should be disregarded because they are not binding. Though it is true that these sources are not binding, Petitioners never argued that they were binding. Rather, they are instructive on the point that injuries which are unrelated to a claimant's employment are not compensable through industrial insurance. (See Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997) "a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment;" Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005) "if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the claimant's employment.")

Here, Respondent attempted to get his paycheck corrected by speaking with his former foreman, Pedro. However, there was no evidence to show that Pedro could have actually resolved Respondent's issue. By leaving his jobsite and embarking on a task which neither party had any authority over, it was legal error for the Appeals Officer to conclude that this claim is compensable. Respondent's job title with Employer was a primer; Pedro's job title with Employer was foreman. Neither a primer nor a foreman has any authority to issue a new check or correct alleged errors with a check. That task is relegated to payroll.

There is no interpretation of the facts in the instant case which would render this claim compensable. Neither Respondent nor Pedro's job duties involved issuing or correcting checks. As such, Respondent was not performing a task related to his employment when he left his job site and accosted Pedro about his allegedly short check.

1	Las Vegas, Nevada, Tuesday, January 29, 2019
3	[Case called at 10:05 a.m.]
4	MR. REEVES: Good morning, Your Honor.
5	THE COURT: Good morning, counsel.
6	MR. REEVES: Joel Reeves for Focus Framing. It's our
7	petition.
7	MR. ANGERMAN: Alika Angerman on behalf of Mr. Perez.
9	THE COURT: Okay. So this on for request for hearing on
10	petition for judicial review. I've read Petitioner's petition, Respondent's
11	answering brief, as well as the reply. Does Petitioner have anything you
12	would like to add?
13	MR. REEVES: Yes, just briefly.
14	THE COURT: Okay.
15	MR. REEVES: And first of all, I would like to thank Your
16	Honor for moving this hearing to today.
17	THE COURT: No problem.
18	MR. REEVES: This is a petition for judicial review, I won't
19	keep Your Honor too long. I know you've reviewed everything.
20	THE COURT; I have.
21	MR. REEVES: But I would like to say that it is unfortunate
22	what happened to this gentleman, as far as his injuries are concerned.
23	However, the fact that he was injured at work does not necessarily make 24	it work related. He's got to prove more than that. And it's our contention in this case that the appeals officer was wrong and that applying the causation standard under 616C.150, there's no connection when — there's no connection to the workplace environment when a fight breaks out between employees over a subject that the employees cannot control.

So, for example, if the two employees in this case were fighting about some sort of personal loan that they had, maybe they loaned each other money outside of work, and they're fighting at work, that's personal. If he's injured at work because of that fight, it's not compensable under worker's compensation. However, if the fight is about maybe the claimant's work performance, something he's done at work, and they get into a fist fight about it, that's potentially work related.

The problem with the appeals officer's decision in this case is that the subject that they were fighting about, neither party could control. There's no work-related connection to their fight. Some fights are compensable under worker's compensation, this one is not.

The appeals officer committed legal error when he found that it was related. It's an error under 616C.150, it's an error under the Gorski, under Mitchell, under Phillips, any of the cases that talk about causation and work relatedness it's error. And sitting as an appellate court, Your Honor has de novo review over that issue. Based on the evidence that's on file, there's no work-related connection. It was clear legal error to find that this man's injuries are related to his employment.

This claimant, Mr. Duran Perez, showed up to work, left his jobsite, went to a different jobsite, went to a different job site. He stopped performing his job, went to a different jobsite, spoke with a man about an issue that neither of them had any control over, and then was injured while discussing that issue. This is not work related, Your Honor. It was legal error for the appeals officer to find otherwise.

I'll entertain any questions that Your Honor may have or respond to anything that the Respondent wishes to bring up, but -

THE COURT: Well, in your papers there was a lot of talk about the testimony and that you didn't — there wasn't — it wasn't really indicative that the appeals officer took into account the testimony or the weighing credibility of these people and about what they testified to. I mean that was a substantial portion of what was argued in the moving papers and not really mentioned today. I mean, kinda, sort of in a roundabout way, but in regards to that Because, I mean, the appeals officer took testimony on this case.

MR. REEVES: Sure.

THE COURT: I mean, and basically -- what I got -- the gist of a lot of what you were saying is that the appeals officer didn't even consider the testimony of these witnesses when they applied it to the actual standards, and they kind of didn't weigh the credibility of any of these people or didn't do any of that.

MR. REEVES: And that's absolutely -- Your Honor, is on the money. That's absolutely correct. The testimony that was not even mentioned dealt with the check review process. And that testimony shows that the proper procedure for dealing with a short check or having an issue with your check at all, is dealt with by payroll. And we had significant testimony on that and none of it is in the decision. And that just goes to show that these two parties, the claimant and his prior supervisor had no control over what they were arguing about.

So it was error -- legal error to misapply the causation standard in finding that this claim is compensable even though they are arguing about something they couldn't control. It's also error to not include any of the evidence about those checkboxes, because it's dispositive. It goes to show as to what they were actually arguing about, and it doesn't appear like the appeals officer considered any of it.

So there's one line in the decision that comments on testimony, and it's — the appeals officer only says — it's on page 2, lines 10 through 11, "Claimant credibly testified that there was an issue with his check and that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales." He testified there's an issue with his check, and he felt like he needed to talk to Pedro, but we have testimony on file saying that that doesn't actually solve anything.

So, Your Honor is right. There's a lot of testimony in this case that's nowhere and there's no -- there's nothing in this decision that shows how he could have actually resolved his check process. Just saying that he believed that that was something that -- or rather that he needed to talk to Pedro, that's not good enough. That doesn't show what the check process resolution was. And there's evidence of that in the record, and it's not in the decision.

So if the evidence were actually applied to the law, there's a legal error in establishing the causation. So, yes, it was an error to not include that testimony.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. REEVES: Thank you.

THE COURT: Counsel.

MR. ANGERMAN: Yes, Your Honor. I imagine the biggest reason why the testimony argument wasn't first presented today is because it undercuts the control argument that opposing counsel started off with.

So what we have is the testimony from four people, two of them were safety officers that weren't present at the time of the accident and at some point there were safety officers, there weren't payroll, there weren't benefits, there was no human resource managers, there no one that was actually sent there to talk about the payroll system. And then the other two witnesses were my client, who was the subject of the assault, and then his co-worker/brother-in-law, Mr. Leon [phonetic].

And so, basically, all we have is one person's testimony of the account of what happened that day. And that was — if you look at the decision and order from the appeal's officer, the entire decision and order with regards to the factual evidence is dependent upon the only witness that was actually there at the time of the accident, as well as actually there to present and testify at the appeals level.

So we have two issues, one of them is the testimony not being included, the other one is the control issue. The control issue does come from a treatise, and if we do want to look at who has control, again the reason why the testimony wasn't mentioned in the first — beginning of the argument is that Mr. Pao [phonetic], who was the safety manager said that Mr. Pedro Rosales, who is the father, could not cut a check was the testimony. He said he couldn't cut a check right there, but he could correct the hours.

And that was the whole dispute between my client and Pedro Rosales is that the hours were incorrect and that's why he went to Pedro Rosales on the date of the accident because he received this check for the week before and Pedro Rosales was the foreman for that week before. So if anyone could correct those hours, it would be Pedro Rosales.

Now they did mention something earlier about if you wanted to get a new check you had to go to payroll but, at the end of the day, payroll is not going to believe the worker. They're going to want to talk to the foreman who approves the hours for that week and that's exactly why my client went to talk to Pedro Rosales

So with the argument that this has nothing to do with work, I would say that it has everything to do with work. This only happened because the claimant or the injured worker went to go talk to Pedro Rosales regarding the dispute over the hours. And subsequent to that conversation is when Pedro Rosales' son, Jose Rosales, went to the second level of the building and then pushed my client off of that — off the top of the building.

So as far as control, we do have the control element involved. Pedro Rosales could change the hours, could correct the hours, and he's the only one that could actually confirm or deny that the hours were correct.

And then with regards to testimony being so egregious that they weren't discussed, the Petitioner had five days from the date of the proposed decision was ordered -- or five days from when the proposed decision was turned in to the judge, to dispute it, make any objections, offer any amendments to the decision, nothing was done. There's nothing in the evidence because there's no attempt, whatsoever, to try to clarify the decision order.

And then within 15 days from the signed decision, they had the ability to either file a motion for reconsideration or a motion for rehearing, and at that time could have brought up any objections they had with the final decision. None of this was made. Nothing was done until the petition for judicial review was filed and then now, they're saying that this decision was defective, and it should have been considered this, A, B, and C.

So the testimony that has already been addressed and that was already in the decision is proper, and that there was multiple opportunities before we even got to this level to correct any alleged defect with the decision order.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, counsel. Counsel. And, counsel, I've got to tell, I mean, what is your response to there was other opportunities to have clarified this. Because, I mean, right now we're in a position where the argument is being made about what testimony the hearing officer did and did not consider, and the actual order from the hearing officer isn't very specific as to what testimony was considered and what testimony wasn't. Kind of the basis of your argument as well that they didn't mention it, so it's clear — and based on them not mentioning it and the actual decision that was made, it becomes clear that they didn't consider it. So what options were taken in regards to clarifying this or doing any sort of — anything before this stage?

MR. REEVES: To file a petition for reconsideration you need to show either that there's new evidence or that there is good cause for a rehearing. And the decision as it stands, is the appeals officer's decisions, so there's nothing to reconsider, there's no new evidence, just the appeals officer's decision. So filing a motion for reconsideration is -- I would say it's not warranted in this case because there's nothing to reconsider. It's the appeals officer's decision. Whether it's right or it's wrong is for the appellate jurisdiction to take up --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. REEVES: — and there's no grounds for reconsideration in this. It's either right or it's wrong, and we would argue that it's wrong based on the failure to apply the correct causation standard.

Even if you disregard the evidence that's not in this decision, if you look at the decision on its face, it is wrong legally because it does not say what the proper way to handle the check resolutions — resolving the check issue. It doesn't say. All it says is that he was arguing about a check and that that's work related, but it's not. So reconsideration is not proper. This is wrong or it's not, and it's wrong.

As for the argument that the safety officers were not present for the accident, that doesn't matter. They told the claimant what the proper way to handle his check dispute was, he didn't follow it. They don't need to be present for the accident, they told him not to do that. They were absolutely confident to testify as to the check resolution process. There's no evidence to show that they weren't. They weren't impeached or anything like that. And there's no evidence to show that the supervisor — the foreman, Pedro, could have done anything. There's no evidence to show what was even wrong with it. He just said — the claimant just says it was short — his paycheck was short.

Who knows why it was wrong. Maybe it was a typo with payroll. That's why the claimant needed to go to payroll first to discuss his issue, and then maybe we do talk to Pedro after that, but that's not the way that this issue should have been resolved. It's outside of his job to start arguing with the prior supervisor who has no control over the issuance of his check.

So even if you look at this decision on its face, it's wrong, legal error, and based on the evidence that was submitted, it should have gone the other way. This claim is not compensable. There's no connection between this claimant's injuries and his employment.

THE COURT: Okay. Okay. Well, I need to review the decision one more time, so I'm going to issue a written decision - a minute order on this on Thursday from chambers.

ORDER SHORTENING TIME GOOD CAUSE APPEARING THEREFOR, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the time of hearing of the above-entitled matter A.M.P.M. in Dept. No. X. DATED this _____ day of October, 2019. JUDGE Respectfully submitted by: DANIEL L. SCHWARTZ, ESQ. Nevada Bar No. 005125 JØELP. LEEVES, ESQ. Nevada Bar No. 013231 2300 W. ## STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

On December 30, 2016, a C-4 form was completed which alleged that the Respondent, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "Respondent"), was injured when he was pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was treated at UMC Trauma for subdural hematoma on the date of the incident. The Respondent was taken off of work. (Record on Appeal p. 125)(here nafter "ROA p. ____")

A Supervisor Accident Investigation Report notes that the Respondent went to the second floor with no fall protection and was involved in work place violence. (ROA p. 126)

Foreman Rafael Benitez noted that he did not witness the event but found Mr. Perez passed out on the ground and called 911 and checked vitals. (ROA pp. 127-128)

A Safety Report completed by Safety Manager Nicholas Pao, which noted that the Respondent was mad due to an alleged pay check shortage while working on Pedro's crew. The Respondent climbed an 8 foot ladder to get to where Pedro was working on a second floor. Pedro was tied off with safety gear but Respondent was not. The discussion with the two got "elevated." Pedro's son came up from the first floor to aid his father, and when Pedro's son asked the Respondent to stop, the Respondent allegedly started yelling at him and the son put his hands on the Respondent and pushed him away and the Respondent eventually fell off of the roof. (ROA pp. 129-133)

Pedro Rosales also gave a statement and alleged that the Respondent came up to the second floor where he was working and began to say bad words to him and tried to hit him. He told the Fespondent to give him time and he would try and resolve the problem on January 2, 2017. His son heard the offensive comments and came up to defend him and other people also were involved verbally, including an unidentified person who also came up to the second floor and later left. (ROA pp. 134-135)

Pedro's son, Jose Rosales gave his version of what happened, as well. (ROA pp. 136-137)

Statements by Eduardo Leon and Elvis Herrera noted that the son of the man working on the second floor pushed the Respondent who fell off of roof after a discussion between the parties.

(ROA pp. 138-141)

A statement from the Respondent indicated that he climbed to where Pedro was working and showed him his check and Pedro stated that houses do not make money. He then states that Pedro's son stated it wasn't good and that he was then grabbed and pushed off of the roof. (ROA p. 142)

At Industrial Injury or Illness form in Spanish was also executed by the Respondent. (ROA pp. 143-144)

A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales. (ROA p. 145)

The Respondent was treated at UMC on the date of the incident described as a 20 foot fall after being pushed off of a roof. The Respondent was transferred out of the Emergency Department after a subdural bleed was discovered along with a possible right 8th rib fracture. X-rays of the left shoulder revealed no acute osseous abnormality, and a CT scan of the brain revealed ε subdural hematoma, and a MRI of the cervical spine was normal except for soft tissue swelling from T-1 through T-3. Other diagnostic testing was essentially normal. (ROA pp. 147-180)

A claim denial determination was issued on March 6, 2017. (ROA pp. 181-183)

Or, March 21, 2017, the Respondent appealed the claim denial determination. (ROA p. 184)

Or March 30, 2017, the adjuster denied March 21, 2017, requests for 1) TTD beginning on December 30, 2016, to present and 2) request for transfer of care to Dr. Garber. (ROA pp. 185-186)

Following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order dated June 1, 2017, reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. (ROA pp. 187-189.) Insurer filed a timely appeal. (ROA p. 190.) In addition, the Insurer filed a Motion for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted. (ROA p. 192.)

On February 9, 2018, this case came on for hearing before the Appeals Officer. The testimonics of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Respondent's brother-in-law; and two safety directors for Employer (Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza). Of note, Respondent testified that, on the day in question, he was working on a house under the supervision of a crew leader named Francisco. On that day, Respondent received a check for the work he had done the previous week when he was working for a different crew leader, Pedro. (ROA pp. 9-10; 13-15) Respondent believed that his paycheck was low and testified that he went to Pedro to discuss his paycheck. Respondent testified that he did not speak with Mr. Pao on that day. Respondent testified that he left the job site that he was working on, walked three houses down to where Pedro was, climbed a ladder to get to Pedro, did not attach any sort of safety measures to himself, and spent at least ten (10) minutes talking to Pedro on the second floor of a house frame. Respondent also testified that no one that house frame was wearing safety measures. After about ten (10) minutes of discussion, Pedro's son climbed the ladder and pushed Respondent off the house.

The brother-in-law (Eduardo Leon) was also working on the job site but his testimony did not add at ything worth noting to this case.

M. Pao, a safety director for Employer, testified that, on the day in question, he was on the job site prior to the incident and testified that he and Mr. Mendoza (the other safety director) spoke with Respondent about his check. Mr. Pao testified as follows:

NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah, [Respondent] brought it to our attention that there was a discrepancy on his paycheck from Pedro. We had basically told him, at the end of the day, take it to the office and Lucy would get that corrected.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: At that point in time, when you were having this conversation with him, would Pedro have had any ability to do anything with that paycheck?

NICHOLAS PAO: No. He couldn't have done nothing. He could've maybe made a phone call and told Lucy to get the check corrected, but as far as him cutting a check for him, no.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: So, your—your—I don't want to say advice, but what you told Mr. Duran-Perez, concerning the paych10eck was to go to the office.

NICHOLAS PAO: Go to the office at the end of the day. Yeah.

DANIEL SCHWARTZ: And then did you leave the jobsite?

NICHOLAS PAO: Yeah.

(ROA p. 35:6-24)

1	Mr. Pao also testified that, contrary to Respondent's testimony, Pedro was in fact wearing
2	a safety harness. (ROA p. 37; 38-39) Further, Mr. Pao explained the check payment process. Crew
3	leaders (lice Pedro and Francisco) keep track of their subordinate's hours and turn those hours into
4	a foreman and the foreman turns the hours into payroll and payroll issues checks. (ROA p. 39) He
5	reiterated that a foreman would not be able to do anything with a check after it was cut.
6	M. Mendoza corroborated Mr. Pao's testimony as he helped translate for Mr. Pao on that
7	day.
8	Or May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order reversing
9	claim derial. Of note, the Decision and Order makes no mention whatsoever of any of the

1 III. 2 LEGAL ARGUMENT 3 A. 4 Standard of Review The standard for granting a stay was enunciated in the case of Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 5 6 16-17, 189 P.2d 352, 360 (1948) as follows: 7 an order for a supersedeas or stay will only be granted on good cause shown and where a proper case for exercise of the court's 8 discretion is made out. As a rule a supersedeas or stay should be granted, if the court has the power to grant it, [1] whenever it 9 appears that without it the object of the appeal or writ of error may be defeated, or [2] that it is reasonably necessary to protect appellant 10 or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in the case of reversal, and [3] it does not appear that appellee or defendant in 11 error will sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury, in case of affirmance on the other hand, as a rule, a supersedeas or stay will not be granted unless it appears to be necessary to prevent 12 irreparable injury or a miscarriage of justice. (citations 13 removed)(numeration added) 14 A party requesting a stay must also prove a reasonable likelihood of success on the merits. 15 Success on the merits for Petitions for Judicial review of a final decision of an agency is governed 16 by NRS 233B.135 as follows: 17 NRS 233B.135 Judicial review: Manner of conducting; burden of proof; standard for review. 18 1. Judicial review of a final decision of an agency must be: (a) Conducted by the court without a jury; and (b) Confined to the 19 record. In cases concerning alleged irregularities in procedure before an agency that are not shown in the record, the court may receive evidence concerning the irregularities. 20 2. The final decision of the agency shall be deemed reasonable and 21 lawful until reversed or set aside in whole or in part by the court. The burden of proof is on the party attacking or resisting the 22 decision to show that the final decision is invalid pursuant to subsection 3. 23 3. The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the agency as to the weight of evidence on a question of fact. The court may 24 remand or affirm the final decision or set it aside in whole or in part if substantial rights of the petitioner have been prejudiced because 25 the final decision of the agency is: (a) In violation of constitutional or statutory provisions; 26 (b) In excess of the statutory authority of the agency: (c) Made upon unlawful procedure; 27 (d) Affected by other error of law; (e) Clearly erroneous in view of the reliable, probative and substantial evidence on the whole record; or

The standard of review is whether there is substantial evidence to support the underlying decision. The reviewing court should limit its review of administrative decisions to determine if they are based upon substantial evidence. North Las Vegas v. Public Service Common, 83 Nev. 278, 291, 429 P.2d 66 (1967); McCracken v. Fancy, 98 Nev. 30, 639 P.2d 552 (1982). Substantial evidence is that quantity and quality of evidence which a reasonable man would accept as adequate o support a conclusion. See, Maxwell v. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 331, 849 P.2d 267, 270 (1993); ard Horne v. State Indus. Ins. Sys., 113 Nev. 532, 537, 936 P.2d 839 (1997).

When reviewing administrative decisions, this Court has held that, on factual determinations, the findings and ultimate decisions of an agency are not to be disturbed unless they are clearly erroneous or otherwise amount to an abuse of discretion. Nevada Industrial Common v. Reese, 93 Nev. 115, 560 P.2d 1352 (1977).

An admir istrative determination regarding a question of fact will not be set aside unless it is against the manifest weight of the evidence. Nevada Indus. Common v. Hildebrand, 100 Nev. 47, 51, 675 P.2d 401 (1984).

B.

An Order Granting Stay is Appropriate Until this Appeal is Heard and Decided on its Merits

The Nevada Supreme Court has consistently held that a stay is appropriate under circumstances such as those that exist in the instant case. Kress, Id. In DIR v. Circus Circus, 101 Nev. 405, 411-12, 705 P.2d 645, 649 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court stated that an insurer's proper procedure when aggrieved by a decision is to seek a stay. The Nevada Supreme Court has also recognized that a stay should be granted where it can be shown that the Appellant would suffer irreparable injury during the pendency of the appeal, if the stay is not granted. White Pine Power v. Yublic Service Commission, 76 Nev. 263, 252 P.2d 256 (1960).

The Nevada Supreme Court held, in Ransier v. SIIS, 104 Nev. 742, 766 P.2d 274 (1988), that an incurer may not seek recoupment of benefits paid to a claimant that were later found to be

unwarranted on appeal. However, it must be noted that NRS 616C.138 was recently modified to allow insurers to recover amounts paid during the pendency of an appeal "from a health or casualty insurer" if the insurer is found to be entitled to the same. However, if there is no health or casualty insurer, Ransier applies and insurers cannot recover anything at all. Here, just as in most cases, there is nothing to indicate whether Petitioner has health or casualty insurance. Furthermore, under no circumstances could an insurer recover any wage replacement benefits such as temporary partial disability or temporary total disability benefits.

In the instant case, an order granting a Stay of this Court's Order and the Appeals Officer's decision is appropriate for the reasons set forth herein. As will be discussed in detail below, the Appeals ()fficer's Decision and Order reversing claim denial was issued under color of a legal error. This Court, respectfully, has also erred by affirming the Appeals Officer's Decision. Furthermore, and more relevant to this Motion for Stay proceeding, there is no known pending medical treatment for the Respondent. The only affect that the subject Appeals Officer's Decision has is requiring Petitioners to issue retro-active benefits. Petitioners will submit to this Court that retro-active benefits can be issued at any time. However, once issued, they are unrecoverable.

This case is precisely the scenario in which a stay is appropriate. Petitioners have shown a substantial likelihood of prevailing on the instant appeal and Petitioners will be irreparably harmed if the instant motion is not granted. Accordingly, Petitioners contend that they have made the requisite showing for the granting of a stay of the Appeals Officer's decision until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of its appeal.

C.

Respondent Will Not Be Harmed By the Granting of a Stay

In the instant case, Respondent will not be harmed by the granting of this stay. There are no pendir g medical procedures which a Stay would prevent. The only issue would be retro-active benefits that Petitioners cannot recover. However, should Respondent succeed on this appeal, he will absolutely receive all benefits which are due to him. The only real harm to Respondent is that he would have to wait.

The only potential for irreparable harm is to Petitioners. Accordingly, Petitioners have again made the requisite showing for the granting of a stay of the Appeals Officer's decision until such time as a hearing can be conducted on the merits of Petitioners' appeal.

D.

Standard Regarding Merits of Underlying Appeal

As for the merits of the underlying appeal, it was the Respondent, not Petitioners, who had the burden of proving his entitlement to any benefits under any accepted industrial insurance claim by a prependerance of all the evidence. State Industrial Insurance System v. Hicks, 100 Nev. 567, 688 P.2d 324 (1984); Johnson v. State ex rel. Wyoming Worker's Compensation Div., 798 P.2d 323 (1990); Hagler v. Micron Technology, Inc., 118 Idaho 596, 798 P.2d 55 (1990).

In attempting to prove his case, the Respondent has the burden of going beyond speculation and conjecture. That means that the Respondent must establish all facets of the claim by a preponderance of all the evidence. To prevail, a Respondent must present and prove more evidence than an amount which would make his case and his opponent's "evenly balanced." Maxwell 1. SIIS, 109 Nev. 327, 849 P.2d 267 (1993); SIIS v. Khweiss, 108 Nev. 123, 825 P.2d 218 (1992); SIIS v. Kelly, 99 Nev. 774, 671 P.2d 29 (1983); A. Larson, the Law of Workmen's Compensation, § 80.33(a).

NRS 616A.010(2)makes it clear that:

A claim for compensation filed pursuant to the provisions of chapters 616A to 616D, inclusive, or chapter 617 of NRS must be decided on its merit and not according to the principle of common law that requires statutes governing workers' compensation to be liberally construed because they are remedial in nature.

The Determination to Deny This Claim is Proper

Here, the issue is whether the Appeals Officer erred in ordering this claim denial reversed. Most importantly, Petitioners want to bring this Court's attention to the fact that the Appeals Officer's Decision does not even mention the copious amount of testimony taken in this case. Instead, the Appeals Officer relies exclusively on the paper evidence filed by the parties, i.e. the exact same evidence which convinced the Appeals Officer that the Hearing Officer's Decision to reverse claim denial should be stayed. Petitioners would submit that the decision to completely ignore the testimony or even comment on the credibility of the witnesses is reversible error in and of itself.

Moreover, by excluding reference to the testimony, the Appeals Officer also excluded all evidence of how Respondent's paycheck process works and how the paycheck dispute resolution process was explained to Respondent. It was legal error to find this claim compensable when Respondent was explicitly informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza that his prior crew leader (Pedro) had no control over paycheck dispute resolution. As will be shown below, though certain types of work place violence can be compensable when the violence is begat by an argument over work related issues, if the parties to the violence have no authority over the argument subject, any injuries which result are not compensable because the argument was not related to the parties' job performar ce.

Ut der NRS 616C.150(1), the Respondent has the burden of proof to show that the injury arose out of and in the course and scope of his employment. The Respondent must satisfy this burden by a preponderance of the factual and medical evidence. Further, NRS 616B.612 mandates that an employee is only entitled to compensation if he is injured in the course and scope of his employment.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that:

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work ... the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury ... a claimant must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment.

Rio Suite Hotel v. Gorsky, 113 Nev. 600, 939 P.2d 1043(1997). (emphasis added)

The same Court further stated that the "Nevada Industrial Insurance Act is not a mechanism which makes insurers/employers absolutely liable for injuries suffered by employees who are on the job." (Id.)

Further, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Mitchell v. Clark County School District, 121 Nev. 179, 111 P.3d 1104 (2005):

An accident or injury is said to arise out of employment when there is a causal connection between the injury and the employee's work. In other words, the injured party must establish a link between the workplace conditions and how those conditions caused the injury. Further, a Respondent must demonstrate that the origin of the injury is related to some risk involved within the scope of employment. However, if an accident is not fairly traceable to the nature of employment or the workplace environment, then the injury cannot be said to arise out of the Respondent's employment. Finally, resolving whether an injury arose out of employment is examined by a totality of the circumstances.

With respect to the subject issue of assaults, Nevada decisions are sparse. However, the Court did endorse the general rule that "injuries resulting from assaults by fellow workmen when the attact results from personal animosity unconnected with the employment, are not compensable." Cummings v. United Resort Hotels, Inc., 85 Nev. 23 (1969)(Citing Pacific Employers Ins. Co. v. Industrial Acc. Comm., 293 P.2d 502 (Cal. App. 1956)). The salient portion of the rule above is the holding that injuries unconnected to employment are not compensable. This is the guiding principle in determining compensability of workers' compensation claims.

Professor Larson's treatise on workers' compensation expounds on this subject and explains that claim denial has been upheld when workplace fights concern a subject which the employee had no control over. See 1 Larson's Workers' Compensation Law § 8.01[4] (2018). For example, claim denial was affirmed where a worker was killed by another worker over a dispute as to the contents of a coal car when neither party had any ability to control what was in the car. Court held that "[t]he interests of the employer were not being aided, protected or advanced in any manner by what [the claimant] did, and the quarrel and consequent injury had no reasonable connection with any work then being done for the plaintiff in error." Marion Cty. Coal Co. v. Indus. Com., 292 Ill. 463, 466, 127 N.E. 84, 85 (1920).

In another case, a claimant was injured while protecting his employer's property from teamsters who were in a dispute with the employer. The Court upheld claim denial under the theory that "[h]ad Respondent remained at his work he would not have been injured. His presence at the place of fighting was in pursuance of no demand of his employment." Clark v. Clark, 189

Finally, in a more recent decision, two years prior to the controversy therein, a claimant had used her own personal money to buy a drink machine for the office. On the subject day, a drink truck was parked in the parking lot to refill the machine. A police officer wrote the truck driver a parking ticket and the claimant came out to contest the ticket. The claimant was eventually arrested for disorderly conduct and sustained injury during the arrest. Court upheld claim den al as there was "no testimony from plaintiff, her superior or any other witness that states that plaintiff had any supervisory authority over the parking lot as a result of her employment and was thus involved with duties created by her job at the time she was injured... We are of the opinion that the trial court could properly find that any injuries suffered by plaintiff did not occur while the employee was rendering service which she was hired to do to her employer and, therefore, was not in the course of the employment." Legions v. Liberty Mut. Ins. Co., 703 S.W.2d 620, 623 (Tenn. 1986)(emphasis added)

Here, just as in the cases cited above, neither Respondent, Pedro, nor Pedro's son had any authority over the subject of the dispute, i.e. Respondent's paycheck. Respondent was even informed by Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza on the very day of the incident that if he desired to contest his paycheck, the proper way to do so was to contact payroll at the end of the day. Instead of doing that, Respondent left his job site, walked over to Pedro's job site, climbed to the second story of a house frame, did not attach any safety equipment, and engaged in a ten (10) minute long argument about the paycheck before Pedro's son unfortunately pushed him off the frame. Though Respondent's injuries are unfortunate, in no way was Respondent performing his job at the time of his injuries.

Indeed, Respondent left his job duties to discuss a subject with Pedro that he knew Pedro had no authority over. By virtue of the fact that Pedro had no authority over Respondent's paycheck dispute and compounded by the fact Respondent had just that day been informed as to the proper way to dispute his paycheck, Respondent left the course and scope of his employment when he valked off his job site to engage Pedro. Put simply, the argument with Pedro was not related to Respondent's employment because Respondent had just been informed the proper way to dispute his paycheck and he knew that Pedro had no authority to adjust his pay.

The Appeals Officer was apprised of the state of this law at the hearing on this matter. By not even mentioning the testimony of any witness and therefore failing to take into account the fact that the subject altercation was not related to Respondent's employment, the Appeals Officer committed reversible error. A stay is warranted until this matter can be adjudicated by the Supreme Court.

IV.

CONCLUSION

Besed upon all of the above, it is the belief of Petitioners, FOCUS FRAMING and SUN CITY ELECTRIC, that they have reason in good faith to ask for a stay of this Court's July 2, 2019 Order wh ch affirmed the Appeals Officer's decision, dated May 3, 2018, particularly in light of the clear errors of law and abuse of discretion which has been established above.

This is not an appeal based solely on a disagreement over the facts. Rather, we are faced with an Appeals Officer's Decision which violates clear and specific legal precedent and statutory schemes. The Appeals Officer's improper application of the law will likely result in irreparable harm to these Petitioners if the instant stay is not granted. Respondent, on the other hand, will suffer no harm if this stay is granted. This clear error of law is exactly the situation in which a stay is proper.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

On December 30, 2016, Respondent suffered an injury while in the course and scope of his employment as a laborer with Employer. Record on Appeal p. 125(hereinafter "ROA p. ____"). Respondent was upset because he believed his paycheck was short from the work conducted a week earlier while he was a member of Pedro Rosale's crew. On December 30, 2016, Respondent went to ask Mr. Pedro Rosales about his check. Respondent climbed to the roof of the house where Mr. Rosales was working. Respondent was talking to Mr. Rosales when Mr. Rosales' son intervened and pushed Respondent off of the roof. ROA p. 142. Respondent fell to the ground where he landed sustaining serious injuries to include, but not limited to "1) traumatic fall 2) Closed head injury 3) Subdural hematoma 4) Possible right 8th rib fracture" as the hospital diagnosis. Id. at 40. Although not working on Pedro Rosales' crew on December 30, 2016, Respondent credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. ROA pp. 147-180.

On March 6, 2017, Employer issued a determination denying Respondent's claim. ROA p. 181-183.

On March 21, 2017, Respondent appealed Employer's claim denial determination. ROA p. 184.

On June 1, 2017, Hearing Officer Megan Trenkler issued her Decision and Order which REVERSED/REMANDED Employer's March 6, 2017 claim denial determination. ROA p. 185-186.

On June 30, 2017, Employer appealed Hearing Officer Trenkler's Decision and Order and filed a Motion for Stay Pending Appeal. ROA p. 190.

On July 17, 2017, Respondent filed an Opposition to Motion For Stay Pending Appeal.

On August 2, 2017, Employer's Motion for Stay was granted. ROA p. 192.

On February 9, 2018, the matter was heard before Appeals Officer York. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Eduardo Leon; Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza. Of note, Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza were safety officers for the employer who did not witness the incident. Both Mr. Pao and Mr. Mendoza testified they arrived after the incident. Respondent testified that on the day of the incident he received a check for work he had done the week prior when Pedro Rosales was his crew leader. ROA pp. 9-10; 13-15. Respondent testified that he believed his paycheck was low and went to Pedro to discuss his issue with the paycheck. Respondent testified that he walked to the house Pedro was working at and went upstairs to Pedro. Respondent also stated that no one was wearing safety measures. Respondent testified that at some point Pedro's son, Jose Rosales, climbed the ladder and pushed Respondent off the house.

Appeals Officer York found that Respondent was employed by Focus when, on December 30, 2016, he was assaulted and pushed off a roof of a house under construction. The circumstances of this assault lead the Appeals Officer to conclude the claim is compensable. Appeals Officer York found it was not a case where the assault and injuries were sustained through animosity and ill feelings arising from some cause entirely unrelated with the employee's company. The Appeals Officer found Respondent to have credibly testified that if there was an issue with his check that he needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. There is a clear indication that the work issue of a paycheck dispute was the catalyst which led to this unfortunate incident. [Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 NEV 724 121 P.3d 1026 (2005)]. ROA pp. 65-71.

On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order. Id.

Petitioners filed a Petition for Judicial Review and this Court granted the stay.

On April 16, 2019, after reviewing briefing from both parties as well as hearing oral argument, Your Honor issued an Order affirming the Appeals Officer and denying the Petition for Judicial Review. The Notice of Entry of Order was filed on September 13, 2019.

II.

ARGUMENT

A. PETITIONERS BEAR THE BURDEN TO PROVE THAT THEY ENJOY A LIKELIHOOD OF SUCCESS ON APPEAL AND THAT APPEALS OFFICER'S DECISION IS AN ABUSE OF DISCRETION—RESPONDENT WILL MORE LIKELY SUCCEED ON THE MERITS

Petitioners' Motion for Stay is entirely devoid of law or fact, which would provide a reasonable basis for staying the Appeals Officer's Decision and Order and said Motion should be DENIED. It is simple, the claim should be accepted on the actual injury and diagnosis.

There are two (2) main factors to consider when presented with a motion for stay: (1) the likelihood of prevailing on the merits on the appeal; and (2) whether the appellant will suffer irreparable harm if the stay is denied. Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 17, 189 P.2d 352, 360 (1948); Christensen v. Chromalloy American Corp., 99 Nev. 34, 656 P.2d 844 (1983); Hansen v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Ct. Ex el County of Clark, 116 Nev. 650, 657, 6 P.3d 982, 986-87 (2000).

The right to appeal does not carry with it the automatic right to a stay, as the moving party solely bears the burden to prove a likelihood of success and also show that the decision of the lower agency hearing is fundamentally flawed factually or is an abuse of discretion. State ex. Rel. PS v. District Court, 94 Nev. 42, 574 P.2d 272 (1978).

Here, Petitioners are unable to meet the requirements of either the controlling statutes or the applicable case law, in essence, they cannot meet their burden. Petitioners rely upon unsworn statements, that are not percipient witnesses, other than Pedro Rosales whose statement is clearly biased towards protecting his son, Jose Rosales, the assailant in the industrial incident. At the hearing, the only person to testify for both direct and cross-examination was Respondent. Hearing Officer Trenkler heard testimony, reviewed the witness statements and found Respondent to be credible.

At the appeal hearing, Pedro Rosales and Jose Rosales failed to appear to testify. Petitioners again relied upon unsworn and unverified statements. In addition, Petitioners presented witnesses at the appeal that had no personal knowledge of the industrial incident. Petitioners' witnesses were safety officers that were not present at the time of the assault and simply interviewed Pedro Rosales after the incident. The witnesses for Petitioners allege they spoke with Respondent on the day of the incident, but Respondent denies that allegation. Mr. Pao, a witness for Petitioners, alleged he had a conversation with Respondent regarding the subject check and the appropriate procedure to follow, however, Mr. Pao admitted he needed interpreter to have the conversation, so he is unable to verify that what he allegedly said was translated to Respondent. In addition, Mr. Pao does not provide a sufficient response as to why a worker would approach the safety manager to ask about an issue with the check.

The only witnesses that had personal knowledge of the incident and was present at the appeal was Respondent, Martin Duran Perez, and co-worker Eduardo Leon. Appeals Officer York found Respondent credible testified that that if there was an issue with his check that Respondent needed to talk to Pedro Rosales. Based off the testimony, arguments of counsel for both parties, and the evidence submitted Appeals Officer York affirmed the decision of Hearing Officer Trenkler.

B. LEGAL STANDARD OF PROOF OF A COMPENSABLE CLAIM, RESPONDENT MEETS THE REQUIREMENTS

NRS 616C.150 only requires an injured worker to demonstrate that he was injured within the course and scope of his employment by preponderance of the evidence, nothing greater. To make the point on preponderance, McClanahan v. Raley's, Inc., the Nevada Supreme Court states "NRS 616C.150 does not require an injured worker to offer a greater number of expert witnesses who express opinions in his favor to establish that an injury arose. . .[r]ather 'preponderance of the evidence' merely refers to the greater weight of the evidence." 34 P.3d 573, 576 (2001).

Workers' Compensation is statutorily driven and defined. Respondent must prove, by preponderance that he was in the course and scope when an accident occurred. NRS 616A.265 defines injury as a "sudden and tangible happening" that produces an "immediate or prompt result" which is established by medical evidence.

NRS 616C.030 defines the term accident as an "unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault."

Case law, Rio All Suite Hotel & Casino v. Phillips, states that generally, "injuries caused by employment related risks are deemed to arise out of employment and are compensable." 240 P.3d 2, 5 (2010). Such as we have here, Pedro Rosales has intimate knowledge that his son, Jose Rosales, has violent tendencies and a violent history placing Respondent and others directly in harm's way.

1. Course And Scope

a. Course and Scope

The threshold requirement in an industrial injury is that Respondent's injury must have occurred within the course and scope of employment. Phillips, at 5.

Course and Scope simply means that the injured worker was at work, and scheduled to be there, when the accident occurred. Here, Respondent was working at an assigned time and scheduled to be in the same construction housing complex. Respondent went to the house across the street to inquire with the foreman, Pedro Rosales, that he worked with the week prior as to why his hours were not properly reflected. Respondent's pay and hours are indeed work related. The fact that this claim was filed because of the intentional tort of Jose Rosales (Pedro's son) does not change compensability. These injuries arose out of and in the course of employment. Respondent was on the job when this incident occurred, and the injuries resulted by the assault due to work-related issues (short paycheck). Nicholas Pao, a safety manager for the employer, testified that Pedro Rosales could have made a phone call to Lucy at payroll to get the check corrected. ROA p. 35:6-24. The witness for Petitioners freely admitted Pedro Rosales could have corrected the hours on Respondent's check which is the exact reason Respondent went to speak with Pedro Rosales to begin with. Mr. Pao further stated that the crew leaders submit the times employees worked to the foreman who verify the work was done and send the paperwork to the office. ROA p. 39. Pedro Rosales was the person to verify the hours and send them to the office to generate a check. Pedro Rosales was the same person to correct any errors. Pedro Rosales had the authority to change the hours on the check. Pedro Rosales had control over the issue at dispute. The office is not going to take the word of a worker without the foreman to corroborate the claim.

2. Accident

Accident is statutorily defined in NRS 616A.030 as "Accident' means an unexpected or unforeseen event happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury."

Clearly, Respondent did not anticipate being pushed off of a second floor of a house. Respondent wanted clarification for his hours from his foreman that he worked with as his pay is how he supports himself and family and was pushed off by someone who was not part of the conversation. Petitioners focus on Respondent allegedly not being tied off as if that negates Respondent's ability to have a compensable claim. NRS 616A.030 clearly states "Accident" means with or without human fault. The fact that Respondent may have not followed proper tie off protocol does not prevent him from recovering under Workers' Compensation.

In the instant case, Respondent meets the statutory definition requirement.

3. Injury

Injury is defined in NRS 616A.265 as a sudden and tangible happening of a traumatic nature producing an immediate or prompt result which is established by medical evidence."

Here, the medical records all demonstrate Respondent suffered an injury to his head, cervical, thoracic, lumbar, abdominal and ribs. The initial physician who completed the Form C-4 diagnosed Respondent with a subdural hematoma (brain bleed) and related it as job incurred. ROA p. 125.

Petitioners bear the burden, because Respondent cannot prove a negative, under NRS 616C.175, that if it believes that Respondent has a prior condition, Petitioners, must prove that the alleged prior condition is the substantial cause for the work injury, if not, then it is a compensable claim.

Respondent must prove four (4) things: course and scope, accident, injury and notice, nothing more. Respondent suffered an injury causally related by the Form C-4 doctor related to being pushed off a roof by co-employee Jose Rosales. Even if there was a pre-existing condition, which Respondent contends there is not, the statutory requirement is met, and the burden would then shift to Petitioners to prove under NRS 616C.175, otherwise.

4. Notice

Pursuant to NRS 616C.015(1), an injured employee must provide written notice of a work-related injury as soon as practicable but within 7 days after the accident. In this case, Respondent has testified that he was taken from the job site to the hospital on the day of the accident. Petitioners do not dispute that the employer was reported on the same day of the accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

Pursuant to NRS 616C.020(1), an injured employee must file a claim for compensation with the insurer within 90 days of the industrial accident. Here, the industrial accident occurred on December 30, 2016 and Respondent completed the Form C-4 on the same day. Clearly, Respondent completed the claim for compensation within 90 days of the industrial accident. Therefore, this element has been met.

In the instant claim, Respondent meets the statutory notice requirements.

C. RESPONDENT WILL SUFFER MORE HARM THAN PETITIONERS

Based on NRS 616C.345, the Appellant's filing of an appeal does not automatically stay the enforcement of the decision of the hearings officer.

NRS 616C.345(4) provides in part:

Except as otherwise provided in NRS 616C.380, the filing of a notice of appeal does not automatically stay the enforcement of the decision of a hearing officer or a determination rendered pursuant to NRS 616C.305. The appeals officer may order a stay, when appropriate, upon the application of a party. If such an application is submitted, the decision is automatically stayed until a determination is made concerning the application. A determination on the application must be made within 30 days after the filing of the application. If a stay is not granted by the officer after reviewing the application, the decision must be complied with within 10 days after the date of the refusal to grant a stay.

(emphasis added).

In Kress v. Corey, the Nevada Supreme Court stated:

As a rule a supersedeas or stay should be granted . . . whenever . . . it is reasonably necessary to protect appellant or plaintiff in error from irreparable or serious injury in the case of reversal, and it does not appear that appellee or defendant in error will sustain irreparable or disproportionate injury in case of affirmance.

Kress, 65 Nev. at 17, 189 P.2d at 360.

Furthermore, the Nevada Supreme Court has recognized that a stay should only be granted where it can be shown that the Appellant would suffer irreparable injury during the pendency of the appeal, if the stay were not granted. See White Pine Power v. Public Service Commission, 76 Nev. 263 (1960). Appellants cannot meet that burden.

Indeed, it is Respondent in this case, not Petitioners, who will sustain the greatest harm in the event that the instant stay is granted as it will serve its purpose of delaying medical treatment of a closed head injury with a 7mm subdermal hematoma, fractured rib, abdominal injury and injuries to the cervical, thoracic, and lumbar spine. The full extent of Respondent's injuries is unknown as Respondent has not been able to treat since the claim was denied. Petitioners argue that since Respondent has no scheduled medical treatment that he would not be harmed by a stayed. However, this argument is disingenuous as Petitioners has denied care and benefits since the day it issued claim denial on March 6, 2017. Petitioners has prevented Respondent from seeking care through the Workers' Compensation system and Respondent is financially unable to seek medical care outside of Workers' Compensation. Respondent has not been released from care by his treating physician, but rather has been prevented from seeking additional care because of the claim denial by Petitioners and the Stay imposed by the Appeal Officer prior to the hearing of the appeal and the District Court judge prior to the hearing of the Petition for Judicial Review. It has been two years since Respondent was allowed to treat for his injuries. Every day that Respondent is without treatment is a day Respondent is harmed.

Petitioners intentionally misleading the Court when it states that the only harm Respondent will suffer is retroactive benefits when in reality Respondents health has been neglected due to the denial of care by Petitioners and denial of financial benefits by Petitioners which prevent Respondent from seeking care on his own. Further, Respondent has met his burden and proven he has a compensable claim several times over. The Hearing Officer and Appeals Officer found Respondent had a compensable claim. In addition, the District Court denied Petitioners' Petition for Judicial Review. Respondent has prevailed at every level and it is still being denied workers' compensation benefits. While Respondent cannot prevent Petitioners from filing an appeal, Respondent can pray that this Court denies Petitioners' Motion for Stay and allow Respondent to receive the treatment and benefits he has proven time and time again that he is entitled to receive.

Respondent is entitled to Temporary Total Disability benefits that he has not received due to the claim denial and imposition of the Stays. Respondent has been without Workers' Compensation benefits for over two years. Petitioners' carelessly argue Respondent will receive those benefits if he prevails after the Appeal. However, that is exactly what Petitioners' argued when it filed its Motion for Stay for Pending the Petition for Judicial Review. As the Court is well aware, the Court granted the Stay and later denied the Petition for Judicial Review. Unfortunately, Respondent did not receive the benefits despite prevailing. Instead, Petitioners filed another appeal and another Motion making the same insincere argument. Meanwhile, it is Respondent who is without a steady income during the pendency of the litigation. It is Respondent who needs the benefits for his well-being and his family's well-being. Respondent cannot continue to put his life on hold and wait for this appeal to be heard to receive the benefits he has proven he is entitled to receive.

There is nothing more crippling and harmful than denying medical attention and care. There can be nothing more harmful and irreparable than the loss of one's own wellbeing.

Here, it is Petitioners who bear the burden to this Court to prove both elements, success on appeal and that it will suffer more harm than Respondent. Respondent met his burden at the hearing and again at the appeal and most recently at District Court.

Petitioners have the burden of meeting established guidelines for it to be successful on its motion for stay. Comparing the harm that will allegedly be suffered by Petitioners to the harm being suffered by Respondent right now does not meet the standard of review set forth in Kress v. Corey, 65 Nev. 1, 189 P. 2d 352 (1948).

The Petition for Judicial Review of the Appeals Officer's Decision of May 3, 2018 was filed on May 18, 2018.

Provide a brief description of the nature of the action and result in the district court, including the type of judgment or order being appealed and the relief granted by the district court:

This is a workers' compensation case. On December 30, 2016, the Respondent, MARTIN DURAN PEREZ (hereinafter referred to as "Respondent") arrived to work and was upset about an allegedly short paycheck for a period where he was working under a supervisor named Pedro. Respondent's Safety Manager, Nicholas Pao, informed Respondent that the proper way to resolve his paycheck issue was to speak with payroll at the end of the day and they would help him. Despite Mr. Pao's instruction, Respondent left his job site and walked to another job site where Pedro was working. Respondent then scaled a house frame, failed to attach any protective gear, and then proceeded to argue with Pedro about the check for approximately ten (10) minutes. Then, unfortunately, Pedro's son got involved in the argument and pushed Respondent off the house frame, causing injury to Respondent. A Criminal Complaint was issued against Pedro's son, Jose Rosales.

On March 6, 2017, Petitioners denied Respondent's claim for worker's compensation benefits based on the fact that Respondent's injuries were unrelated to his employment. Respondent appealed

On June 1, 2017, following Hearing No. 1710955-MT, the Hearing Officer issued a Decision and Order reversing the March 6, 2017 determination denying the claim. Petitioners filed a timely appeal. In addition, the Petitioners filed a Motion for a Stay of the Hearing Officer's decision, which was granted.

On February 9, 2018, this case came on for hearing before the Appeals Officer. The testimonies of four separate witnesses were taken: Respondent; Respondent's brother-in-law; and two safety directors for Employer (Nicholas Pao and Kevin Mendoza).

On May 3, 2018, the Appeals Officer issued the subject Decision and Order reversing claim detial. Of note, the Decision and Order makes no mention whatsoever of any of the testimony given. Nor does it comment on the credibility of any witness.

Petitioners filed the instant Petition for Judicial Review contesting the May 3, 2018 Appeals Officer's Decision and Order and the District Court granted a request for a stay.

On July 2, 2019, the District Court issued an Order Denying the Petition for Judicial Review. The Notice of Entry of Order was filed on September 13, 2019.
